Area Children Win Prizes

Picnic Of Potters Draws 35,000 To Canton Resort

East Liverpool district youngsters won 9 of the 12 prizes in two baby contests that highlighted the formal program at the 31st annual Potters Picnic Saturday at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

The outing, sponsored by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, attracted an estimated 35,000 to the Stark County resort, matching the record attendance figure set at the 1957 picnic.

Perfect weather greeted the huge crowd, with a combination of bright sunshine offset by cool breezes from the park's lake holding the temperature in the high 70's most of the day.

Eight of 9 awards went to district children in a baby contest in three age brackets that attracted 325 entries—setting a new record.

First prize for children up to 1 went to Kevin Lee Cartwright, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cartwright, 1170 Mick Rd. Wellsville.

The top award in the 1-2 age bracket was given to Cheryl Lee Shaw, 19 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Shaw, 942 Railroad St.

In the 2-3 age bracket, first prize was awarded to Karen Sue Bellomy, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bellomy of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Other winners in the up-to-1 bracket were: Second, Theresa Lockhart, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lockhart, 1827 Dakota Ave., Pleasant Heights, and Rose Marie Riddle, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Riddle of New Cumberland R. D. 2, third.

In the 1-2 division the other winners were: Second, Linda Ann Wilkinson, 1, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Wilkinson of New Cumberland R. D. 2, and Steven Timothy Shelton, 19 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Shelton of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, third.

Other prizes in the 2-3 bracket went to: Second, Thomas Joseph Simcox, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simcox of Calcutta, and Curtiss Strauss and Douglass Strauss, 2½-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauss, 130 Eden Ave., Massillon, third.

Each first place winner received a $50 Savings Bond. Second prize was a $25 Savings Bond, with $10 in Savings Stamps for third.

Registered nurses from the Molly Stark Sanitarium at Canton were judges. In each age bracket, they first selected a series of semi-finalists, then narrowed the field to three winners.

The picnic committee had an award—a baby plate—for every other entrant. The contest lived up to its reputation as the "largest in Ohio." Although the committee had prepared seats for 300 entrants on the floor of the park's indoor ballroom, an overflow field turned up for every age bracket and more folding chairs were placed hurriedly for each group.

The "junior bathing beauty contest" for youngsters 4-7, staged on the park's outdoor dance floor, was captured by the winning smile and blonde curls of Penney Ann Davis, 4½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James Davis of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor.

Second prize went to Edward Joseph Poplowski Jr., 7, son of Mr.

U.S. Pushes Compromise As Steel Parley Resumes

Eisenhower Gets Report From Herter

Secretary Will Go On Television And Radio Tuesday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today gave President Eisenhower an hour-long report on the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers talks, now recessed until July 13.

After the conference, Herter confirmed he will go on nationwide television and radio Tuesday night to tell the American people about the thus-far futile efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union regarding Berlin and other problems.

Herter told newsmen at the White House the time for his broadcast had not been definitely set.

Herter said he reported to Eisenhower in general terms and that they discussed "just where we are" in efforts to ease East-West tensions.

A reporter asked about prospects for an eventual summit conference of the Western heads of government with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"That is something I just don't want to go into at the present time," Herter replied.

Then he went on to say that at no time during the six weeks of Geneva talks did the Western foreign ministers discuss with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko the possibility of a summit meeting. That matter did not come up at all, the secretary said.

Herter flew in Sunday from the fruitless first round of the foreign ministers meeting. He said then the Soviets had revealed that their real aim is to absorb free West Berlin and keep Germany divided until they can bring the whole country under Communist influence.

Modest Hike, Other Gains Are Advised

Government Sounds Out Both Sides On Suggested Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — A contract compromise in the steel industry—consisting of substantial worker benefits of the welfare type plus a modest wage increase—is being suggested informally by the government as negotiations resume here today.

Four-man teams representing the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 largest steel companies meet after a weekend recess.

The current three-year contract in the basic steel industry expires eight days from now. If no agreement on a new contract is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

The negotiations, which started May 5, are still deadlocked.

Although President Eisenhower has declared the government shall maintain an official hands-off policy, it was learned in Washington the government was sounding out both sides on the compromise suggestion.

Everything being done in behalf of the compromise proposal was very informal. But the behind-the-scenes activities of some government officials were increasing as the contract expiration grew closer.

The industry held out for weeks for a one-year freeze on wages and other benefits, contending that this would help curb inflation. The union has been demanding a substantial wage increase—not yet specified—along with a cut in the normal 40-hour work week and other benefits.

J. & L. Plant Is Hit By Work Stoppage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A work stoppage today shut down the open hearth department at the south side plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Other operations at the plant were not affected immediately. The Pittsburgh works employs about 12,000 production workers with about 1,800 to 1,900 in the open hearth department.

Pickets from local 1272—the home local of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald—halted both the midnight and 8 a.m. shifts of the open hearth but allowed other employes to cross their lines.

A company spokesman said there appeared to be a dispute over incentive rates for workers in the open hearth department. Union members claim that because of a change in computation of production figures their incentive pay has been cut.

Young Driver Hurt As Auto Hits Guardrail

Mishap On 'Hill Rd.' Demolishes Car Of Local Motorist, 19

A 19-year-old city youth was injured and his car was demolished when it crashed into guardrails along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Sunday afternoon about 4.

Dan Keith Wilson, 19, of 322 W. 9th St. suffered lacerations and bruises of the right forehead when his 1955 sedan smashed into five guardrails west of the halfway point of the road to East End.

Wilson, who was treated at City Hospital, told officers the brakes on the rear wheels of the auto apparently locked and he lost control while driving west about 35 miles an hour.

The youth was charged with reckless operation, but Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw dismissed the citation this morning for lack of evidence.

A car driven by Atty. Donald D. Shay, 53, of 889 Armstrong Ln. was damaged in a collision with another auto at E. 5th St. and Broadway and a car in the city parking lot was damaged by an unidentified driver in two Saturday mishaps.

Police said Atty. Shay was driving south on Broadway about 5 p. m. and attempted to make a left turn onto E. 5th St. when his auto collided with one operated by Fay M. Fowler, 21, of 806 Avondale St., who was making a right turn onto E. 5th St.

Robert Barnhart, 33, of Laurel Heights, Chester, reported his car was damaged by another auto in the lot adjoining City Hall about 1:10 p. m. Saturday

Barnhart said he was sitting in his auto when the other car hit it.

Queen Greets Housewives And Workmen

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is beginning to talk with workmen, housewives and other people not on the official reception lists for her tour of Canada.

She and Prince Philip are moving through the fast-growing industrial region of Saguenay, northwest of Quebec City, heading for a meeting with President Eisenhower and the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway Friday.

They are visiting aluminum paper mills and hydroelectric power plants today. They have already taken a close look at other evidences of Canada's rapid industrial development including a spectacular open-cut iron mine on the remote edge of Labrador.

Standing on the floor of that mine amid swirling clouds of red dust and fierce heat, Elizabeth asked to speak with six members of a pit crew. Brawny miners and truck drivers, their faces caked with dust and sweat and holding hard hats under their arms, chatted with her and Philip, answering questions.

Ignoring her time schedule, she remained on the floor of the mine 250 feet below ground level well after the party was due to depart.

Dust powdered her chestnut hair where it curled out from under her small hat. Her white cheeks turned the color of television makeup. Finally she held out a white-gloved hand. The miners glanced at each other shyly. They rubbed their hands on their coveralls and shook her hand.

The Queen and Philip have now seen some of the wildest and most beautiful country in the world.

Flying north across Labrador, they passed over terrain that still shows marks of the Ice Age. Flat and forbidding, it looks as though the glaciers departed only last week. Retreating ice gouged out innumerable craters now filled with water. They range from pools to lakes hundreds of feet deep.

The couple met Montagnais and other Indians wearing native costumes blazing with red, blue and green. Some faces were obviously of Eskimo origin.

During the weekend the royal party boarded the yacht Britannia and sailed across the mouth of the silvery blue St. Lawrence to Gaspe, famed resort area of Quebec.

Four Get Life For Attack On Florida Coed

Maximum Sentence Given By Judge In Tallahassee Court

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—All four white youths convicted of raping a Negro coed were handed life prison sentences today by Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

Life sentences were the maximum possible under the June 14 verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy.

The electric chair would have been automatic if the jury had returned a verdict of guilty without a recommendation of mercy. No white man ever has gone to the chair in Florida or any other state for raping a Negro.

In pronouncing sentence the white-haired 54-year-old jurist told the four he had never imposed less than a death sentence or life imprisonment on conviction of rape.

The four youths paled as the sentence was pronounced but showed no other trace of emotion.

Under Florida law, parole from a life sentence is possible after six months but lifers convicted of rape customarily serve at least 10 years before being considered for parole.

The four drawing life sentences were Willion (Ted) Collingsworth, 23, a telephone company lineman; David Ervin Beagles, a husky 18-year-old high school senior; Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, a 20-year-old Air Force man and Ollie Stoutamire, a skinny, pale-faced 16-year-old high school dropout.

Judge Walker told the four as he prepared to pronounce sentence, "You have been convicted of a very serious offense. It is an offense that is horrible and under horrible circumstances. The court feels sorry for you and for the prosecutrix (the 19-year-old coed). You are fortunate that the jury recommended mercy."

County Youths Make Trip To Forest Camp

Six Columbiana County youths—two girls and four boys—left Sunday for the Ohio Forestry Association's summer camp at 16,000-acre Tar Hollow State Park, south of Adelphi.

They are Betty Loudon of Hanoverton, Mary I. Smith of East Liverpool RD 2, John Isenschmid of Hanoverton RD 1, Sanford Hill of Lisbon RD 5, Donald Gudat of Washingtonville and Ronald Rhodes of Stewart Rd., Salem.

The first five are attending under scholarships offered by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in memory of William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, the newspapers' secretary-treasurer before his death. Mr. Vodrey was an active conservationist.

Gudat was a last-minute replacement for Tom Rudebock of Leetonia RD 1, who was unable to make the trip.

Rhodes is being sponsored by the Salem Hunting Club. More than 120 young people from over Ohio will attend the camp.

While at camp, the youths will learn forest management, wood utilization and reforestration in classes and laboratory periods conducted by professional foresters and conservationists.

Ohio Mishaps Kill 13 More On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Ohio emerged from the weekend with a comparatively low accidental death toll, thanks largely to a rarity of the summer season:

Not a single drowning was reported anywhere in the state.

An Associated Press survey shows 13 persons died violent deaths in Ohio between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Eight were victims of traffic accidents. A boy died in an accidental shooting. A woman was trampled to death by a cow. One man died in a three-story fall, another when his car fell off a jack and crushed him and a third when a bale of hay fell on him.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Charles D. Weaver, 22, of near Clayton (Montgomery County), when his motorcycle collided head-on with a car just north of Dayton.

Kenneth Kaufman, 18, of Rt. 2, Wadsworth, when the car in which he was riding collided with another auto on U. S. 30 just east of Wooster.

In Gulf Of St. Lawrence

34 Fishermen Dead, Lost When Storm Batters Fleet

ESCUMINAC, N.B. (AP) — At least 34 fishermen were dead or missing today as searching planes scoured the Northumberland Strait for survivors of the weekend storm that battered the Gulf of St. Lawrence fishing fleet.

Twelve men were known dead and 22 were listed as missing.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported 22 derelict boats were spotted by search planes Sunday along the 30-mile coastline between Point Escuminac and Richibucto. There were no signs of life.

The storm, described as the worst in 30 years, caught at least 50 salmon boats as it lashed the strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The fleet was out in force to meet the heaviest salmon run in 10 years.

Two survivors were kept alive by an air bubble in the cabin of their overturned boat. Hilaire Gauvin, 25, and Germain Chaisson, 55, both of Lameque, were trapped in the cabin when their boat capsized. Another wave righted the vessel. Gauvin's uncle, Capt. Charles Gauvin, 53, was washed overboard.

Fishermen accused the weather bureau of failing to warn them of the approaching storm.

The Halifax Weather Bureau said gale warnings went out Friday night, but the fleet was out by then.

The storm did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to boats, nets and lobster pots, dealing a heavy blow to the local fishing industry.

Unrest In Red China Seen At All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unrest inside Red China is at an all-time peak, Walter S. Robertson has told Congress.

Robertson, retiring assistant secretary of state for the Far East, said he doubted that the Peiping regime could be overthrown unless its army rebels.

But he added "it is not at all visionary to hope that this unrest may get to the point that the army might well go over to the side of the people."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public over the weekend censored testimony which Robertson and others gave in closed sessions during the last two months.

Summer arrived officially at 11:50 p. m. Tuesday after the mercury soared to 84 degrees in early afternoon at Dam 8 and rain totaling 23 hundredths of an inch fell on the district. The overnight low was 67.

The four youths paled as the sentence was pronounced but showed no other trace of emotion.

Under Florida law, parole from a life sentence is possible after six months but lifers convicted of rape customarily serve at least 10 years before being considered for parole.

The four drawing life sentences were Willion (Ted) Collingsworth, 23, a telephone company lineman; David Ervin Beagles, a husky 18-year-old high school senior; Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, a 20-year-old Air Force man and Ollie Stoutamire, a skinny, pale-faced 16-year-old high school dropout.

Judge Walker told the four as he prepared to pronounce sentence, "You have been convicted of a very serious offense. It is an offense that is horrible and under horrible circumstances. The court feels sorry for you and for the prosecutrix (the 19-year-old coed). You are fortunate that the jury recommended mercy."

County Youths Make Trip To Forest Camp

Six Columbiana County youths—two girls and four boys—left Sunday for the Ohio Forestry Association's summer camp at 16,000-acre Tar Hollow State Park, south of Adelphi.

They are Betty Loudon of Hanoverton, Mary I. Smith of East Liverpool RD 2, John Isenschmid of Hanoverton RD 1, Sanford Hill of Lisbon RD 5, Donald Gudat of Washingtonville and Ronald Rhodes of Stewart Rd., Salem.

The first five are attending under scholarships offered by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in memory of William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, the newspapers' secretary-treasurer before his death. Mr. Vodrey was an active conservationist.

Gudat was a last-minute replacement for Tom Rudebock of Leetonia RD 1, who was unable to make the trip.

Rhodes is being sponsored by the Salem Hunting Club. More than 120 young people from over Ohio will attend the camp.

While at camp, the youths will learn forest management, wood utilization and reforestration in classes and laboratory periods conducted by professional foresters and conservationists.

Ohio Mishaps Kill 13 More On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Ohio emerged from the weekend with a comparatively low accidental death toll, thanks largely to a rarity of the summer season:

Not a single drowning was reported anywhere in the state.

An Associated Press survey shows 13 persons died violent deaths in Ohio between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Eight were victims of traffic accidents. A boy died in an accidental shooting. A woman was trampled to death by a cow. One man died in a three-story fall, another when his car fell off a jack and crushed him and a third when a bale of hay fell on him.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Charles D. Weaver, 22, of near Clayton (Montgomery County), when his motorcycle collided head-on with a car just north of Dayton.

Kenneth Kaufman, 18, of Rt. 2, Wadsworth, when the car in which he was riding collided with another auto on U. S. 30 just east of Wooster.

Saturday

Homer Roberts, 19, of Vienna, W. Va., passenger in one car in a three-car crackup on Ohio 77 south of Zanesville.

Kenneth Longshore, 29, of Zanesville, died Sunday of injuries received when his motorcycle overturned on Ohio 146 in Muskingum County Saturday night.

34 Fishermen Dead, Lost When Storm Batters Fleet

ESCUMINAC, N.B. (AP) — At least 34 fishermen were dead or missing today as searching planes scoured the Northumberland Strait for survivors of the weekend storm that battered the Gulf of St. Lawrence fishing fleet.

Twelve men were known dead and 22 were listed as missing.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported 22 derelict boats were spotted by search planes Sunday along the 30-mile coastline between Point Escuminac and Richibucto. There were no signs of life.

The storm, described as the worst in 30 years, caught at least 50 salmon boats as it lashed the strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The fleet was out in force to meet the heaviest salmon run in 10 years.

Two survivors were kept alive by an air bubble in the cabin of their overturned boat. Hilaire Gauvin, 25, and Germain Chaisson, 55, both of Lameque, were trapped in the cabin when their boat capsized. Another wave righted the vessel. Gauvin's uncle, Capt. Charles Gauvin, 53, was washed overboard.

Fishermen accused the weather bureau of failing to warn them of the approaching storm.

The Halifax Weather Bureau said gale warnings went out Friday night, but the fleet was out by then.

The storm did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to boats, nets and lobster pots, dealing a heavy blow to the local fishing industry.

Unrest In Red China Seen At All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unrest inside Red China is at an all-time peak, Walter S. Robertson has told Congress.

Robertson, retiring assistant secretary of state for the Far East, said he doubted that the Peiping regime could be overthrown unless its army rebels.

But he added "it is not at all visionary to hope that this unrest may get to the point that the army might well go over to the side of the people."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public over the weekend censored testimony which Robertson and others gave in closed sessions during the last two months.

Chinese Toil On Dikes As Flood Peril Mounts

TOKYO (AP)—Millions of Chinese toiled on hastily built river dikes throughout Kwangtun and Kwangsi provinces today in a desperate fight against a flood that may develop into China's greatest of the century.

The Kwangtung floods are expected to reach their peak along the west and north rivers of the Pearl River delta Tuesday or Wednesday.

Peiping radio reported that 12 inches of rain in neighboring Kwangsi between June 15-21 had damaged 250,000 acres.

First Day Of Summer Looks Like Late Spring

Although officially it's the first day of summer, East Liverpool had a combination of dark skies, showers and high humidity more suited to late spring.

A high of 69-75 was due today, with the showers ending tonight, the Ohio weatherman said. The low tonight will be 50-55. Tuesday will be cloudy and cooler.

Summer arrived officially at 11:50 p. m. Tuesday after the mercury soared to 84 degrees in early afternoon at Dam 8 and rain totaling 23 hundredths of an inch fell on the district. The overnight low was 67.

Last Civil War Veteran Still Fights Pneumonia

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter Williams, last survivor of the Civil War, rested today in an oxygen tent, his condition unchanged in his bout with pneumonia.

"There's little or no change," Dr. Russell Wolfe said Sunday night.

"His temperature has dropped a little bit and his pulse is good," the doctor added. The 116-year-old veteran's temperature had risen to 101 during the day.

5 Swept Into Crevasse As Sun Loosens Snow

TIMBERLINE LODGE, Ore., (AP)—Ice and snow, loosened by warm sunshine, broke away from near the summit of Mt. Hood Sunday and swept five persons into a crevasse, carrying a Boy Scout to his death.

David Draper, 16, Explorer Scout from Vancouver, Wash., died in a Portland hospital about eight hours after the accident on the 11,245-foot level of the mountain.

He and four other climbers, two of them adults, were roped together. The five were swept into a 30-foot deep crevasse and buried in wet snow. Other adults in the 48-member party taking part in the climb, freed their companions.

The four others in the party were bruised and shaken, but not seriously hurt.

'And Now What?' Louisianans Ask

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana, thrown into political turmoil by her ailing governor three weeks ago, faces momentous questions, some of which may be answered this week:

1. Is Gov. Earl K. Long legally insane?

2. If not, can he get out of a state mental hospital?

3. Meanwhile, who is the state's chief executive?

Physicians who visited Long Sunday at Southeast Louisiana Hospital, 54 miles east of the capital, reported he was "quite cooperative and his general condition satisfactory."

Five days ago, the governor, cursing and fighting, was taken to the mental hospital in Mandeville, La. He was arrested near here after he had sped away from a New Orleans hospital.

Dr. Chester Williams, coroner for East Baton Rouge Parish, and a psychiatrist said Long was suffering from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution. Long was ordered taken to the mental hospital for observation and treatment.

Long, who was on his way to the capital to resume executive powers when he was arrested, has engaged counsel to protect his legal rights. Joseph Arthur Sims of Hammond, La., was named his chief counsel.

Sims, who conferred with the governor for an hour Sunday, said Long apparently was in good health and spirits. He would not say what legal action was planned.

Speculation centered on two possible courses: a sanity hearing here, where the coroner took the committal action; or a court hearing in Covington where the governor, claiming he was illegally restrained of his liberty in nearby Mandeville, might sue for a writ of habeas corpus.

During Long's sojourn in Galveston, Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar automatically became acting governor.

Frazar, who was elected on the Long ticket, said he would act in an emergency, but he would not formally assume executive powers until he got legal advice.

County Driver Hurt In Crash Near Palestine

A New Waterford man was hospitalized with injuries suffered in one of two accidents over the weekend in which five persons were injured, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Jesse Mercure, 44, is in "fair" condition today at Youngstown Southside Hospital with multiple fractures and lacerations suffered when his car crashed into a bridge abutment on Route 46 two miles west of East Palestine Sunday afternoon at 4.

Mercure lost control of his car on a curve, officers said. The accident still is under investigation. Mercure suffered fractures of the right arm, pelvis, nose and ribs. He also received a dislocated hip and multiple lacerations of the face. He was apparently thrown into the windshield, officers said.

Mercure first was taken to Salem City Hospital and then transferred to Youngstown.

Four were injured in a collision of cars driven by Russell Wilson, 34, of Beloit and Warren A. Betz, 19, of Beloit Sunday at 6:15 p. m. at the intersection of the Georgetown-Damascus Rd. and Shoemaker Rd. three miles south of Route 62.

Betz was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. He was treated at Salem City Hospital for a laceration of the lower left leg. A passenger in his car, Ralph Betz, 18, of Salem, was treated for a laceration of the chin.

Wilson was treated for contusions of the right forearm and hand and a laceration of the lower lip. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, 28, suffered contusions of the right arm and leg and a laceration of the forehead.

Eight other passengers, four in each car, were not injured, officers said.

The patrol also investigated three minor "fender-benders" over the weekend.

One Of Two Men Lynched By Mob Believed Innocent

JALAPA, Mexico (AP)—Authorities pressed an investigation today into the lynching of two men, one of whom may have been falsely accused of raping and killing a 3-year-old girl.

Julian Benitez, 26, and Francisco Cotla, 28, were torn from their jail cells in Isla Saturday, dragged to the village square and kicked, stoned and beaten to death by a mob of some 4,000 persons.

A member of the state attorney general's staff in Veracruz said one of the victims may have been innocent.

Benitez and Cotla were locked up after two women claimed they had seen them with the child.

WEIRTON — Mrs. Louis J. Willey, 3527 Orchard St., is in "good" condition today at the Weirton General Hospital with injuries suffered Sunday afternoon in an auto accident near Florence, Pa.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the woman was a passenger in the auto operated by her husband, who lost control while trying to pass another car in a rainstorm.

Mrs. Willey suffered lacerations of the forehead and possible chest injuries. Her husband was treated for brush burns.

State police said the auto hit guard rails and then plunged over a bank into a creek.

Also hospitalized with injuries received in another accident is Oliver Pearl Jr., 20, of 241 Emerson St., who was driving a motorcycle when it wrecked this morning at 6:45 on Pennsylvania Ave. He suffered multiple abrasions and a fractured left leg, the hospital said.

Physicians who visited Long Sunday at Southeast Louisiana Hospital, 54 miles east of the capital, reported he was "quite cooperative and his general condition satisfactory."

Five days ago, the governor, cursing and fighting, was taken to the mental hospital in Mandeville, La. He was arrested near here after he had sped away from a New Orleans hospital.

Dr. Chester Williams, coroner for East Baton Rouge Parish, and a psychiatrist said Long was suffering from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution. Long was ordered taken to the mental hospital for observation and treatment.

Long, who was on his way to the capital to resume executive powers when he was arrested, has engaged counsel to protect his legal rights. Joseph Arthur Sims of Hammond, La., was named his chief counsel.

Sims, who conferred with the governor for an hour Sunday, said Long apparently was in good health and spirits. He would not say what legal action was planned.

Speculation centered on two possible courses: a sanity hearing here, where the coroner took the committal action; or a court hearing in Covington where the governor, claiming he was illegally restrained of his liberty in nearby Mandeville, might sue for a writ of habeas corpus.

During Long's sojourn in Galveston, Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar automatically became acting governor.

Frazar, who was elected on the Long ticket, said he would act in an emergency, but he would not formally assume executive powers until he got legal advice.

County Driver Hurt In Crash Near Palestine

A New Waterford man was hospitalized with injuries suffered in one of two accidents over the weekend in which five persons were injured, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Jesse Mercure, 44, is in "fair" condition today at Youngstown Southside Hospital with multiple fractures and lacerations suffered when his car crashed into a bridge abutment on Route 46 two miles west of East Palestine Sunday afternoon at 4.

Mercure lost control of his car on a curve, officers said. The accident still is under investigation. Mercure suffered fractures of the right arm, pelvis, nose and ribs. He also received a dislocated hip and multiple lacerations of the face. He was apparently thrown into the windshield, officers said.

Mercure first was taken to Salem City Hospital and then transferred to Youngstown.

Four were injured in a collision of cars driven by Russell Wilson, 34, of Beloit and Warren A. Betz, 19, of Beloit Sunday at 6:15 p. m. at the intersection of the Georgetown-Damascus Rd. and Shoemaker Rd. three miles south of Route 62.

Betz was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. He was treated at Salem City Hospital for a laceration of the lower left leg. A passenger in his car, Ralph Betz, 18, of Salem, was treated for a laceration of the chin.

Wilson was treated for contusions of the right forearm and hand and a laceration of the lower lip. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, 28, suffered contusions of the right arm and leg and a laceration of the forehead.

Eight other passengers, four in each car, were not injured, officers said.

The patrol also investigated three minor "fender-benders" over the weekend.

One Of Two Men Lynched By Mob Believed Innocent

JALAPA, Mexico (AP)—Authorities pressed an investigation today into the lynching of two men, one of whom may have been falsely accused of raping and killing a 3-year-old girl.

Julian Benitez, 26, and Francisco Cotla, 28, were torn from their jail cells in Isla Saturday, dragged to the village square and kicked, stoned and beaten to death by a mob of some 4,000 persons.

A member of the state attorney general's staff in Veracruz said one of the victims may have been innocent.

Benitez and Cotla were locked up after two women claimed they had seen them with the child.

Weirton Woman Hurt In Crash At Florence

WEIRTON — Mrs. Louis J. Willey, 3527 Orchard St., is in "good" condition today at the Weirton General Hospital with injuries suffered Sunday afternoon in an auto accident near Florence, Pa.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the woman was a passenger in the auto operated by her husband, who lost control while trying to pass another car in a rainstorm.

Mrs. Willey suffered lacerations of the forehead and possible chest injuries. Her husband was treated for brush burns.

State police said the auto hit guard rails and then plunged over a bank into a creek.

Also hospitalized with injuries received in another accident is Oliver Pearl Jr., 20, of 241 Emerson St., who was driving a motorcycle when it wrecked this morning at 6:45 on Pennsylvania Ave. He suffered multiple abrasions and a fractured left leg, the hospital said.

A Sacred Cow Gets Into Trouble

T. Keith Glennan, the educator in charge of the space program for the United States, reflected a new point of view on post-Sputnik military spending when he referred the other day to the 900 million dollars spent for a nuclear plane so far.

The whole project should have been done for that amount of money, in his opinion, but instead it is still being developed. The trouble is that the government goes off half-cocked on programs that have not been well thought out and spends public money with a prodigal hand to conceal its poverty of planning.

This is strong criticism from the head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Dr. Glennan is not starting a trend, however. He is continuing one.

The sacred cow that feeds and fattens itself under the name of military spending is not as sacred as it used to be. Rude things are being said about it. It is not impossible that rude things might be done about it. Even President Eisenhower has wondered audibly whether all the 40 million dollars a year being spent on national defense is necessary.

IT NO LONGER is a secret that billions have been frittered away on missiles under the credo that enough monkeys with enough typewriters would write Shakespeare's plays by trial and error and enough missile-makers with enough billions would produce some kind of a weapons system.

Even though it can be assumed that missiles have taken the place of manned bombers as the Soviet Union's chief threat to U.S. security, the missile-makers still are thinking in terms of bombers, much as French militarists thought about forts in their famed Maginot line when they should have been thinking about Hermann Goering's screaming dive bombers.

Thoughts about the possibility that military spending is not sacrosanct after all are being expressed with fewer and fewer apologies. It suddenly doesn't seem to be either inevitable or justifiable that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have neither the will nor the ability to restore order in their own establishment.

IT IS CEASING to seem possible, moreover, that Americans can underwrite the growing cost of local and state government without some measure of relief from confiscatory federal taxation, made that way by the threadbare explanation that no civilian dares to raise an eyebrow about military spending because the general and admirals and their experts know what they are doing and cannot be questioned.

Has there come to be, perhaps, a new kind of military mind in the United States more fearful in its implications than the old kind, which was fearful only because it was hog-tied by the military way of doing things—all procedure and no thought?

The new kind might actually believe military spending cannot be criticized; that the military establishment is sacred.

Something's Being Done

Despite an unexpected delay, it appears that the cooperative campaign to relieve the city's parking headache is beginning to bring results.

Through the efforts of the administration, Council and the Planning Commission, the first steps have been taken for a second lot similar to that adjacent to City Hall.

And if things go according to plan, there will be more such lots later at other sites in the downtown area under the long-range program now being set up.

Much careful planning and judicious allocation of the necessary money still is ahead before any substantial progress can be achieved in the battle to provide more adequate parking facilities.

But there's this about it—something is being done in the right direction!

No Safe Substitute For Judgment

The reason Ohio's motor-scooter law came to a bad end after two years reveals something of value about the reason for the state's general trouble with license issuing in this field.

There is no safe substitute for judgment in the operation of any motor vehicle. Yet there is no way to test judgment, and even if some way could be developed the results would be challenged endlessly by unsuccessful applicants.

One section of the amendment permitting licenses to be issued to scooter applicants past the age of 14 said the registrar of motor vehicles should issue a license if the applicant "shall have furnished satisfactory evidence that he is physically and mentally developed to such a degree that his operation of a motor-driven cycle will not be inimical to public safety."

But another section said the license should be issued if the applicant had passed the examination prescribed for motor vehicle operators in general. This left leeway for discretion — and as is usually true in such situations the examiners did not choose to rush in where legislators had feared to tread. Too many licenses were issued.

It was not the calendar age of the 14-and-15-year-old operators that gave them a black eye but the fact that children of that age—and older — have not developed enough judgment to qualify them as safe operators. Insurance companies do not give a motor vehicle operator the benefit of the doubt until they are in their mid-20s.

Automobile accident studies prove with dreary regularity that lack of judgment is the prime cause of street and highway accidents. Only rarely do motor vehicles cause accidents; drivers who do silly, reckless and deliberately dangerous things are the cause of the accidents.

There are enough of these to keep the hospitals and the mortuaries full without adding children at one end and keeping over-age operators in the license lists at the other end. Though there is no reason to believe a 16-year-old is necessarily safer than a scooter operator one or two years younger, there is no reason, either, to add unnecessarily to public risk by assuming all 14- and 15-year-olds are as risk-worthy as 16-year-olds. They aren't. Ohio prays that those who already have scooter licenses and will be permitted to keep them will stay out of trouble.

Ideally, no Ohioan would be given an operator's license until he had acquired enough judgment to drive safely, which might mean that as many as a fourth of all Ohioans now whizzing around on the state's highways would never be allowed to drive at all.

Ethel Barrymore

The theater has been blessed from time to time with talent and personality that set new standards for its performers.

The talent and personality of Ethel Barrymore gave it a special blessing, because she had unusually rich endowments in both the ability to act and the grace to be charming in her own right.

The best of our American theater has been built on qualities like these. Some of its performers have given it more glitter and flamboyancy than Miss Barrymoore gave it. Many of them have worked harder at being pleasing personalities offstage than she worked.

But none in her generation made a happier combination of professional skill and personal grace than she made. Not only the small world of the theater is in her debt but the great world on the other side of the lights.

The audience debt is not acknowledged often enough. It is what we owe to all people who create the illusions that help to explain reality. It is what we cannot pay merely by supporting their efforts—the party payable only when we understand what they do and thereby give them the ultimate reward of their profession.

It is good to believe that Miss Barrymoore had known for a long time that her audience understood—that there existed between them and her a bond of mutuality which made her one of the outstanding actresses of her generation.

A Song Can Date You

By Frank Tripp

Like the age of a relic, it keeps coming up—"how old is that one?" Meaning the songs of our youth and those of our fathers; melodies that linger in oldsters' memories.

Tin Pan Alley's prolific product, already going back some 80 years, may become as enduring as the classics. Two generations grew up on its catchy tunes, around the old square piano.

Many were maudlin sentiments, set to haunting melodies that deserved better lyrics; musical phrases so "singable" that they have lived, and will forever.

They recur disguised in this swing era's product; are the barber-shoppers' mainstay, a backlog for TV; sweet nostalgia to millions who are dated by them.

THE SONG from "The Alley" that dates me, I admit singing while selling newspapers on the streets, "Annie Rooney," in 1890; "She's my Annie, I'm her Joe; she's my sweetheart, I'm her beau; soon we'll marry, never more to part; little Annie Rooney is my sweetheart."

The boyish ballyhoo ended with "Evening Star, one cent"—and sold newspapers.

Omitting the song hits from the musical stage, here are some of the ballad immortals from the 19th Century:

My Mother Was a Lady, 1896; After the Ball, 1892; In the Evening by the Moonlight; 1880; Sidewalks of New York, 1894; Silver Threads Among the Gold, 1873; When You Were Sweet Sixteen, 1898; That Old Sweetheart of Mine, 1891; Kentucky Babe, 1897; Mandy Lee, 1899; Creole Sue, 1898; Sweet Rosie O'Grady, 1896; Sweet Genevieve and Dixie, 1860.

She May Have Seen Better Days, 1894; Banks of the Wabash, 1897; My Wild Irish Rose, 1899; Annie Rooney, 1890; And the Band Played On, 1895; Break the News to Mother, 1897; Drill Ye Terriers, Drill, 1888; She's More to Be Pitied than Censured, and She Was Bred in Old Kentucky, both in 1898.

THE GRIST continued after the turn of the century. There came Sweet Adeline, 1906; Mother Machree, 1910; Take Me Out to the Ball Game, 1908; Dear Old Girl, 1903; In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree, 1905; When Irish Eyes Are Smiling, 1912; My Gal Sal, 1905; By the Light of the Silvery Moon, Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet, Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl and Casey Jones, all 1909; Bird in a Gilded Cage, 1900, All Aboard for Blanket Bay, 1910; Pal of Mine, 1918.

Home on the Range, 1932; I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl, 1911; I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles, 1918; Keep the Home Fires Burning, 1915; Let Me Call You Sweetheart, 1910; Let the Rest of the World Go By, 1919, Margie, 1920; Smiles, 1917; Long, Long Trail, 1915; Bedelia, 1903; Pack Up Your Troubles, 1915; Moonlight and Roses, 1928.

So, you parents of kids with rakish convertibles, consider that your great grand pappy had his own worries in the horse and buggy days.

That Old, Old Game!

Will Motorists Pay The Freight?

By Jay G. Hayden

American automobile users, already taxed for all of their own travel facilities and much more, are now proposed to pay for the salvation of their main competitor in the business of transportation—the railroads.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey has announced a plan for meeting his state's railway commuter problems, calling for 630 million dollars in expenditures. It would be financed mainly from surplus profits of the single New Jersey turnpike, running from New York City to the Maryland border, now piling up at a rate of $10,000,000 a year.

Some 128,000 persons work in New York and live with their families in New Jersey. Some 75,000 others reside in New York and work in New Jersey. Each of these groups travels daily back and forth, still largely by railroad, although automobile competition has so increased as to bring the rail lines close to bankruptcy.

There was a mighty uproar a year ago when President Alfred E. Perlman of the New York Central threatened to end all passenger service into New York City, including complete abandonment of Grand Central Terminal. Perlman said his railroad was planning to terminate its mainline operations at Harmon, N.Y., 30 miles away from Grand Central.

ASKED HOW passengers stranded there would finish their journey, he replied: "The way they do when they fly into Idlewild"—that is, by taxicabs, limousines or buses.

Echoing those statements, President George Alpert of the New Haven Railroad said his line had chosen New Rochelle, similarly far out, as its future New York terminal. Spokesmen for railroads carrying commuters to and from New Jersey warned of similar evacuation plans.

These utterances shocked public authorities, national and state, into action. Last year Congress passed and President Eisenhower signed a law authorizing higher passenger rates and 500 million dollars in government guaranteed loans to railroads, plus permission to abandon some unprofitable lines.

Governors Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Meyner of New Jersey have been moving to succor their commuter constituents but Meyner seems to have gotten there "fustest with the mostest."

Proposing to his Legislature the 630 - million - dollar authorization, to extend over a 28-year period, Gov. Meyner stipulated that it should be used to provide tax relief for the rail lines and to aid them in buying new passenger equipment and consolidating now competing services.

But consider the suggestion that costs of this plan be provided from the excess of tolls automobile riders are paying, exceeding 10 million dollars a year now and rapidly rising. All this from the single turnpike, through users of which are assessed $1.75 per one-way trip, plus $1.25 to get on and off by way of the Delaware and Hudson River bridges or tunnels.

CONSIDER the other tax burdens motorists carry. The federal tax on gasoline and Diesel engine fuel now is three cents a gallon and President Eisenhower has asked that it be boosted to 4½ cents. State gasoline taxes range from seven to four cents a gallon. States collecting seven cents are Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Carolina and Tennessee.

Only New York, New Jersey and Rhode Island Hold to the four-cent rate. Other states charge either five or six cents. The federal government taxes lubricating oil at six cents a gallon and the states follow suit at varying rates.

Early in World War I Congress placed a sales tax on automobiles, claiming they were in the same "luxury" classification as jewelry and furs. That levy rose steadily to the present 10 per cent on new car sales, 8 per cent on parts and accessories and five to nine cents per pound of tires and inner tubes.

Besides license tags and driver permits, federal, state and local governments have variously applied automobile "use" taxes. On June 16 the New York City Council precipitated a great hullabaloo by imposing a tax of 1o cents a ride on taxicab users, calculated to raise 20 million dollars a year for the city administration.

It remains to be seen how New Jersey auto owners will react to the suggestion that they help bail out the railroads. There is the circumstance, however, that most of those who travel over the turnpike live in other states.

Count To A Thousand

By Truman Twill

The governor of Connecticut, Abraham A. Ribicoff, has underwritten President Eisenhower's remarks about the necessity of more time for thinking.

"There is a compelling need in our personal lives and in the lives of all nations," said Gov. Ribicoff, "for a sabbatical leave so that we may ponder the nature and meaning of life, seek to learn how our conscience would have us behave and cleanse our minds and souls of that which bemeans."

He was making a commencement address when he said this, which accounts for the high-flown language. As for the idea, there's nothing high-flown about it. Thinking is the most terrifying thing men can think about, and the fact is that not more than one person in a thousand is able to think, but the problem of thinking is of widespread concern.

Fortunately, we have a substitute for thinking that can save us if we will give it a chance. It even beats thinking.

It is the action of the subconscious mind. Everybody has one. Being uncluttered with misapprehensions and all kinds of conditioned reflexes, it is more reliable than the conscious mind.

It works while we are asleep, or while the conscious mind is out of gear. If we have the all-around intelligence of a good smart dog, our subconscious minds will make us look smarter than we could look through any effort of our conscious minds 99 times out of 100.

Another way to say the same thing is to say that most of us know dumb from smart and wrong from right if we will let ourselves obey the dictates of our native intelligence. It's when we try to outwit ourselves or somebody else that we get into trouble.

A sabbatical leave would be a waste of time because we're nothing to think with even if we had nothing else to do. But there can be no doubt, either, that we need more time to let our subconscious minds and instincts tell us what we should do.

We need a formula for eliminating snap decisions. If the President of the United States and the governor of Connecticut both think this is serious enough to mention, it's serious enough to warrant action.

Every one of us should count to a thousand before making an important decision. It wouldn't be practicable to sit around during the day and count that far, so all important decisions should be put off until they can be slept on.

While going to sleep, the decision-maker should start to count. In few cases will the count get past 100. The decision-maker will be asleep.

When he awakes, he will recall that he was in the process of making a decision when he fell asleep. And to his astonishment, the decision will have been made. He will know what he should do as clearly as if he never had any doubt.

This is the miracle of the subconscious mind which is, along with instinct, the most valuable of all mental assets.

Give them a chance. Help D. D. Eisenhower and A. A. Ribicoff to lift this badly mixed up nation by its mental bootstraps. Be as smart as you would be if you didn't try to think.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. A. B. Murdoch was elected president of the Young Women's Service Guild of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Twenty - one members of Boy Scout Troop 8 of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Episcopal Church hiked to the George Brand farm, north of Klondyke.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — About 140 attended the annual outing of the East End Groceries Association at Firestone Park in Columbiana.

Mrs. George Brewer won the flag tournament for women at the East Liverpool Country Club.

James Bell of St. George St. received a private airplane pilot's license following a government inspected test at Butler, Pa.

TEN YEARS AGO — Fr. William E. Degan of Salineville St. Patrick's Catholic Church observed the 25th anniversary of his ordination.

John E. Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Laughlin of the Campground Rd., was sworn in as a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Joseph E. Reed was re-installed as commander of Disabled American Veterans Chapter 47.

Rugged Outposts

A new set of exotic place names has been added to the roll of United States diplomatic outposts in the last two years — Conakry, Yaounde, Lome, Kampala, Kaduna, Abidjan and Mogadiscio.

They are capitals of African nations that have achieved or are in the process of achieving independence. Most of them offer rugged duty for Americans.

Foreign Service officers in these and other new African countries will find walking shorts more practical than the traditional striped pants.

The State Department hopes to supply its diplomats with heavy-duty trucks that can be converted into sleeping quarters on field trips.

An umbrella also would be a useful item of issue for a diplomat assigned to the West African coastal city of Conakry, capital of Guinea. It gets an average of 169 inches of rain a year. In July, the average relative humidity ranges from 85 to 92 per cent. April temperatures average 90 degrees.

A foreign Service man stationed in Yaounde, capital of the French Cameroons, might drive his sleeper truck into the highlands to visit the Bamileke tribe. The tribesmen belong to masked secret societies, honor the skulls of their dead, examine spiders to predict the future, and are successful coffee planters and businessmen.

Mumble-Mumble Game

By James Marlow

Steel Talks Fail To Get Specific

WASHINGTON

The mumble-mumble game is coming to a climax.

Since May 5 the nation, which would be heavily affected by a steel strike, has watched the steel union and the steel industry going through the motions of bargaining on a new contract.

All the two sides have really done is mumble about what they want—and don't want — without ever getting very specific.

But the three-year contract between the union and the industry ends June 30. Unless there is agreement on a new contract by that time, the country faces a shutdown in steel production.

In these weeks of talks both sides have pumped out propaganda. What they seem to have been doing is jockeying for a favorable position in public opinion in case a strike and shutdown come. It can hardly be called collective bargaining.

The United Steelworkers Union demanded a substantial wage boost, plus pension improvements, more work opportunities for idle members, and a better unemployment compensation system.

The present average wage of a steelworker is $3.03 an hour.

The 12 steel companies with which the union is talking argued that a wage increase is inflationary—that it inevitably would force them to raise steel prices. Therefore the industry proposed a wage-freeze for another year.

A price increase in steel, which is used in so many other fields of American living, traditionally has been regarded as the starting point for price increases in other businesses and industries.

The Steelworkers Union contends company profits are so high a wage increase could be absorbed without passing it on in the form of higher steel prices.

On June 10 the industry proposed dropping its wage-freeze position provided the union made concessions on about eight different parts of its contract. Union President David J. McDonald rejected this, calling it "industrial blackmail."

From the very beginning President Eisenhower has urged both sides to use self-discipline because of the effect he thinks their decisions will have on the rest of the economy.

He pleaded against setting off a wage - price spiral that would boost living costs generally. Last Friday the government's figures showed living costs hit a new record high.

The National Assn. of Manufacturers got in on the act by lining up with the steel industry. It urged a wage freeze to prevent inflation.

The AFL-CIO jumped in, too. Its executive council backed up the Steelworkers by arguing a wage freeze in steel and other industries would cause further unemployment and economic recession.

Meanwhile, both sides have tried to prepare the ground for blaming each other if a steel strike comes: the industry putting the responsibility on the union, the union on the industry.

It may seem to the general public that both sides would look a lot more adult if they cut out the mumbling—which is really stalling—and got down to cases.

Suppose there is a strike, what could the government do? The President—to prevent a shut down—could invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act through a court-ordered 80-day delay in a strike.

The union might seek to deprive the President of this weapon by striking only one company instead of the whole industry. It could argue that loss of steel from one company was not a national emergency.

In the past it has been union policy to invoke complete industry shutdowns.

Insurance of bank deposits and savings and loan shares is now a 25-year-old commonplace of financial life.

And — so far — neither agency that takes over for deceased institutions has suffered much loss. Nor have depositors or shareholders—so far—had to wait for their money longer than local laws dictated.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. celebrated its silver anniversary last year. The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. observes its birthday June 27.

Each agency insures accounts up to $10,000 each.

Both agencies can pay off accounts in defunct institutions in cash or move the accounts to other insured institutions.

The FDIC has more than 13,000 banks insured and they have built its resources up to nearly two billion dollars. So far it has had 436 cases to deal with and its losses have come to about 29 million dollars, or about 1½ per cent of its cumulative gross income.

The FSLIC insures 3,900 savings and loan associations. It has had 38 insurance cases with a total loss of 5¼ million dollars, or less than 2 per cent of its cumulative gross income of 324 million dollars.

The associations, like the banks, pay for the insurance—just as you pay for any insurance you may have.

Although set up by the federal government and supervised by federal agencies, the two corporations are owned by their members. The insurance payments after a failure come from funds the members have paid in—and not from the U.S. Treasury.

When a bank fails those who get paid off are depositors—whether they have checking accounts or savings accounts.

When a savings and loan group fails, those who get payments are shareholders, not depositors. They actually own a part of the business, and it is their share of ownership that is insured.

How long do you have to wait for your money if a bank or a savings and loan association fails and the FDIC or the FSLIC steps in?

The American Bankers' Assn. says bank depositors will get theirs almost immediately. FDIC says in most cases the delay has been just a few days.

The longest delay—so far—has been three months in the case of three Chicago banks folding in 1953. FDIC explains that this was because Illinois law at that time (since changed) allowed the state superintendent of banking to close banks for investigation, and FDIC's hands were tied.

The U.S. Savings and Loan League says no shareholder has been delayed in getting insurance payments.

Both the Home Loan Bank Board, which rides herd on FSLIC, and the National League of Insured Savings Assns. say that—so far—shareholders have never had to wait longer than over a weekend.

The U.S. Savings and Loan League points with pride to speed in the most publicized default, that of the Commonwealth Building & Loan Assn. of Norfolk, Va., in 1956.

Its trouble arose when it found that a big-hearted spinster employe (Minnie Mangum) had embezzled nearly three million dollars over the years to lavish on friends.

On a Friday when the stricken association was still meeting withdrawal requests, the FSLIC moved in, transferred all accounts to another association, so that shareholders were able to get their money on Monday morning if they wished. The League says most didn't withdraw funds.

But what would, or could, happen if there were a rush of failures—although nothing seems less likely at the moment?

In some states banking supervisors have the power to impose a waiting period before savings accounts (as apart from checking accounts) can be withdrawn. If they did so, many depositors might have to wait.

Shareholders can be required to give 30 days notice of intention to withdraw from savings and loan associations. They haven't had to wait—so far—but they might have to some time.

And it could be possible for a faltering association to number all withdrawal requests and honor them on a wait-your-turn basis, paying off no more than $1,000 to any shareholder each time around. This could push final payment far into the future.

Both the bank and association insurance agencies insist that long before any of their members got in that bad a fix they would have moved in to protect depositors or shareholders.

A Sacred Cow Gets Into Trouble

T. Keith Glennan, the educator in charge of the space program for the United States, reflected a new point of view on post-Sputnik military spending when he referred the other day to the 900 million dollars spent for a nuclear plane so far.

The whole project should have been done for that amount of money, in his opinion, but instead it is still being developed. The trouble is that the government goes off half-cocked on programs that have not been well thought out and spends public money with a prodigal hand to conceal its poverty of planning.

This is strong criticism from the head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Dr. Glennan is not starting a trend, however. He is continuing one.

The sacred cow that feeds and fattens itself under the name of military spending is not as sacred as it used to be. Rude things are being said about it. It is not impossible that rude things might be done about it. Even President Eisenhower has wondered audibly whether all the 40 million dollars a year being spent on national defense is necessary.

IT NO LONGER is a secret that billions have been frittered away on missiles under the credo that enough monkeys with enough typewriters would write Shakespeare's plays by trial and error and enough missile-makers with enough billions would produce some kind of a weapons system.

Even though it can be assumed that missiles have taken the place of manned bombers as the Soviet Union's chief threat to U.S. security, the missile-makers still are thinking in terms of bombers, much as French militarists thought about forts in their famed Maginot line when they should have been thinking about Hermann Goering's screaming dive bombers.

Thoughts about the possibility that military spending is not sacrosanct after all are being expressed with fewer and fewer apologies. It suddenly doesn't seem to be either inevitable or justifiable that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have neither the will nor the ability to restore order in their own establishment.

IT IS CEASING to seem possible, moreover, that Americans can underwrite the growing cost of local and state government without some measure of relief from confiscatory federal taxation, made that way by the threadbare explanation that no civilian dares to raise an eyebrow about military spending because the general and admirals and their experts know what they are doing and cannot be questioned.

Has there come to be, perhaps, a new kind of military mind in the United States more fearful in its implications than the old kind, which was fearful only because it was hog-tied by the military way of doing things—all procedure and no thought?

The new kind might actually believe military spending cannot be criticized; that the military establishment is sacred.

Something's Being Done

Despite an unexpected delay, it appears that the cooperative campaign to relieve the city's parking headache is beginning to bring results.

Through the efforts of the administration, Council and the Planning Commission, the first steps have been taken for a second lot similar to that adjacent to City Hall.

And if things go according to plan, there will be more such lots later at other sites in the downtown area under the long-range program now being set up.

Much careful planning and judicious allocation of the necessary money still is ahead before any substantial progress can be achieved in the battle to provide more adequate parking facilities.

But there's this about it—something is being done in the right direction!

No Safe Substitute For Judgment

The reason Ohio's motor-scooter law came to a bad end after two years reveals something of value about the reason for the state's general trouble with license issuing in this field.

There is no safe substitute for judgment in the operation of any motor vehicle. Yet there is no way to test judgment, and even if some way could be developed the results would be challenged endlessly by unsuccessful applicants.

One section of the amendment permitting licenses to be issued to scooter applicants past the age of 14 said the registrar of motor vehicles should issue a license if the applicant "shall have furnished satisfactory evidence that he is physically and mentally developed to such a degree that his operation of a motor-driven cycle will not be inimical to public safety."

But another section said the license should be issued if the applicant had passed the examination prescribed for motor vehicle operators in general. This left leeway for discretion — and as is usually true in such situations the examiners did not choose to rush in where legislators had feared to tread. Too many licenses were issued.

It was not the calendar age of the 14-and-15-year-old operators that gave them a black eye but the fact that children of that age—and older — have not developed enough judgment to qualify them as safe operators. Insurance companies do not give a motor vehicle operator the benefit of the doubt until they are in their mid-20s.

Automobile accident studies prove with dreary regularity that lack of judgment is the prime cause of street and highway accidents. Only rarely do motor vehicles cause accidents; drivers who do silly, reckless and deliberately dangerous things are the cause of the accidents.

There are enough of these to keep the hospitals and the mortuaries full without adding children at one end and keeping over-age operators in the license lists at the other end. Though there is no reason to believe a 16-year-old is necessarily safer than a scooter operator one or two years younger, there is no reason, either, to add unnecessarily to public risk by assuming all 14- and 15-year-olds are as risk-worthy as 16-year-olds. They aren't. Ohio prays that those who already have scooter licenses and will be permitted to keep them will stay out of trouble.

Ideally, no Ohioan would be given an operator's license until he had acquired enough judgment to drive safely, which might mean that as many as a fourth of all Ohioans now whizzing around on the state's highways would never be allowed to drive at all.

Ethel Barrymore

The theater has been blessed from time to time with talent and personality that set new standards for its performers.

The talent and personality of Ethel Barrymore gave it a special blessing, because she had unusually rich endowments in both the ability to act and the grace to be charming in her own right.

The best of our American theater has been built on qualities like these. Some of its performers have given it more glitter and flamboyancy than Miss Barrymoore gave it. Many of them have worked harder at being pleasing personalities offstage than she worked.

But none in her generation made a happier combination of professional skill and personal grace than she made. Not only the small world of the theater is in her debt but the great world on the other side of the lights.

The audience debt is not acknowledged often enough. It is what we owe to all people who create the illusions that help to explain reality. It is what we cannot pay merely by supporting their efforts—the party payable only when we understand what they do and thereby give them the ultimate reward of their profession.

It is good to believe that Miss Barrymoore had known for a long time that her audience understood—that there existed between them and her a bond of mutuality which made her one of the outstanding actresses of her generation.

A Song Can Date You

By Frank Tripp

Like the age of a relic, it keeps coming up—"how old is that one?" Meaning the songs of our youth and those of our fathers; melodies that linger in oldsters' memories.

Tin Pan Alley's prolific product, already going back some 80 years, may become as enduring as the classics. Two generations grew up on its catchy tunes, around the old square piano.

Many were maudlin sentiments, set to haunting melodies that deserved better lyrics; musical phrases so "singable" that they have lived, and will forever.

They recur disguised in this swing era's product; are the barber-shoppers' mainstay, a backlog for TV; sweet nostalgia to millions who are dated by them.

THE SONG from "The Alley" that dates me, I admit singing while selling newspapers on the streets, "Annie Rooney," in 1890; "She's my Annie, I'm her Joe; she's my sweetheart, I'm her beau; soon we'll marry, never more to part; little Annie Rooney is my sweetheart."

The boyish ballyhoo ended with "Evening Star, one cent"—and sold newspapers.

Omitting the song hits from the musical stage, here are some of the ballad immortals from the 19th Century:

My Mother Was a Lady, 1896; After the Ball, 1892; In the Evening by the Moonlight; 1880; Sidewalks of New York, 1894; Silver Threads Among the Gold, 1873; When You Were Sweet Sixteen, 1898; That Old Sweetheart of Mine, 1891; Kentucky Babe, 1897; Mandy Lee, 1899; Creole Sue, 1898; Sweet Rosie O'Grady, 1896; Sweet Genevieve and Dixie, 1860.

She May Have Seen Better Days, 1894; Banks of the Wabash, 1897; My Wild Irish Rose, 1899; Annie Rooney, 1890; And the Band Played On, 1895; Break the News to Mother, 1897; Drill Ye Terriers, Drill, 1888; She's More to Be Pitied than Censured, and She Was Bred in Old Kentucky, both in 1898.

THE GRIST continued after the turn of the century. There came Sweet Adeline, 1906; Mother Machree, 1910; Take Me Out to the Ball Game, 1908; Dear Old Girl, 1903; In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree, 1905; When Irish Eyes Are Smiling, 1912; My Gal Sal, 1905; By the Light of the Silvery Moon, Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet, Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl and Casey Jones, all 1909; Bird in a Gilded Cage, 1900, All Aboard for Blanket Bay, 1910; Pal of Mine, 1918.

Home on the Range, 1932; I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl, 1911; I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles, 1918; Keep the Home Fires Burning, 1915; Let Me Call You Sweetheart, 1910; Let the Rest of the World Go By, 1919, Margie, 1920; Smiles, 1917; Long, Long Trail, 1915; Bedelia, 1903; Pack Up Your Troubles, 1915; Moonlight and Roses, 1928.

So, you parents of kids with rakish convertibles, consider that your great grand pappy had his own worries in the horse and buggy days.

That Old, Old Game!

Will Motorists Pay The Freight?

By Jay G. Hayden

American automobile users, already taxed for all of their own travel facilities and much more, are now proposed to pay for the salvation of their main competitor in the business of transportation—the railroads.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey has announced a plan for meeting his state's railway commuter problems, calling for 630 million dollars in expenditures. It would be financed mainly from surplus profits of the single New Jersey turnpike, running from New York City to the Maryland border, now piling up at a rate of $10,000,000 a year.

Some 128,000 persons work in New York and live with their families in New Jersey. Some 75,000 others reside in New York and work in New Jersey. Each of these groups travels daily back and forth, still largely by railroad, although automobile competition has so increased as to bring the rail lines close to bankruptcy.

There was a mighty uproar a year ago when President Alfred E. Perlman of the New York Central threatened to end all passenger service into New York City, including complete abandonment of Grand Central Terminal. Perlman said his railroad was planning to terminate its mainline operations at Harmon, N.Y., 30 miles away from Grand Central.

ASKED HOW passengers stranded there would finish their journey, he replied: "The way they do when they fly into Idlewild"—that is, by taxicabs, limousines or buses.

Echoing those statements, President George Alpert of the New Haven Railroad said his line had chosen New Rochelle, similarly far out, as its future New York terminal. Spokesmen for railroads carrying commuters to and from New Jersey warned of similar evacuation plans.

These utterances shocked public authorities, national and state, into action. Last year Congress passed and President Eisenhower signed a law authorizing higher passenger rates and 500 million dollars in government guaranteed loans to railroads, plus permission to abandon some unprofitable lines.

Governors Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Meyner of New Jersey have been moving to succor their commuter constituents but Meyner seems to have gotten there "fustest with the mostest."

Proposing to his Legislature the 630 - million - dollar authorization, to extend over a 28-year period, Gov. Meyner stipulated that it should be used to provide tax relief for the rail lines and to aid them in buying new passenger equipment and consolidating now competing services.

But consider the suggestion that costs of this plan be provided from the excess of tolls automobile riders are paying, exceeding 10 million dollars a year now and rapidly rising. All this from the single turnpike, through users of which are assessed $1.75 per one-way trip, plus $1.25 to get on and off by way of the Delaware and Hudson River bridges or tunnels.

CONSIDER the other tax burdens motorists carry. The federal tax on gasoline and Diesel engine fuel now is three cents a gallon and President Eisenhower has asked that it be boosted to 4½ cents. State gasoline taxes range from seven to four cents a gallon. States collecting seven cents are Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Carolina and Tennessee.

Only New York, New Jersey and Rhode Island Hold to the four-cent rate. Other states charge either five or six cents. The federal government taxes lubricating oil at six cents a gallon and the states follow suit at varying rates.

Early in World War I Congress placed a sales tax on automobiles, claiming they were in the same "luxury" classification as jewelry and furs. That levy rose steadily to the present 10 per cent on new car sales, 8 per cent on parts and accessories and five to nine cents per pound of tires and inner tubes.

Besides license tags and driver permits, federal, state and local governments have variously applied automobile "use" taxes. On June 16 the New York City Council precipitated a great hullabaloo by imposing a tax of 10 cents a ride on taxicab users, calculated to raise 20 million dollars a year for the city administration.

It remains to be seen how New Jersey auto owners will react to the suggestion that they help bail out the railroads. There is the circumstance, however, that most of those who travel over the turnpike live in other states.

Count To A Thousand

By Truman Twill

The governor of Connecticut, Abraham A. Ribicoff, has underwritten President Eisenhower's remarks about the necessity of more time for thinking.

"There is a compelling need in our personal lives and in the lives of all nations," said Gov. Ribicoff, "for a sabbatical leave so that we may ponder the nature and meaning of life, seek to learn how our conscience would have us behave and cleanse our minds and souls of that which bemeans."

He was making a commencement address when he said this, which accounts for the high-flown language. As for the idea, there's nothing high-flown about it. Thinking is the most terrifying thing men can think about, and the fact is that not more than one person in a thousand is able to think, but the problem of thinking is of widespread concern.

Fortunately, we have a substitute for thinking that can save us if we will give it a chance. It even beats thinking.

It is the action of the subconscious mind. Everybody has one. Being uncluttered with misapprehensions and all kinds of conditioned reflexes, it is more reliable than the conscious mind.

It works while we are asleep, or while the conscious mind is out of gear. If we have the all-around intelligence of a good smart dog, our subconscious minds will make us look smarter than we could look through any effort of our conscious minds 99 times out of 100.

Another way to say the same thing is to say that most of us know dumb from smart and wrong from right if we will let ourselves obey the dictates of our native intelligence. It's when we try to outwit ourselves or somebody else that we get into trouble.

A sabbatical leave would be a waste of time because we're nothing to think with even if we had nothing else to do. But there can be no doubt, either, that we need more time to let our subconscious minds and instincts tell us what we should do.

We need a formula for eliminating snap decisions. If the President of the United States and the governor of Connecticut both think this is serious enough to mention, it's serious enough to warrant action.

Every one of us should count to a thousand before making an important decision. It wouldn't be practicable to sit around during the day and count that far, so all important decisions should be put off until they can be slept on.

While going to sleep, the decision-maker should start to count. In few cases will the count get past 100. The decision-maker will be asleep.

When he awakes, he will recall that he was in the process of making a decision when he fell asleep. And to his astonishment, the decision will have been made. He will know what he should do as clearly as if he never had any doubt.

This is the miracle of the subconscious mind which is, along with instinct, the most valuable of all mental assets.

Give them a chance. Help D. D. Eisenhower and A. A. Ribicoff to lift this badly mixed up nation by its mental bootstraps. Be as smart as you would be if you didn't try to think.

Rugged Outposts

A new set of exotic place names has been added to the roll of United States diplomatic outposts in the last two years — Conakry, Yaounde, Lome, Kampala, Kaduna, Abidjan and Mogadiscio.

They are capitals of African nations that have achieved or are in the process of achieving independence. Most of them offer rugged duty for Americans.

Foreign Service officers in these and other new African countries will find walking shorts more practical than the traditional striped pants.

The State Department hopes to supply its diplomats with heavy-duty trucks that can be converted into sleeping quarters on field trips.

An umbrella also would be a useful item of issue for a diplomat assigned to the West African coastal city of Conakry, capital of Guinea. It gets an average of 169 inches of rain a year. In July, the average relative humidity ranges from 85 to 92 per cent. April temperatures average 90 degrees.

A foreign Service man stationed in Yaounde, capital of the French Cameroons, might drive his sleeper truck into the highlands to visit the Bamileke tribe. The tribesmen belong to masked secret societies, honor the skulls of their dead, examine spiders to predict the future, and are successful coffee planters and businessmen.

Mumble-Mumble Game

Steel Talks Fail To Get Specific

WASHINGTON

The mumble-mumble game is coming to a climax.

Since May 5 the nation, which would be heavily affected by a steel strike, has watched the steel union and the steel industry going through the motions of bargaining on a new contract.

All the two sides have really done is mumble about what they want—and don't want — without ever getting very specific.

But the three-year contract between the union and the industry ends June 30. Unless there is agreement on a new contract by that time, the country faces a shutdown in steel production.

In these weeks of talks both sides have pumped out propaganda. What they seem to have been doing is jockeying for a favorable position in public opinion in case a strike and shutdown come. It can hardly be called collective bargaining.

The United Steelworkers Union demanded a substantial wage boost, plus pension improvements, more work opportunities for idle members, and a better unemployment compensation system.

The present average wage of a steelworker is $3.03 an hour.

The 12 steel companies with which the union is talking argued that a wage increase is inflationary—that it inevitably would force them to raise steel prices. Therefore the industry proposed a wage-freeze for another year.

A price increase in steel, which is used in so many other fields of American living, traditionally has been regarded as the starting point for price increases in other businesses and industries.

The Steelworkers Union contends company profits are so high a wage increase could be absorbed without passing it on in the form of higher steel prices.

On June 10 the industry proposed dropping its wage-freeze position provided the union made concessions on about eight different parts of its contract. Union President David J. McDonald rejected this, calling it "industrial blackmail."

From the very beginning President Eisenhower has urged both sides to use self-discipline because of the effect he thinks their decisions will have on the rest of the economy.

He pleaded against setting off a wage - price spiral that would boost living costs generally. Last Friday the government's figures showed living costs hit a new record high.

Meanwhile, both sides have tried to prepare the ground for blaming each other if a steel strike comes: the industry putting the responsibility on the union, the union on the industry.

It may seem to the general public that both sides would look a lot more adult if they cut out the mumbling—which is really stalling—and got down to cases.

Suppose there is a strike, what could the government do? The President—to prevent a shut down—could invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act through a court-ordered 80-day delay in a strike.

The union might seek to deprive the President of this weapon by striking only one company instead of the whole industry. It could argue that loss of steel from one company was not a national emergency.

In the past it has been union policy to invoke complete industry shutdowns.

Gems Of Thought

SOLITUDE

Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the stern friend.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Being alone without feeling alone is one of the great experiences of life; and he who practices it has acquired an infinitely valuable possession.

—David Grayson

Who hath not learned that when alone he has his own thoughts to guard, and when struggling with mankind his temper, and in society his tongue?

—Mary Baker Eddy

Solitude is the nurse of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the true parent of genius.

—Isaac D'Israeli

I had three chairs in my house; one for solitude, two for friendship, three for society.

—Henry David Thoreau

Crowley Cleared In Death Of Jones By Tokyo Judges

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

TOKYO (AP) — Former Yale football star Joseph P. Crowley left Tokyo District Court a relieved and smiling man today, acquitted of charges he beat his brother-in-law to death in the Imperial Hotel's presidential suite last year.

But it may be two weeks or more before the 49-year-old New Haven, Conn., businessman knows if the ruling is final. The prosecution has 14 days to appeal for a reversal and Prosecutor Joji Nishimura said he would have to study the court's findings in detail before making a decision.

After 36 court sessions and three on-the-scene investigations covering an 11-month period, the three judges found the prosecution had not proved its charge that Crowley fatally beat T. A. D. Jones Jr. in a drunken brawl May 8, 1958.

Jones and Crowley, president and vice-president of the T. A. D. Jones Co. of New Haven, had arrived in Japan three days earlier to look into prospects of buying an oil tanker.

In its findings, which took Presiding Judge Saburo Yashima 80 minutes to read in Japanese, the court upheld defense contentions that Jones died from bruises and injuries suffered while stumbling and falling about his hotel suite in a drunken state. An autopsy had said cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

Crowley appeared unmoved as he heard the verdict.

"I was confident all along that my innocence would be established," he told newsmen.

The charge against Crowley was causing bodily injury resulting in death, which carries a penalty of 2 to 15 years imprisonment. The prosecution had asked for four years.

The verdict was telephoned to Crowley's wife, Betty, at their hotel. "Oh, thank you so much," she said. Today is the couple's 26th wedding anniversary.

At her home in Hamden, Conn., Jones' mother said she had never doubted Crowley's innocence and that she was very happy he had been acquitted.

As a college halfback, Crowley scored five touchdowns in 1931 against St. John's of Annapolis to set Yale's modern single-game scoring record. Jones' father was a Yale All-America quarterback in 1907 and later Yale's coach.

Crowley Cleared In Death Of Jones By Tokyo Judges

By RENE-GEORGES INAGAKI

TOKYO (AP) — Former Yale football star Joseph P. Crowley left Tokyo District Court a relieved and smiling man today, acquitted of charges he beat his brother-in-law to death in the Imperial Hotel's presidential suite last year.

But it may be two weeks or more before the 49-year-old New Haven, Conn., businessman knows if the ruling is final. The prosecution has 14 days to appeal for a reversal and Prosecutor Joji Nishimura said he would have to study the court's findings in detail before making a decision.

After 36 court sessions and three on-the-scene investigations covering an 11-month period, the three judges found the prosecution had not proved its charge that Crowley fatally beat T. A. D. Jones Jr. in a drunken brawl May 8, 1958.

Jones and Crowley, president and vice-president of the T. A. D. Jones Co. of New Haven, had arrived in Japan three days earlier to look into prospects of buying an oil tanker.

In its findings, which took Presiding Judge Saburo Yashima 80 minutes to read in Japanese, the court upheld defense contentions that Jones died from bruises and injuries suffered while stumbling and falling about his hotel suite in a drunken state. An autopsy had said cerebral hemorrhage was the cause of death.

Crowley appeared unmoved as he heard the verdict.

"I was confident all along that my innocence would be established," he told newsmen.

The charge against Crowley was causing bodily injury resulting in death, which carries a penalty of 2 to 15 years imprisonment. The prosecution had asked for four years.

The verdict was telephoned to Crowley's wife, Betty, at their hotel. "Oh, thank you so much," she said. Today is the couple's 26th wedding anniversary.

At her home in Hamden, Conn., Jones' mother said she had never doubted Crowley's innocence and that she was very happy he had been acquitted.

As a college halfback, Crowley scored five touchdowns in 1931 against St. John's of Annapolis to set Yale's modern single-game scoring record. Jones' father was a Yale All-America quarterback in 1907 and later Yale's coach.

Channel 11 also received an award for "Outstanding Coverage of a Special Event" and another for "Outstanding Commentary".

So, keep up with the latest area happenings by watching the award-winning Channel 11 news team composed of Mark Schaefer, Len Johnson and Ed Conway.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Last week I put new sheets on the bed. My husband raved over how luxurious they felt. He asked why they weren't this way all the time. He then added, "Mom's bed sheets were always like this."

I explained perhaps his mother ironed her sheets. I simply fold mine and put them away. He then had the nerve to suggest that I iron the sheets from now on. We got into a hot argument and I refused flatly. I don't happen to believe in killing myself with housework.

Am I wrong or is he?—FOUR-POSTER.

Dear Four-Poster: Did you know the average person spends one-third of his life in bed? Isn't it worth 30 minutes a week to make your husband happy an additional one-third of his life? If he wants you to iron the bed sheets, iron 'em, Toots. Be thankful your marital troubles can be ironed out so easily. Not all people are so lucky.

The Woman Pays

Dear Ann: Recently a man asked if he could be forced by law to marry a girl. You said the law could not force a marriage but in some states the father may have to support his child. You then blasted his reprehensible conduct but not a word about hers.

Why does society always place the girl on the pedestal as "Innocence Betrayed" while the man gets roasted?

Isn't it barely possible that some scheming women deliberately try to pry a settlement out of a poor sap who can't afford a scandal? Be fair and print this.—THE MISOGYNIST.

Dear Misogynist: It's obvious you've never had a baby, sir. This trick is not a favorite of the conniving, experienced woman, as you suggest. Only the very young and foolish would be so rash.

If you are so stupid or so naive that you don't know how to protect yourself against this low type, I'll tell you how. Stay away from them and keep off the list of candidates.

Unbelievable Story

Dear Ann: I'm a June graduate and the trouble is my girl friend. We've been going steady almost a year. She has my class ring, which is almost as binding as a diamond in my eyes.

The other night we went to a party and she seemed interested in a guy from a rival school. They danced together a lot and I had to hunt her up to take her home. They were on the back porch and it was pretty dark out there.

Last night my buddy told me she gave this guy her phone number. It figures because her line has been busy for two days. This morning she admitted it but said it was the only way she could get rid of him.. What do I do next?—CAP.

Dear Cap: You can believe her if you want to. I don't. A girl doesn't give her phone number to a fellow if she wants to get rid of him.

It's obvious she's interested in the boy, so get your ring back and tell her she's free to date him or anyone else who comes down the pike. And you do the same.

Confidentially

TO HARD PRESSED FOR CASH: You were not obligated to pay her $10 fine. After months of fruitless reminding, consider it a "gift" and remember her credit rating is NG.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Union Begins 21st Meeting

CLEVELAND (AP)—Some 2,000 delegates and visitors from the United States and Canada are here for the opening today of the 21st annual convention of the Communications Workers of America.

Union President Joseph A. Beirne said the convention—which continues through Friday—will consider a number of problems which "relate to the economy in which we live, the lives of all of us, the industry in which we work, the laws under which we exist, the welfare of our own organization."

Election of officers is scheduled Tuesday. Fifty-seven members of the union's collective bargaining policy committee also will be selected. This committee sets national goals and contract demands for the union negotiators.

Also up for consideration of the delegates, who represent 260,000 members in 746 locals, will be a report of the finance committee. It calls for a dues increase of 50 cents per month. CWA members now pay $1.50 a month as the international per capita and an additional 50 cents monthly into the union defense fund.

Now Sinus Sufferers Can Drain and Clear Nasal-Sinus Cavities With New "Hard-Core" Tablet

Just One Tablet Does the Job of 3 or 4 Ordinary Tablets!

Medical research specialists acknowledge that colds, allergies and weather changes cause pressure and pain in stuffed up nasal-sinus cavities. They know, too, that headaches, nasal drip, uncomfortable breathing and all the other sinus symptoms can be relieved by draining and clearing the nasal-sinus passages.

Now, a new tablet is available with an exclusive formula that acts instantly and continuously to drain and clear your nasal-sinus passages. One tablet, with its new "hard-core" process does the job of 3 or 4 ordinary tablets. The coated layer surrounding the "hard-core" dissolves first, placing its soothing medication in the blood canals, where it is instantly carried to the pained, pressure congested area. Congestive pressures are reduced almost immediately—and the exclusive "hard-core" process takes over. It dissolves the tablet slowly and continuously for periods of up to 8 hours, feeding soothing medication to formerly congested areas—and allows you to continue to breathe easily for extended periods of time.

This new tablet, called SYNA-CLEAR, is now available at BLOOR'S — without need for a prescription. It contains not one, but a combination of the same type medically proven decongestant ingredients doctors prescribe to help shrink swollen, irritated membranes and promote drainage of nasal-sinus cavities. Buy and use SYNA-CLEAR Decongestant Tablets with the absolute money-back guarantee that they will relieve pained, pressure congested sinus areas, or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Home Movie Jolts Overweight Into Action

In the movies, the story is often told through revealing flashbacks. This technique allows the viewer to see the past and the present. The writer of today's letter found this personal experience to be a real eye-opener.

Ida Jean Kain

"The other night, my husband and I were looking at home movies that were taken just five years ago. As picture after picture of a slim, trim me flashed into view, he exclaimed, 'Gee, you looked so much younger then, didn't you?'

"Well, that did it! I determined then and there to get busy and start to lose this load of fat that has somehow piled on and has made me look and feel years older.

—:—

"I ALWAYS enjoy your column, but now I'm writing to you in despair. I'm only 38 years old and I am 50 miserable pounds overweight. I want so much to reduce, but until now I haven't been able to diet for real.

"I'm 5 feet 7 and tip the scale at 200 pounds. Send me your diet post-haste. Also, I would appreciate any words of encouragement you can give me. God bless you."

Good! This picture of yourself that served as an eye-opener can now help you achieve your goal. Visualizing yourself at shapely weight on your mental screen will help to vividly impress this desire upon your inner being. Imagining helps to influence the subconscious will, thereby reaching the deep seat of habit reaction.

At night, prior to going to sleep, relax completely, letting go of all muscle tensions. The thin edge of sleep is the ideal time to give the subconscious mind the blueprint of the picture you desire to bring into reality.

Again on first awakening in the morning, flash that picture of yourself on the screen of your mind. Get your inner mind pulling for you and half the battle is won.

Practice running this mental force of imagination to reinforce your will. When you paint a picture in your mind's eye of the way you want to be, you become enthusiastic about achieving your goal.

The "Hunger Control Diet" will keep your body in a fine state of repair as you burn the excess pounds for part of your energy needs.

Stripped Of Fanfare

Steel Talks Now Become Test Of Economic Power

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel negotiators have 10 days left to reach a peaceful settlement on a new labor contract. There is little to spark hope that differences will be settled by the June 30 deadline.

Stripped of the fanfare and window dressing the negotiations once more have become a test of economic strength.

The steel industry has given many indications it believes it can outlast the United Steelworkers Union in a strike.

USW President David J. McDonald shows no sign of relenting in his quest for a substantial wage increase and other economic gains. Workers now earn an average of $3.03 an hour.

The steel industry appears adamant in its stand that this is the year to halt a wage-price spiral that began in 1937. Since then steelworkers have received 14 wage increases. Prices have been boosted 12 times.

For the first time in the history of the USW-steel industry negotiations, company executives show no reluctance about saying they expect a strike. They have been preparing openly for one for months.

Steel officials announced their proposal for a one-year freeze on wages even before negotiations opened in New York last May.

Customers have been alerted to the possibility of a strike and the industry has been operating at near capacity for months trying to build up customer inventories.

In 1956 when the present contract was signed after a 43-day steel strike both customer and government pressure weighed heavily on industry officials.

Reserve steel stocks should reduce customer pressure—at least for a time.

President Eisenhower and other government officials are on record as opposing any settlement that would necessitate a price increase. Steel executives feel this puts the government in their corner.

McDonald repeatedly has referred to the steel firms' attitude as the opening effort of big industry to weaken the American labor movement. Such talk has aroused more than normal interest among other union leaders, makes them more likely than ever to lend moral and money support to the steel union. Support has been promised the USW by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers and James R. Hoffa's Teamsters.

If the industry stands pat on its proposal the only escape from a strike would be for McDonald to make some concessions to permit the steel companies to effect savings and put the money in workers' pay envelopes. This would be a reversal of McDonald's past practices.

As of now the negotiations appear to be on dead center with each side waiting for the other to make a new move. That is the way long strikes develop.

Young Wife Tells Of Abduction And Assault In Park

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 16-year-old girl told police she was raped Sunday after being taken at gunpoint from her husband and 5-month-old baby.

The couple was walking home from Gordon Park, where they had been fishing, when the early-morning attack occurred.

Police said the assailant fired one bullet into the ground to frighten the couple, then dragged the short, blonde girl down an alley.

The young woman told police she was raped twice. Police took her to Mount Sinai Hospital, where it was determined she had been attacked sexually.

Police did not find the assailant, described as 6 feet tall, and about 150 pounds.

The husband, employed by a tree surgery concern here, told police he and his family came here about three months ago from Middletown.

Iowa Housewife Begins Reign As Mrs. America

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—A gracious Des Moines, Iowa, housewife, who couldn't believe she was chosen Mrs. America, strove today to get used to her new role in a busy year-long reign.

Margaret Priebe, 36, won the rivalry for No. 1 homemaker of the nation. She will spend much of her time traveling in that capacity while her husband, L. Clarke Priebe, and the couple's parents in Des Moines take care of the Priebes' four children.

"I know it's going to be a big job but I have a very cooperative husband and I'm sure it will work out," the 5-foot-8, black-haired former schoolteacher said.

Mrs. Priebe was crowned Saturday night by the outgoing Mrs. America, Helen Giesse of Cleveland, Ohio. Giesse said he was "happy to get my wife back."

Mrs. America will go to New York Thursday for television appearances. Her husband will leave Tuesday for Des Moines and their children, Margaret, 15, Gregory, 9, Douglas, 7, and Karen Jane, 3.

With Mrs. Priebe's title went a glittering array of prizes ranging from household utensils to clothing, a new kitchen, boat and outboard motor and an air tour to South America.

She said her husband will make the decisions on acceptance of these.

"He's really the boss," she said.

Wellsville Pastor Leaves To Serve Church In Florida

The Rev. George Marsteller, pastor of the Wellsville Evangelical United Brethren Church for the last two years, has been transferred to Clearwater, Fla., where he will serve an independent church.

The announcement was made last week at the Ohio East Conference of the denomination at Vermillion.

Rev. Marsteller will leave this week and is expected to take over his new assignment July 15. He also will attend Trinity College at Clearwater in order to receive a master's degree in Christian education.

Rev. Marsteller was succeeded by Arden Mercier of Cleveland who preached his first sermon Sunday. He is attending Geneva College for a bachelor of arts degree in Christian education. He was given his probationers license at the conference. The Wellsville church is his first assignment.

Gives Final Sermon

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Oscar Thomas Olson preached his farewell sermon at Epworth-Euclid Methodist Church Sunday, ending 50 years in the pulpit. Dr. Olson, who has reached the mandatory retirement age of 72, will become pastor emeritus at the church, which he served for 25 years.

State's Case Nears End In Klumpp Trial

CINCINNATI (AP)—The state today begins presentation of the final phases of the testimony by which it seeks to convict Edythe Klumpp of killing her lover's estranged wife.

The blonde, 41-year-old Mrs. Klumpp, a part time sewing teacher, is charged with first degree murder. It means a death sentence if she is convicted without a recommendation for mercy.

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover said he hopes to complete the state's case Tuesday. There could be rebuttal witnesses after the defense finishes, however.

Hover plans to call more technical witnesses today. He said he also wants to "wrap up some loose ends" of identification of exhibits which have been presented but not yet offered as evidence.

Those exhibits include a gasoline service station credit sales slip showing Mrs. Klumpp bought slightly more than 11 gallons of gasoline on Oct. 29.

That was the day before the state claims she shot and bludgeoned Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, to death. Mrs. Bergen's body was burned on Oct. 31 on the shore of Lake Cowan in nearby Clinton County. The defense has not denied Mrs. Klumpp burned the body but contends it was the act of a frightened woman.

The defense claim is that Mrs. Klumpp acted in self defense in the shooting and that Mrs. Bergen was killed as she and Mrs. Klumpp grappled for a gun in Mrs. Klumpp's car. The gun belonged to William Bergen, estranged husband of the slain woman. He had been living with Mrs. Klumpp for about five months.

The date of the purchase of the gasoline could be a key point in the state's claim of premediated murder. Defense attorney William F. Hopkins claims Mrs. Klumpp bought gasoline with which to burn the body the day after the slaying.

A filling station attendant already has testified he remembers filling the tank of Mrs. Klumpp's car during that week and selling her an extra can of gasoline but he said he could not remember the exact date.

If the state finishes Tuesday, it seems likely the jury of six men and six women might get the case early next week. The defense plans to call only about five witnesses but one of them is to be Mrs. Klumpp and her testimony on direct and cross-examination is expected to be lengthy.

Stripped Of Fanfare

Steel Talks Now Become Test Of Economic Power

By JOHN MOODY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steel negotiators have 10 days left to reach a peaceful settlement on a new labor contract. There is little to spark hope that differences will be settled by the June 30 deadline.

Stripped of the fanfare and window dressing the negotiations once more have become a test of economic strength.

The steel industry has given many indications it believes it can outlast the United Steelworkers Union in a strike.

USW President David J. McDonald shows no sign of relenting in his quest for a substantial wage increase and other economic gains. Workers now earn an average of $3.03 an hour.

The steel industry appears adamant in its stand that this is the year to halt a wage-price spiral that began in 1937. Since then steelworkers have received 14 wage increases. Prices have been boosted 12 times.

For the first time in the history of the USW-steel industry negotiations, company executives show no reluctance about saying they expect a strike. They have been preparing openly for one for months.

Steel officials announced their proposal for a one-year freeze on wages even before negotiations opened in New York last May.

Customers have been alerted to the possibility of a strike and the industry has been operating at near capacity for months trying to build up customer inventories.

In 1956 when the present contract was signed after a 43-day steel strike both customer and government pressure weighed heavily on industry officials.

Reserve steel stocks should reduce customer pressure—at least for a time.

President Eisenhower and other government officials are on record as opposing any settlement that would necessitate a price increase. Steel executives feel this puts the government in their corner.

McDonald repeatedly has referred to the steel firms' attitude as the opening effort of big industry to weaken the American labor movement. Such talk has aroused more than normal interest among other union leaders, makes them more likely than ever to lend moral and money support to the steel union. Support has been promised the USW by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers and James R. Hoffa's Teamsters.

If the industry stands pat on its proposal the only escape from a strike would be for McDonald to make some concessions to permit the steel companies to effect savings and put the money in workers' pay envelopes. This would be a reversal of McDonald's past practices.

As of now the negotiations appear to be on dead center with each side waiting for the other to make a new move. That is the way long strikes develop.

Official Raps Companies At Union Dinner

I. W. Abel of Pittsburgh, secretary-treasurer of the United Steelworkers of America, was the principal speaker Saturday night at a banquet in the Midland union hall which closed the 16th annual two-day conference of District 20 of the steelworkers.

Abel told 400 at the dinner that a steelworkers wage raise would be "no more inflationary than other events since the Pilgrims." He said the worker will "spend the money he gets, which helps those who have things to sell."

He said a wage increase is not as great as the steel companies indicate and the present $3-an-hour wage does not tell the story because no one works 40 hours a week 52 weeks a year. He said some 50,000 steelworkers have not worked an hour this year.

Abel compared an increase in profits of Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin of the first quarter last year with the same period this year. He said figures show a gain over last year, which was the fourth best year for steel despite the depression.

He said there is "no question of justice of the case and if negotiations are not settled at midnight June 30 the union must rely on the strength, militancy and determination of the steelworkers."

He also hit at a proposal last week by President Eisenhower to raise the interest on government bonds. Abel said such a raise would cost the worker money by higher payments on goods financed.

The credential committee reported 348 delegates attended the conference. They represented some 41,000 district workers and 41 union locals.

Joe D'Alesio, president of host local 1212, gave the welcoming address. Beaver County Judge Frank Reed also was a speaker. The Rev. L. S. Cass, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The auxiliary of the St. Anthony Club served the dinner.

In resolutions passed Saturday, the district unions voted to support the international wage policy committee during New York negotiations, sent a telegram praising McDonald for his service and asked supplemental unemployment benefits.

All resolutions submitted were passed. Others included support of the union label campaign for buying union-made products; the repeal of the entire Taft-Hartley Act; a need for a federal health program and need for construction of a Shippingport bridge. Another resolution asked that the Monaca-East Rochester bridge be made toll free during any repairs to the old Monaca-Rochester Bridge.

Saturday morning, Gov. David L. Lawrence spoke to delegates along with Rep. Frank Clark and other political representatives. Friday's sessions were highlighted with talks by Howard Hague, vice president, and John Grajcier, director of District 21. State Sen. John C. Miller also spoke and Burgess Eli Corak gave the welcoming address. David J. McDonald, union president, was unable to attend.

Majestic Awaits Rescue Or Who'll Buy Showboat?

A purveyor of make-believe to riverfront towns for 36 years, the old showboat Majestic is tied up at Point Pleasant, W. Va., while her owner, Capt. Thomas Jefferson Reynolds, waits for a purchaser who has about $40,000 to rescue her from a fate worse than death — destruction under the wrecker's hammer.

A familiar sight on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers and their tributaries since 1923, the showboat and the tug Attaboy have been out of service for two years. They were operated last by a group of Hiram College students who revived old-time melodrama for audiences sated by television.

The Majestic played often in East Liverpool, both in the old days when the Reynolds family comprised most of the cast and the crew and later when the high-spirited college group took over.

A group of Hiram alumni that helped man the Majestic's latter-day cruises has hopes of buying the showboat and reviving it as a private venture. The would - be purchasers are headed by David Hazelwood, a Cleveland public relations man who spent two seasons aboard the Majestic as a Hiram student, working as advertising man, musician and occasional actor.

With other former showboaters, he has obtained an Ohio charter for a non-profit corporation to "perpetuate the historic and entertainment values of showboating — America's one true gift to the world of entertainment."

He said the showboat and tug are being offered by Capt. Reynolds "for much less than their worth with the proviso that the purchasers will continue to operate on the rivers, playing old time melodrama and vaudeville."

Capt. Reynolds built the Majestic and Attaboy in Pittsburgh in 1923. The boat has a 12-inch draft and seats 425. The Majestic had many successful seasons, but the downgrade started shortly before World War II. During the war, it was tied up at Point Pleasant.

The showboat's repertory included such tear-jerkers as "10 Nights in a Bar Room," "Honest Hearts" and "Tris, or Beyond the Rockies."

"East Lynne" always was a standby, along with "Lena Rivers."

Official Raps Companies At Union Dinner

I. W. Abel of Pittsburgh, secretary-treasurer of the United Steelworkers of America, was the principal speaker Saturday night at a banquet in the Midland union hall which closed the 16th annual two-day conference of District 20 of the steelworkers.

Abel told 400 at the dinner that a steelworkers wage raise would be "no more inflationary than other events since the Pilgrims." He said the worker will "spend the money he gets, which helps those who have things to sell."

He said a wage increase is not as great as the steel companies indicate and the present $3-an-hour wage does not tell the story because no one works 40 hours a week 52 weeks a year. He said some 50,000 steelworkers have not worked an hour this year.

Abel compared an increase in profits of Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin of the first quarter last year with the same period this year. He said figures show a gain over last year, which was the fourth best year for steel despite the depression.

He said there is "no question of justice of the case and if negotiations are not settled at midnight June 30 the union must rely on the strength, militancy and determination of the steelworkers."

He also hit at a proposal last week by President Eisenhower to raise the interest on government bonds. Abel said such a raise would cost the worker money by higher payments on goods financed.

The credential committee reported 348 delegates attended the conference. They represented some 41,000 district workers and 41 union locals.

Joe D'Alesio, president of host local 1212, gave the welcoming address. Beaver County Judge Frank Reed also was a speaker. The Rev. L. S. Cass, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The auxiliary of the St. Anthony Club served the dinner.

In resolutions passed Saturday, the district unions voted to support the international wage policy committee during New York negotiations, sent a telegram praising McDonald for his service and asked supplemental unemployment benefits.

All resolutions submitted were passed. Others included support of the union label campaign for buying union-made products; the repeal of the entire Taft-Hartley Act; a need for a federal health program and need for construction of a Shippingport bridge. Another resolution asked that the Monaca-East Rochester bridge be made toll free during any repairs to the old Monaca-Rochester Bridge.

Saturday morning, Gov. David L. Lawrence spoke to delegates along with Rep. Frank Clark and other political representatives. Friday's sessions were highlighted with talks by Howard Hague, vice president, and John Grajcier, director of District 21. State Sen. John C. Miller also spoke and Burgess Eli Corak gave the welcoming address. David J. McDonald, union president, was unable to attend.

Kay Kluz, chairman, presided. Members of locals' negotiating teams left Sunday evening for negotiations which resumed today in New York.

It's Real Life Drama

Majestic Awaits Rescue Or Who'll Buy Showboat?

A purveyor of make-believe to riverfront towns for 36 years, the old showboat Majestic is tied up at Point Pleasant, W. Va., while her owner, Capt. Thomas Jefferson Reynolds, waits for a purchaser who has about $40,000 to rescue her from a fate worse than death — destruction under the wrecker's hammer.

A familiar sight on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers and their tributaries since 1923, the showboat and the tug Attaboy have been out of service for two years. They were operated last by a group of Hiram College students who revived old-time melodrama for audiences sated by television.

The Majestic played often in East Liverpool, both in the old days when the Reynolds family comprised most of the cast and the crew and later when the high-spirited college group took over.

A group of Hiram alumni that helped man the Majestic's latter-day cruises has hopes of buying the showboat and reviving it as a private venture. The would - be purchasers are headed by David Hazelwood, a Cleveland public relations man who spent two seasons aboard the Majestic as a Hiram student, working as advertising man, musician and occasional actor.

With other former showboaters, he has obtained an Ohio charter for a non-profit corporation to "perpetuate the historic and entertainment values of showboating — America's one true gift to the world of entertainment."

He said the showboat and tug are being offered by Capt. Reynolds "for much less than their worth with the proviso that the purchasers will continue to operate on the rivers, playing old time melodrama and vaudeville."

Capt. Reynolds built the Majestic and Attaboy in Pittsburgh in 1923. The boat has a 12-inch draft and seats 425. The Majestic had many successful seasons, but the downgrade started shortly before World War II. During the war, it was tied up at Point Pleasant.

The showboat's repertory included such tear-jerkers as "10 Nights in a Bar Room," "Honest Hearts" and "Tris, or Beyond the Rockies."

"East Lynne" always was a standby, along with "Lena Rivers."

Contracts Let On Purchases For Wellsville

The Wellsville Board of Control today awarded contracts for the purchase of a new police cruiser and for supplies of lime, alum, coal and gasoline. The bids were opened at noon Friday.

Wells Motors of Wellsville, a Ford dealer, won the contract for the new cruiser on a low total bid of $2,150. The bid was $2,725 less a $575 trade-in for a 1956 Plymouth cruiser.

Grafton Motors of Wellsville bid $2,953.35, less a trade-in of $693.35 for a total of $2,260. Central Service of East Liverpool bid $2,602.90 but did not offer a trade-in.

Bids on a cruiser were opened last month, but had to be rejected as not enough money had been appropriated for the purchase. Council had set up $1,800 in the appropriation ordinance for a cruiser and another $400 was appropriated after the first bids were opened.

The Quality Feed Co. of Wellsville was given a contract for providing about 500 tons of coal on its bid of $11 per ton for Pittsburgh coal and $8 for local coal. It was the lone bid.

The Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. of Baltimore, Md., was the low bidder for providing about 40 tons of activated alum at $46 per ton, FOB Wellsville. Opalco Laboratory, Inc., of McKeesport bid $49 per ton, FOB Wellsville.

Opalco was given the contract for supplying about 40 tons of chemical lime on its lone bid of $21.25 per ton, FOB Wellsville.

The contract for supplying 10,000 gallons of gasoline for city vehicles went to the West End Garage, 1829 Clark Ave., on its lone bid of 23 cents a gallon for regular and 26 cents a gallon for high test gasoline. The gasoline bid was up 2 cents per gallon because of the new state tax.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said prices all are the same as those received last year. The suppliers also are the same. The board is comprised of Robinson and Mayor William J. Shoub.

and Mrs. Edward Poplowski of N. 4th St., New Brighton. Third place was given to Linda Rae Scaia, 5, daughter of Mrs. Carol Williams of Alliance.

The "bathing beauty" show also attracted a record field—433 boys and girls attired in bathing suits, shorts and sun suits.

The prizes were the same as for the baby contest—a $50 Savings Bond for first, a $25 bond for second and $10 in Savings Stamps for third.

A gift was presented each of the other 430 children. There was a big baby doll for every girl and a "Capt. Gallant" outfit for each boy. The boys' gift outfitted them like their television hero. The boxed set included a toy gun, binoculars, belt, canteen, badge and swagger stick.

The youngsters paraded around the concrete dance floor in a huge circle while the nurses from Molly Stark picked out a field of 25 semi-finalists that later was narrowed down to the three winners. About 1,500 spectators watched from the sidelines.

The crowd hit its peak early. At least 20,000 had filed through the gates by 11 a. m., mainly to take advantage for a free ride period on all amusements that continued until 1 p. m.

The crowd took time out at noon to picnic in the shaded area overlooking the lake, then hurried to the dancing pavilion at 1:30 for the baby contest.

Immediately after the baby show, the picnic committee held the traditional penny scramble for youngsters in three age brackets—5 to 7, 8-10 and 11-12. The children scrambled for 2,500 pennies that were scattered on the polished maple dance floor. At least 150 competed in each age bracket.

There was free dancing in the ballroom from 2:30 to 4:30, with music by a Canton area orchestra.

Although children led the hectic activity throughout the day, dashing on and off the rides, none suffered any serious injury. A few were treated at the park's first aid booth for bruised knees and elbows suffered in falls. Youngsters who wandered away from their parents were located quickly by park police with the aid of a public address system.

The crowd remained heavy until late Saturday night. As the first arrivals headed home, they were replaced by others who arrived at the park late in the afternoon or early in the evening.

The picnic committee provided free coffee and cream throughout the day. It was dispensed into huge containers for picnic meals and handed out a cup at a time to the midway crowds.

Perfect Weather Boosts Turnout At Potters Picnic

For co-operation "above and beyond the call of duty," the Ohio weatherman may find himself presented with an honorary membership in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

For the umpteenth time, the weatherman provided a perfect day for the traditional Potters Picnic Saturday, helping attract a crowd of 35,000 that matched the previous record.

He provided a melange of ideal conditions for any summertime outing—a bright sun that made the bathers happy, along with cool breezes that made the tree-shaded midway comfortable. Most of the day, the mercury hovered in the high 70's and it did not pass 80 until late afternoon, the warmest part of the day.

The weatherman generally has favored the potters in the 31-year history of their picnic, although on a few occasions he rebelled and whipped up a combination of rain and chilly weather that put a damper on all activity.

The outing is a one-day affair for the crowd, but for the IBOP picnic committee it's the culmination of many weeks of hard work—topped off with about 18 hours of even more strenuous activity.

The committee was headed again by Albert Kenst of Local 42 at Salem, with Roy Masker of Local 4 in East Liverpool as secretary.

The other members are: James T. Slaven of Cannons Mills, IBOP vice-president, treasurer; Robert Vance of local 122 in Cambridge; Wallace Green of Local 51 at Canonsburg; Joseph Harp of Local 59 in Sebring; Bradford Townsend of Local 33 in Beaver Falls; Howard Houston of Local 133 at New Castle; Clarence Craig of Local 31 in East Palestine; Frank Allison of Local 124 in East Liverpool, and Harry L. Gill, manager of The Potters Herald, the official union newspaper.

The committeemen were up at dawn Saturday, ready to drive to the park to check on all the last-minute preparations before the crowd started to arrive. They worked throughout the day, keeping all the special events running smoothly, and then stayed long after the crowd had gone home to rehash the activities and talk over plans for next year's outing.

When it came to work, Robert V. Howard, the park manager, pitched in along with the committee. Instead of running the resort from his swivel chair in an air-conditioned office, he put on a pair of old slacks and a T-shirt and helped with all the chores. He helped unload and unpack nearly 500 prizes that were distributed to youngsters in a "junior bathing beauty contest," working harder than any of his hired help.

The potters lived up to their reputation as some of the world's heaviest coffee-drinkers. All day long, the committee kept huge vats of coffee brewing at a midway booth, ready to hand it out by the gallon or the cup.

When it was all over, the committee figured that it had brewed and dispensed about 1,200 gallons of coffee.

Prominent in the midway crowd was E. L. Wheatley, international president of the union. He greeted old friends from ceramic centers all over the U. S. where he worked as a kilnman before becoming a member of the IBOP executive board.

The potter's outing always brings out the latest in weird headgear and Saturday was no exception.

Women, full of picnic spirit, walked along the midway wearing tiny plastic hats not much larger than a teacup. On the other hand, tiny youngsters sported huge straw 10-gallon hats that covered their heads like umbrellas. Teen-age girls, first with the latest, wore the California-style straw hats with a turned down brim that extends below the wearer's nose. Built into the rim is a pair of sunglasses.

Best way to tell whether pork chops are cooked: make a small slit in the meat near the bone. The meat should look gray-white; if it looks pink, the chops need to cook some more.

Contracts Let On Purchases For Wellsville

The Wellsville Board of Control today awarded contracts for the purchase of a new police cruiser and for supplies of lime, alum, coal and gasoline. The bids were opened at noon Friday.

Wells Motors of Wellsville, a Ford dealer, won the contract for the new cruiser on a low total bid of $2.150. The bid was $2.725 less a $575 trade-in for a 1956 Plymouth cruiser.

Grafton Motors of Wellsville bid $2,953.35, less a trade-in of $693.35 for a total of $2,260. Central Service of East Liverpool bid $2,602.90 but did not offer a trade-in.

Bids on a cruiser were opened last month, but had to be rejected as not enough money had been appropriated for the purchase. Council had set up $1,800 in the appropriation ordinance for a cruiser and another $400 was appropriated after the first bids were opened.

The Quality Feed Co. of Wellsville was given a contract for providing about 500 tons of coal on its bid of $11 per ton for Pittsburgh coal and $8 for local coal. It was the lone bid.

The Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. of Baltimore, Md., was the low bidder for providing about 40 tons of activated alum at $46 per ton, FOB Wellsville. Opalco Laboratory, Inc., of McKeesport bid $49 per ton, FOB Wellsville.

Opalco was given the contract for supplying about 40 tons of chemical lime on its lone bid of $21.25 per ton, FOB Wellsville.

The contract for supplying 10,000 gallons of gasoline for city vehicles went to the West End Garage, 1829 Clark Ave., on its lone bid of 23 cents a gallon for regular and 26 cents a gallon for high test gasoline. The gasoline bid was up 2 cents per gallon because of the new state tax.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said prices all are the same as those received last year. The suppliers also are the same. The board is comprised of Robinson and Mayor William J. Shoub.

PRIZE-WINNERS IN PICNIC BABY SHOW. These 13 youngsters, pictured with their proud mothers, won prizes in three age brackets at the baby show at the Potters Picnic Saturday. In the front row, from left in the order they placed, are winners in the 2-3 age group: Karen Sue Bellomy, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bellomy of Lisbon R. D. 3; Thomas J. Simcox, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simcox of Calcutta, and Curtis and Douglas Strauss, 2½-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauss of Massillon. In the middle row are the three winners in the 1-2 group: Cheryl Lee Shaw, 19 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Shaw, 942 Railroad St.; Linda Ann Wilkinson, 1, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Wilkinson of New Cumberland R. D. 2, and Steven Timothy Shelton, 19 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Shelton of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor. In the rear row are winners in the group up to 1: Kevin Lee Cartwright, 8 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cartwright, 1170 Mick Rd., Wellsville; Theresa Lockhart, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lockhart, 1827 Dakota Ave., and Rose Marie Riddle, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Riddle of New Cumberland R. D. 2. The bottom photo shows some of the huge crowd of entrants that participated in the "junior bathing beauty" contest for children 4-7 in the outdoor dancing pavilion. and Mrs. Edward Poplowski of N. 4th St., New Brighton. Third place was given to Linda Rae Scaia, 5, daughter of Mrs. Carol Williams of Alliance.

The "bathing beauty" show also attracted a record field—433 boys and girls attired in bathing suits, shorts and sun suits.

The prizes were the same as for the baby contest—a $50 Savings Bond for first, a $25 bond for second and $10 in Savings Stamps for third.

A gift was presented each of the other 430 children. There was a big baby doll for every girl and a "Capt. Gallant" outfit for each boy. The boys' gift outfitted them like their television hero. The boxed set included a toy gun, binoculars, belt, canteen, badge and swagger stick.

The youngsters paraded around the concrete dance floor in a huge circle while the nurses from Molly Stark picked out a field of 25 semi-finalists that later was narrowed down to the three winners. About 1,500 spectators watched from the sidelines.

The crowd hit its peak early. At least 20,000 had filed through the gates by 11 a. m., mainly to take advantage for a free ride period on all amusements that continued until 1 p. m.

The crowd took time out at noon to picnic in the shaded area overlooking the lake, then hurried to the dancing pavilion at 1:30 for the baby contest.

Immediately after the baby show, the picnic committee held the traditional penny scramble for youngsters in three age brackets—5 to 7, 8-10 and 11-12. The children scrambled for 2,500 pennies that were scattered on the polished maple dance floor. At least 150 competed in each age bracket.

'Matter Of Comfort,' Experts Say

CLEVELAND — Experts who spend their time seeking to improve the indoor climate of 176 million Americans today came to the defense of the U. S. Weather Bureau whose primary concern is outdoor climate.

Basing their opinion on more than 40 years of active inquiry on how to comfortably cool and heat the American home, the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association hailed the Weather Bureau for making the discomfort index available to the nation.

"Creating public awareness of the relationship between temperature and humidity and how it affects human comfort, living and working conditions is the real objective of the Weather Bureau's discomfort index," declared Herbert T. Gilkey, technical director of the nation's largest trade group specializing in investigations and research into the problems of indoor comfort.

GILKEY explained that the Weather Bureau's discomfort index is not a new concept.

"The relationship between temperature and humidity has been under general discussion by scientists and engineers for many years," he said.

"But, daily announcement of the discomfort index has made more Americans aware of the comfort problem and what can be done than any other happening in 50 years.

"It is an inherent right of the people to know what is happening in their climate and having it related to a simple index that can be readily understood."

"However," Gilkey pointed out, "what the Weather Bureau is doing only relates to the outdoors and doesn't really reach the core of the problems, which is the indoor comfort in our homes, stores and places of work.

"A given discomfort index, based on readings at the local airport does not tell the entire story or reveal how uncomfortable and muggy the conditions are within a house or building.

"Actually, the degree of discomfort may well be much higher within the confines of a structure than it will be outdoors and in the shade with a breeze stirring the air slightly.

"In fact, this may be true even though it is quite possible that the discomfort index may be lower within the house than outdoors," Gilkey said.

GILKEY explains the situation where the index might be lower in the house than outdoors and yet people will feel a great deal more uncomfortable in the living room than in the back yard, this way:

"The living room temperature may be somewhat lower, at least during the heat of the day, than the temperature in the back yard. The chances are pretty good, however, that the humidity will be about the same indoors and outdoors.

"But," Gilkey continued, "unless the house is air conditioned, we have little or no air movement indoors. Thus, the film next to our skin makes us feel like we're living in a stagnant pool, literally bathed in our own perspiration. Outdoors, the air motion removes this perspiration and gives relief."

House-wide summer air conditioning by means of a central ducted air system is now within the pocketbook range of most American home owners, according to the association which has been conducting residential air conditioning research at the University of Illinois for the last 41 years.

Gilkey amplified his explanation by stating that the discomfort index — temperature and humidity — can be measured at several locations at the same time and each will provide a vastly different reading. They are:

Outside — as is measured and reported by the Weather Bureau.

Indoors — as is found in the home, office or factory.

Immediate proximity of the human body — within a fraction of an inch of the human body.

"However, while not measurable by thermometers or humidity recorders, the mental or physchological attitudes of people toward conditions of discomfort play an important part in the problem. These attitudes can vary both as to individuals and locations of individuals. Some individuals can endure conditions which may be most uncomfortable for other people," Gilkey pointed out.

ON THE other hand, an individual's comfort experience may differ according to different locales, even if the same temperature and humidity conditions were the same in each place.

"For instance," says Gilkey, "when we are outdoors in the summertime we are either active or just plain enjoying being out of doors. Hence, we are either unaware of being uncomfortable or we are adopting a consciously positive attitude toward the prevailing temperature - humidity conditions.

"When we are in the house, on the other hand, we are usually sitting, sweltering and fretting about how uncomfortable we are."

Gilkey suggests that to make practical use of the Weather Bureau's discomfort index a person might add from three to five points of discomfort for indoor conditions.

In other words, if the discomfort index is reported as high for out - of - doors you can be pretty positive that the indoor conditions are seriously uncomfortable, unless, of course, your house is equipped with a summer air conditioning system.

Actress Weds Again

MONTAUK, N. Y. (AP) — Danish actress Greta Thyssen, 27, and actor George R. Starr, 26, were married Sunday. It was her third marriage and his second.

White Proposes That Heart Fund Stay Independent

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White has advised the American Heart Assn. not to merge its independent fund drive with United Fund or Community Chest drives.

White is the Boston heart specialist who attended President Eisenhower when he suffered a heart attack in 1955. He is a founder and past president of the American Heart Assn.

Heart disease, he said Sunday in a statement, is "too serious a problem to hide in a segment of a united fund."

Social Security Change To Cover Some Parents

Dependent aged parents of a deceased son or daughter now may receive Social Security payments even though the deceased was survived by a widow, widower, or child, according to William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District Social Security office.

The additional benefits are possible as the result of recent amendments in the law, he said. Before a dependent mother at age 62 or dependent father, 65, can receive benefits they must file proof of dependency with the Social Security office. Generally, this proof must be filed within two years after August 1958, when the law was amended, or within two years after the death of the son or daughter, whichever is later.

McCauley said his staff will discuss this or any provision of the law at the office, 123 W. Commerce St., Youngstown, or by letter or telephone.

George Parfrement, the noted French jockey of yesteryear, exhibited his skill and durability when he won two hurdle races and two steeplechases all in one day—January 3, 1908, in Marseilles.

Shutters Add Home Glamor

CHICAGO — The appearance of many homes is improved by the addition of decorative shutters. These may be built in the home workshop with the assurance that the cost is low and the appearance is architecturally correct.

To obtain the correct proportionate size, measure the windows as you would for screens. Use the height and half the width of this size for each shutter.

Saw the framework from seasoned 1-by-2-inch lumber and nail the pieces together. Now lay the frame on a panel of Masonite three-sixteenths-inch tempered hardboard. Trace the outline on the hardboard and cut it to size.

Then fasten the frame to the panel with three-quarter inch nails and waterproof glue.

Instead of the smooth-surfaced hardboard, many home owners like one with a pattern such as vertical grooves or striations. Like the smooth-surfaced hardboard, these decorative panels are available at lumber yards at a few cents more per square foot.

If an ornament is desired, make a cardboard pattern of a squirrel, deer, ship or other object. Trace the outlines on another piece of Masonite.

Saw out the figures with a scroll saw, paint a contrasting color and fasten them to the shutters with waterproof glue after the shutters are painted. Their position should be just above the center of the shutters.

Give both sides of the shutters a coat of primer and two coats of good quality outdoor paint. Fasten the shutters to the house with brass screws.

45 Escape Unhurt When British Jet Hits Steel Barrier

NEW YORK (AP) — A British jet airliner with 45 persons aboard clipped the top of a steel barrier during a landing Sunday. No one was injured.

The barrier at the beginning of the 10,000-foot-long runway at Idlewild Airport is 10 feet tall, and is designed to prevent rubbish from being blown onto a highway by the prop wash of landing airplanes.

The nose wheel and landing flaps of the Comet IV jet were badly damaged.

Man Jumps To Safety With Daughter In Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — A father jumped from the attic window of his burning house Sunday with his one-year-old daughter in his arms.

He landed 15 feet below on the roof of a one-story extension. Then he dropped the child to a man among the spectators below. The father jumped and landed safely on a grassy spot.

Robert Reynolds, 31, and his daughter Barbara were treated for burns, but were otherwise uninjured.

Half Million Awarded For Air Crash Deaths

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Damages of nearly a half million dollars have been awarded for the deaths of three automobile executives in the collision of two airliners over the Grand Canyon in 1956.

A federal court jury fixed the amounts Saturday, awarding $142,200 to the estate of Carl J. Snyder, a Chrysler Corp. vice president; $147,300 to the widow of Donald F. Kehl, and $160,500 to the widow of Theodore M. Kubiniec.

Kehl and Kubiniec were attorneys for Ford Motor Co.

Three Plans Offered For Dry Cellars

CHICAGO — Home owners can avoid bailing out their basements after the next heavy downpour with an adequate floodproofing installation.

The most common cause of basement flooding is heavy rainfall forcing water to back up through the drains.

Since raw sewage is sometimes carried with the water, the home owner is faced with an additional health hazard, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau points out.

The three most widely used methods of preventing flooded basements are:

1.—The automatic electric sump pump or cellar drainer which keeps rain water from reaching the floor level of the basement.

2.—The automatic back - water valve which closes when the sewer backs up.

3.—The overhead sewer which carries waste from laundry drains and other water connections from the house at a higher level than the basement.

It is important to remember, the bureau says, that each of these devices is designed to serve a special situation. What will work in one house will not necessarily work in another because the conditions may be different.

Home owners with basement drainage problems are advised to consult with an experienced plumbing contractor who will make a survey of the premises and then make his recommendation for the system that can be depended upon to keep the basement dry.

Drought Ends At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's drought ended today when this area got its first good rain since June 1. That was the day a deluge hit the city, bringing floods that caused millions of dollars in damage.

The Weather Bureau at Cleveland Hopkins Airport said the rain was in a belt about 20 miles wide near the shores of Lake Erie. The airport station on the southern edge of the belt, recorded nearly ½ inch of rain in four hours, but there was considerably more rain close to the lake.

Since June 1 only traces of rainfall were reported on the 12th, 13th and 15th.

A ban on lawn sprinkling had been ordered between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. in Eastlake and Wickliffe Saturday because of low pressure.

In Westlake, Herbert D. Tidik, owner of a four-story apartment house, said there was no water at the building for three hours Sunday night.

Coshocton Entry Will Wear Crown Of Miss 'Clayland'

DENNISON, Ohio (AP)—Susan Fox, a tall, dark-eyed miss from Coshocton, has been named Miss Clayland and will compete in the Miss Ohio pageant Aug. 6-7 at Mansfield.

Miss Fox won the title here Saturday night, competing against 11 other girls from southeastern Ohio.

She was tied with Sharon Allen, society editor of the Steubenville Herald-Star on the first vote, and the judges had to vote again to break the tie.

Miss Allen, 21-year-old honey blonde, was named first alternate. Patricia Rae Quillen, 17, of Uhrichsville was chosen second alternate.

'Matter Of Comfort,' Experts Say

CLEVELAND — Experts who spend their time seeking to improve the indoor climate of 176 million Americans today came to the defense of the U. S. Weather Bureau whose primary concern is outdoor climate.

Basing their opinion on more than 40 years of active inquiry on how to comfortably cool and heat the American home, the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association hailed the Weather Bureau for making the discomfort index available to the nation.

"Creating public awareness of the relationship between temperature and humidity and how it affects human comfort, living and working conditions is the real objective of the Weather Bureau's discomfort index," declared Herbert T. Gilkey, technical director of the nation's largest trade group specializing in investigations and research into the problems of indoor comfort.

GILKEY explained that the Weather Bureau's discomfort index is not a new concept.

"The relationship between temperature and humidity has been under general discussion by scientists and engineers for many years," he said.

"But, daily announcement of the discomfort index has made more Americans aware of the comfort problem and what can be done than any other happening in 50 years.

"It is an inherent right of the people to know what is happening in their climate and having it related to a simple index that can be readily understood."

"However," Gilkey pointed out, "what the Weather Bureau is doing only relates to the outdoors and doesn't really reach the core of the problems, which is the indoor comfort in our homes, stores and places of work.

"A given discomfort index, based on readings at the local airport does not tell the entire story or reveal how uncomfortable and muggy the conditions are within a house or building.

"Actually, the degree of discomfort may well be much higher within the confines of a structure than it will be outdoors and in the shade with a breeze stirring the air slightly.

"In fact, this may be true even though it is quite possible that the discomfort index may be lower within the house than outdoors," Gilkey said.

GILKEY explains the situation where the index might be lower in the house than outdoors and yet people will feel a great deal more uncomfortable in the living room than in the back yard, this way:

"The living room temperature may be somewhat lower, at least during the heat of the day, than the temperature in the back yard. The chances are pretty good, however, that the humidity will be about the same indoors and outdoors.

"But," Gilkey continued, "unless the house is air conditioned, we have little or no air movement indoors. Thus, the film next to our skin makes us feel like we're living in a stagnant pool, literally bathed in our own perspiration. Outdoors, the air motion removes this perspiration and gives relief."

House-wide summer air conditioning by means of a central ducted air system is now within the pocketbook range of most American home owners, according to the association which has been conducting residential air conditioning research at the University of Illinois for the last 41 years.

Gilkey amplified his explanation by stating that the discomfort index — temperature and humidity — can be measured at several locations at the same time and each will provide a vastly different reading. They are:

Outside — as is measured and reported by the Weather Bureau.

Indoors — as is found in the home, office or factory.

Immediate proximity of the human body — within a fraction of an inch of the human body.

"However, while not measurable by thermometers or humidity recorders, the mental or physchological attitudes of people toward conditions of discomfort play an important part in the problem. These attitudes can vary both as to individuals and locations of individuals. Some individuals can endure conditions which may be most uncomfortable for other people," Gilkey pointed out.

ON THE other hand, an individual's comfort experience may differ according to different locales, even if the same temperature and humidity conditions were the same in each place.

"For instance," says Gilkey, "when we are outdoors in the summertime we are either active or just plain enjoying being out of doors. Hence, we are either unaware of being uncomfortable or we are adopting a consciously positive attitude toward the prevailing temperature - humidity conditions.

"When we are in the house, on the other hand, we are usually sitting, sweltering and fretting about how uncomfortable we are."

Gilkey suggests that to make practical use of the Weather Bureau's discomfort index a person might add from three to five points of discomfort for indoor conditions.

In other words, if the discomfort index is reported as high for out - of - doors you can be pretty positive that the indoor conditions are seriously uncomfortable, unless, of course, your house is equipped with a summer air conditioning system.

White Proposes That Heart Fund Stay Independent

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White has advised the American Heart Assn. not to merge its independent fund drive with United Fund or Community Chest drives.

White is the Boston heart specialist who attended President Eisenhower when he suffered a heart attack in 1955. He is a founder and past president of the American Heart Assn.

Heart disease, he said Sunday in a statement, is "too serious a problem to hide in a segment of a united fund."

Social Security Change To Cover Some Parents

Dependent aged parents of a deceased son or daughter now may receive Social Security payments even though the deceased was survived by a widow, widower, or child, according to William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown District Social Security office.

The additional benefits are possible as the result of recent amendments in the law, he said. Before a dependent mother at age 62 or dependent father, 65, can receive benefits they must file proof of dependency with the Social Security office. Generally, this proof must be filed within two years after August 1958, when the law was amended, or within two years after the death of the son or daughter, whichever is later.

McCauley said his staff will discuss this or any provision of the law at the office, 123 W. Commerce St., Youngstown, or by letter or telephone.

George Parfrement, the noted French jockey of yesteryear, exhibited his skill and durability when he won two hurdle races and two steeplechases all in one day—January 3, 1908, in Marseilles.

Shutters Add Home Glamor

CHICAGO — The appearance of many homes is improved by the addition of decorative shutters. These may be built in the home workshop with the assurance that the cost is low and the appearance is architecturally correct.

To obtain the correct proportionate size, measure the windows as you would for screens. Use the height and half the width of this size for each shutter.

Saw the framework from seasoned 1-by-2-inch lumber and nail the pieces together. Now lay the frame on a panel of Masonite three-sixteenths-inch tempered hardboard. Trace the outline on the hardboard and cut it to size.

Then fasten the frame to the panel with three-quarter inch nails and waterproof glue.

Instead of the smooth-surfaced hardboard, many home owners like one with a pattern such as vertical grooves or striations. Like the smooth-surfaced hardboard, these decorative panels are available at lumber yards at a few cents more per square foot.

If an ornament is desired, make a cardboard pattern of a squirrel, deer, ship or other object. Trace the outlines on another piece of Masonite.

Swimming Pool Need Painting?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

We never thought we'd see the day when we'd be writing about on the painting of swimming pools.

In the first place, there weren't enough persons owning swimming pools a few years ago to make it worthwhile.

In the second place, anybody who owned a swimming pool in those days was hardly the type who would do his own painting.

But today swimming pools are owned by the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, all anxious to enjoy the advantages of backyard recreation.

There are pools made of concrete, of masonry blocks, of steel, of aluminum, of fiber glass and of vinyl, with new combinations of materials hitting the market almost every week. One of the latest uses specially treated wooden sides, which are covered with a plastic lining.

OBVIOUSLY, some of these materials require less maintenance than others. But painting makes most pools more attractive, keeps concrete from chipping and metal from corroding and gives a smooth surface that is easier to keep clean and sanitary.

Paints for concrete must be resistant to the alkali that attacks ordinary paints and must be able to resist the chemicals used to purify the water.

There is a special type of paint formulated to meet these problems. It is known, quite naturally, as swimming pool paint. It covers about 200 square feet per gallon. Since this paint dries rapidly, it is important to follow the directions on the label very carefully.

Portland cement water paints also are used for pools but have a tendency to chalk as they age. And it is difficult to repaint unless the chalk is removed.

A combination latex - cement-water paint has been developed to meet this objection. There is also a vinyl solution paint that gives excellent service but it must be applied by experts to give a completely satisfactory result.

STEEL swimming pools must be given a first coat of marine anti-corrosive primer. This is followed by a topcoat designed for marine use that will withstand continuous immersion. Solvent-thinned rubber resin paints also are recommended.

Proper preparation of the surface is, of course, essential for a good result. A concrete pool that has never been painted should be scrubbed to remove oil, dirt, algae and other foreign materials.

Use a stiff bristled brush and any household detergent, then hose the pool thoroughly. If what appears to be dirt does not wash off, it may be that a mold is present. Destroy it with a household bleach and again hose down completely.

Another recommended operation is previously unpainted pools is to etch the concrete with an acid wash to provide a roughened surface that will give a good mechanical bond. Muriatic acid in a 10 per cent solution will do the job, but goggles, rubber boots and gloves are necessary.

Old painted surfaces should be scrubbed. But where the old paint is in poor condition, chalking and peeling, it should be removed by sand blasting, usually a professional job.

In the case of a steel pool, all rust should be removed when the sand blasting is done. The pool should be primed immediately with the marine anticorrosive primer previously mentioned.

The method of applying the paint depends on the smoothness of the surface. For a concrete pool that is not extremely smooth, a spray or brush will do a better job than a roller, but a roller will lay down a heavier coat of paint faster. A spray will penetrate pits and holes in the surface.

It's a good idea to use a skid-resistant paint on walkways and around the pool to reduce the likelihood of falls.

An Historic Fence

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — When Victor Rahner decided to build a fence in his back yard, he had some unusual material to work with, including a piece of coffin dating back to 1574.

The idea of a historic fence came to Rahner when work started on widening a street near his home.

Rahner, who had collected historic objects for years, joined others in hunting souvenirs uncovered when the dredge started pumping sand from the bay front.

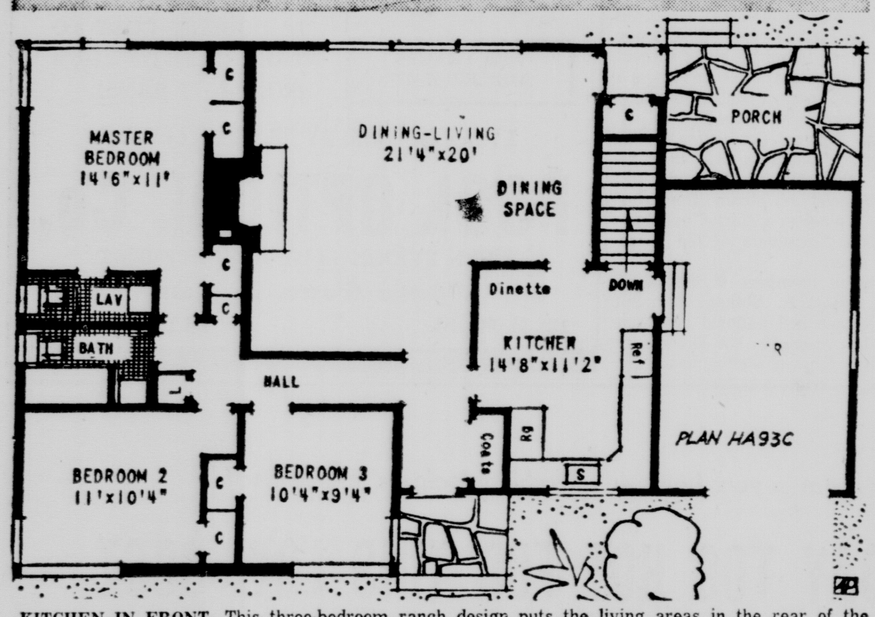
He found such souvenirs as pottery, broken bottles, ammunition pellets and parts of old ships.

"I collected a number of objects and friends gave me quite a few," he says. "I had planned to build a fence in the back yard for several years so I got the idea of embedding these historic objects in the fence."

To keep everything on a historic plane, Rahner hired Louis Solana to put the fence together. Solana is a descendant of the oldest documented family in the continental United States as well as a brick mason.

The fence was built primarily of brick and coquina rock, much of it used in early construction in this city. The chunks of coquina came from the old governor's palace, a fort, city library, old city gates, oldest house and other historic buildings while renovations were being made.

The prized item is a piece of the coffin of Pedro Menendez de Aviles, who founded this city in 1565 and died in 1574.



KITCHEN IN FRONT. This three-bedroom ranch design puts the living areas in the rear of the house for improved privacy. The plan covers 1,310 square feet and is HA93C, by Architect Lester Cohen, Rm. 75, 117 West 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove a glass stopper without breaking it?

A. Take a turn or two around the neck of the bottle with a strong string, and while someone holds the bottle, work the string by sawing it back and forth. This expands the neck of the bottle by heat caused through friction, and the stopper can then be easily removed.

Q. How can I keep cracker crumbs from absorbing grease?

A. Remember never to use cracker crumbs when covering food for frying. They will absorb the grease, which bread crumbs will not do.

Q. How can I remove paint spots from glass surfaces?

A. Try using a little vinegar.

Proper Color For Home Tied To Its Personality

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many letters to this column ask advice about decorating the outside of a home.

Typical is this query from Columbus, Ohio.

"My husband is going to paint our house on his vacation. It is surrounded by wooded areas, with other homes further down the road. We have a two-story frame house with a garage 10 feet away. One wants to paint the bottom charcoal gray, with a pink top, or imitation stone bottom and pink top, the other prefers a solid color. We have a lot of shade on both sides of the house and across the road. I thought something bright and cheerful that can be spotted and noticed coming down the road off the main highway might be nice. What is a beautiful combination for a two - story home?"

—:—

THE MATTER of exterior paint color depends to a large degree on (1) the preference of the occupants, (2) other houses in the vicinity, and (3) the location of the house.

If two people can agree on a color that does not clash with neighborhood homes, and the color is not garrish, then why not choose the color they like: There should be no rules binding them to colors that they do not like.

There are certain observations that shouldn't be overlooked in evaluating color schemes, however.

A green house might not be flattering when a house is surrounded by shrubbery unless one was interested in camouflaging it. A house that is one color on top and another color on bottom might look as if it were chopped in half.

A solid color house will make a house look larger. A white house will have that effect also, providing the shape is rambling.

IT WOULD be fun to have a cheerful color, and that will always appeal to women.

I think yellow with white trim makes a beautiful, sunny approach to a home. If I had a home, however, that was very tiny, more on the cozy side, I would paint it white with greenish - black trim. The door could be dark barn red or black.

A pink house is a charming idea, but these require painting more often than other colors and have a tendency to fade. Ditto blue.

A charcoal gray house with white trim is another possibility, and these are very chic when the house is all on one level. Colonial style architecture comes off best when the house is in the traditional white with dark shutters (if there are shutters) and shiny brass door knockers and knobs.

Freed—At Last

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jack Alley, 3, got his leg caught between two tree limbs. Neighborhood women tried pulling, then greased the youngster's leg in an attempt to free it. Finally, Police Lt. Jonnie Henry arrived, put an automobile jack between the tree limbs and freed the lad.

Swimming Pool Need Painting?

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

We never thought we'd see the day when we'd be writing about on the painting of swimming pools.

In the first place, there weren't enough persons owning swimming pools a few years ago to make it worthwhile.

In the second place, anybody who owned a swimming pool in those days was hardly the type who would do his own painting.

But today swimming pools are owned by the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, all anxious to enjoy the advantages of backyard recreation.

There are pools made of concrete, of masonry blocks, of steel, of aluminum, of fiber glass and of vinyl, with new combinations of materials hitting the market almost every week. One of the latest uses specially treated wooden sides, which are covered with a plastic lining.

—:—

OBVIOUSLY, some of these materials require less maintenance than others. But painting makes most pools more attractive, keeps concrete from chipping and metal from corroding and gives a smooth surface that is easier to keep clean and sanitary.

Paints for concrete must be resistant to the alkali that attacks ordinary paints and must be able to resist the chemicals used to purify the water.

There is a special type of paint formulated to meet these problems. It is known, quite naturally, as swimming pool paint. It covers about 200 square feet per gallon. Since this paint dries rapidly, it is important to follow the directions on the label very carefully.

Portland cement water paints also are used for pools but have a tendency to chalk as they age. And it is difficult to repaint unless the chalk is removed.

A combination latex - cement-water paint has been developed to meet this objection. There is also a vinyl solution paint that gives excellent service but it must be applied by experts to give a completely satisfactory result.

STEEL swimming pools must be given a first coat of marine anti-corrosive primer. This is followed by a topcoat designed for marine use that will withstand continuous immersion. Solvent-thinned rubber resin paints also are recommended.

Proper preparation of the surface is, of course, essential for a good result. A concrete pool that has never been painted should be scrubbed to remove oil, dirt, algae and other foreign materials.

Use a stiff bristled brush and any household detergent, then hose the pool thoroughly. If what appears to be dirt does not wash off, it may be that a mold is present. Destroy it with a household bleach and again hose down completely.

Another recommended operation is previously unpainted pools is to etch the concrete with an acid wash to provide a roughened surface that will give a good mechanical bond. Muriatic acid in a 10 per cent solution will do the job, but goggles, rubber boots and gloves are necessary.

Old painted surfaces should be scrubbed. But where the old paint is in poor condition, chalking and peeling, it should be removed by sand blasting, usually a professional job.

In the case of a steel pool, all rust should be removed when the sand blasting is done. The pool should be primed immediately with the marine anticorrosive primer previously mentioned.

The method of applying the paint depends on the smoothness of the surface. For a concrete pool that is not extremely smooth, a spray or brush will do a better job than a roller, but a roller will lay down a heavier coat of paint faster. A spray will penetrate pits and holes in the surface.

It's a good idea to use a skid-resistant paint on walkways and around the pool to reduce the likelihood of falls.

An Historic Fence

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — When Victor Rahner decided to build a fence in his back yard, he had some unusual material to work with, including a piece of coffin dating back to 1574.

The idea of a historic fence came to Rahner when work started on widening a street near his home.

Rahner, who had collected historic objects for years, joined others in hunting souvenirs uncovered when the dredge started pumping sand from the bay front.

He found such souvenirs as pottery, broken bottles, ammunition pellets and parts of old ships.

"I collected a number of objects and friends gave me quite a few," he says. "I had planned to build a fence in the back yard for several years so I got the idea of embedding these historic objects in the fence."

To keep everything on a historic plane, Rahner hired Louis Solana to put the fence together. Solana is a descendant of the oldest documented family in the continental United States as well as a brick mason.

The fence was built primarily of brick and coquina rock, much of it used in early construction in this city. The chunks of coquina came from the old governor's palace, a fort, city library, old city gates, oldest house and other historic buildings while renovations were being made.

The prized item is a piece of the coffin of Pedro Menendez de Aviles, who founded this city in 1565 and died in 1574.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove a glass stopper without breaking it?

A. Take a turn or two around the neck of the bottle with a strong string, and while someone holds the bottle, work the string by sawing it back and forth. This expands the neck of the bottle by heat caused through friction, and the stopper can then be easily removed.

Q. How can I keep cracker crumbs from absorbing grease?

A. Remember never to use cracker crumbs when covering food for frying. They will absorb the grease, which bread crumbs will not do.

Q. How can I remove paint spots from glass surfaces?

A. Try using a little vinegar.

Proper Color For Home Tied To Its Personality

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Many letters to this column ask advice about decorating the outside of a home.

Typical is this query from Columbus, Ohio.

"My husband is going to paint our house on his vacation. It is surrounded by wooded areas, with other homes further down the road. We have a two-story frame house with a garage 10 feet away. One wants to paint the bottom charcoal gray, with a pink top, or imitation stone bottom and pink top, the other prefers a solid color. We have a lot of shade on both sides of the house and across the road. I thought something bright and cheerful that can be spotted and noticed coming down the road off the main highway might be nice. What is a beautiful combination for a two - story home?"

—:—

THE MATTER of exterior paint color depends to a large degree on (1) the preference of the occupants, (2) other houses in the vicinity, and (3) the location of the house.

If two people can agree on a color that does not clash with neighborhood homes, and the color is not garrish, then why not choose the color they like: There should be no rules binding them to colors that they do not like.

There are certain observations that shouldn't be overlooked in evaluating color schemes, however.

A green house might not be flattering when a house is surrounded by shrubbery unless one was interested in camouflaging it. A house that is one color on top and another color on bottom might look as if it were chopped in half.

A solid color house will make a house look larger. A white house will have that effect also, providing the shape is rambling.

IT WOULD be fun to have a cheerful color, and that will always appeal to women.

I think yellow with white trim makes a beautiful, sunny approach to a home. If I had a home, however, that was very tiny, more on the cozy side, I would paint it white with greenish - black trim. The door could be dark barn red or black.

A pink house is a charming idea, but these require painting more often than other colors and have a tendency to fade. Ditto blue.

A charcoal gray house with white trim is another possibility, and these are very chic when the house is all on one level. Colonial style architecture comes off best when the house is in the traditional white with dark shutters (if there are shutters) and shiny brass door knockers and knobs.

Freed—At Last

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Jack Alley, 3, got his leg caught between two tree limbs. Neighborhood women tried pulling, then greased the youngster's leg in an attempt to free it. Finally, Police Lt. Jonnie Henry arrived, put an automobile jack between the tree limbs and freed the lad.

House Vote Scheduled Today

New Motto Near For State Of Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is due for a new motto today:

For its first order of business, the House scheduled a vote on this Senate-approved motto:

"With God, All Things Are Possible."

Eleven-year-old Jimmie Mastronardo, sixth grader in Cincinnati's Hartwell School, proposed the state motto and personally appeared before legislative commit tes to urge adoption.

The House also slated a vote on measures for state-federal agreements on regulation of interstate highway advertising and for compensation to a losing district for school buildings involved in par tial annexation of school district territory. Both have Senate approval.

With most of the steam gone from the drive for tax increases, attention turned to action on spending measures in the Democrat-controlled Legislature.

Senate Finance Committee members hoped to recommend passage of the House-passed appropriations bill to pay for state operations in the next two years. The house approved a $1,806,000 budget.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said enactment is needed before July 1, start of the state's two-year bookkeeping period, to avoid legal questions about financing. "I would not like to operate even for one hour without the appropriations bill," he told his Cabinet.

House leaders considered a vote this week on a capital improvements bill calling for an expenditure of nearly 100 million dollars in the next two years, while the Finance Committee studied a third major money bill. That measure would appropriate a million dollars to pay claims against the state.

Action on the three money bills will go far in clearing the decks for legislative adjournment within a few weeks, leaders asserted.

The Senate's "blue ribbon" State Government Committee will start hearings Tuesday on DiSalle's bid for unprecedented powers to reorganize state government. Executive proposals would take effect unless the Legislature vetoed them within 60 days.

Without wasting time, the Senate Civil Service and Elections Committee called a hearing tonight on a House-passed House bill to permit advance purchase of highway right-of-way land by state retirement and workmen's compensation trust funds. The state funds are those in the public employes, teacher and school employe retirement systems. The Highway Department would enter agreements to buy the land within five years and pay the funds an agreed interest rate on their purchases.

On the House side, Chairman A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont) of the Taxation Committee said he expects final action by members on the Senate-approved bill to increase sales taxes about 60 million dollars. He indicated that use of the stamps would be retained despite DiSalle's efforts to eliminate them.

Other proposals up for House or Senate committee hearings would: Provide for gubernatorial appointment of a state labor director at a salary of $15,000 annually; repeal the axle-mile tax on big trucks and substitute a levy on gross weight; require use of "English language on medical and drug prescriptions;" lower the voting age to 18 years; increase school and local government subsidies and ban use of plastic clothing bags.

The House will vote Tuesday on a series of election law changes.

One would extend the 6:30 p.m. closing of polling places to 8 p.m. in Cuyahoga, Franklin Hamilton, Lucas, Montgomery and Summit counties. Another would make voter registrations good for four years, instead of two, and allow reregistrations by mail. A third would permit listing of all party candidates on a single line on voting machines, instead of rotating them as now required. All three measures bear Senate approval.

A fourth measure, originating in the House, would require door-to-door registration in all cities of 16,000 or more population and permit election boards to decide on such canvasses for other areas.

Taxes Move Into Background

Key Proposals Still Face Assembly

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — As the battle over tax increases reached its climax in recent weeks, legislative as well as public attention was apt to be diverted from other important proposals in the 103rd Ohio General Assembly.

Now, with the yearning for adjournment growing stronger every day, some of the other matters are getting the spotlight.

Both the House and the Senate face full calendars every session, voting on as many as a dozen bills at a sitting. And the committees, which do the basic work before proposals reach the floor, are pushing to complete action on legislation deemed necessary or desirable before it's too late to be even hopeful for final adoption.

Here is a roundup of the status of some of the more controversial items:

ELECTION BILL. Already passed by the Senate, three of these are expected to be voted on by the House this week. They would extend voting hours on election days from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. in counties of more than 200,000 population; require door-to-door registration of voters; extend from two to four years the period in which a citizen may remain on the registration list without voting. Long sought by Montgomery County Democratic chieftain Albert Horstman, the measures have been bitterly opposed by county election officials as extravagant in cost and useless in getting people to the polls.

Ohio's present voting laws, they point out, are viewed by many other states as models of efficiency and fairness. More important, they argue, anyone sincerely interested in exercising his right to vote can do so easily.

ANTI-LABOR RACKETEERING. A major plank in Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's legislative platform, it is tied up in the blue-ribbon Elections and Federal Relations Committee of the House.

Chairman Andy Devine (D-Lucas says he is two Democratic votes short of the number he needs to report the bill out with Republican support.

But he insists the bill is "very much alive" and hopes he or the governor will swing a couple of members over despite the Ohio AFL-CIO's adamant opposition to it.

UNEMPLOYMENT, WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION. So stalemated is the fight over these bills that the House Industry and Labor Committee did not eve hold a meeting during the past week.

Asked if he planned to call a vote on them this week, Chairman Francis Reno (D-Lucas) said simply: "I don't know."

There is general agreement that some benefit increases in both programs is due. The argument is over how much they should be and whether other "fringe" benefits ought to be included.

Overshadowing the legislators' wrangling has been DiSalle's outspoken threats to veto any "extreme" upgrading of either program. But even his watering down of the unemployment compensation bill passed by the Senate did not go far enough to satisfy four Democrats on the committee. Two of them are needed to spring it.

The workmen's compensation bill has not even passed the House yet.

SCHOLARSHIPP FUND. A bill to set up such a program was introduced in each House. The Senate one was sponsored by Sen. J. E. Simpson (R-Forest) and the Education and Health Committee has held hearings on it.

The House proposal, originally drawn by the DiSalle administration, was passed 114-10 by that chamber last week.

Despite the lopsided vote, many legislators have serious misgivings about whether the bill would be fair or even workable. A raft of amendments offered on the floor drew a charge from the sponsors that they were intended to scuttle the measure.

But Rep. Thomas Gindlesberger (R-Holmes), who later cast his vote against the bill as it stood, reflected the opinion of many of his colleagues when he rose in rebuttal to the charge.

He favors the principle of a state scholarship system, he said, but he does not think the bill is properly drawn. He explained that many of the amendments suggested on the floor had been offered in the House Education Committee.

But they were cut off, he said, when Chairman Paul Siple (D-Lawrence) ruled, over the protests of some committee members, that the substitute bill drafted by a subcommittee could not be amended.

Chances are it will be changed in the Senate committee.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN BILL. In response to DiSalle's plea in a special message for improvement in the present regulation law, a subcommittee of the elections committee drew up a measure combining five or six others that were offered.

Devine hopes to act on it this week, but whether it will go all the way through the legislative mill by adjournment time in open to question.

Big Fund Bills Await Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress heads into its annual end-of-June scramble this week to pass as many as possible of its big money bills before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

The House already has acted on most of the annual appropriations bills, but many still lie ahead for the Senate. Compromises of Senate and House versions also must be worked out.

Even after other money matters are straightened out, Congress still faces political battles over such major issues as the foreign aid program, an anti-racketeering labor bill, civil rights legislation and possibly some action on federal aid to education.

Threats of presidential vetoes already have forced Democratic whittling of spending programs in such fields as housing and airports—a situation which brought criticism of Democratic leaders Sunday from two liberal groups.

But while President Eisenhower has managed to hold down spending in some fields, the decimated Republican ranks in Congress lack the power to force action on some of his requests.

Enough conservation Democrats are willing to join the Republicans to make vetoes stick. But not enough of them are available to get the wheels moving on increases in the gasoline tax and postal rates Eisenhower requested.

While he seems likely to get an increase in the national debt limit he has asked for, Eisenhower may have to worry along without any immediate raise in the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

The National Committee for an Effective Congress said in a report that Democrats have lost their head of steam from last year's election victories and have become "prisoners of the spending issue."

Among members of the NCEC are Robert R. Nathan, economic consultant and national chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action; Sumner Welles, under secretary of state under Franklin D. Roosevelt; poet Archibald Macleish and composer Oscar Hammerstein II.

In a separate statement as ADA chairman, Nathan specifically named Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas among the leaders he said surrendered on housing and airport aid funds without firing a shot.

Harriman Is Refused Visa By Red Chinese

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist China has refused to give W. Averell Harriman a visa to visit the country as a journalist.

Harriman, former governor of New York, said the Peiping government told him a new application from him would be considered next year.

Harriman is now touring the Soviet Union and writing articles for an American syndicate.

Pravda Assails Bonn For Election Choice

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, today assailed the "provocators" of Bonn for selecting West Berlin as the site of the West German presidential election July 1.

"The Soviet people think the time has come for sober minds in West Germany to stop provocators from further poisoning of the international atmosphere," the article said.

West Berlin is outside the limits of West Germany, the paper went on, "and it is clear to everyone that to transfer the presidential elections to West Berlin is a provocation against the East German Democratic Republic."

Children Need A Father's Love

Blessed is the boy or girl with an understanding, companionable, loving father. As a rule, this kind of father is an understanding, companionable, loving husband. After all, the most important relationship in the home is the mother-father relationship. It provides the climate for the parent - child relationship and the pattern for this relationship is pretty well established long before the first child is born. As this child grows, or more children are added, the way each parent treats the other as a person is foremost in shaping how each parent will feel and act toward each child or children. Just as good mates build on the best in each other, so also they tend to build on the best in their children. Nor does either come about by accident. It comes with constant unselfish effort by each parent.

By Garry Meyers

I RECEIVE many a letter from mothers describing a wonderful father, a father who enjoys his children, 3, 7 or 16; who reads to the baby and young child, makes things with him (or her), goes places with him, explains things to him, has fun with him; who keeps growing up himself with this child and never treats him as younger than he is.

He doesn't treat the boy or girl of 14 or 17 as if this child were 7 or 8, nor the child of 7 or 8 as if he were only 2 or 3. He wins this boy's or girl's constant affection and esteem.

This father, striving always to be one with the mother, tried to be consistent in discipline and guidance of each child. Each youngster, growing older, learns that he can count on his father's word and ways.

In relation to himself, he can pretty safely guess what his father will say and do next. He finds this father is a person of integrity.

NOW AND then a mother writes of the father's grand relationship with his teen-age son or daughter; of how proud this youth is of the father and of how proud the father is of this almost grownup child.

Heartening is many a mother's letter that tells of the father who does things with his son 5, 10 or 14; who goes places with him, often taking one or more of the lad's pals along; who attracts his friends to the home and sets the stage for their wholesome fun.

Now and then, of course, a mother writes of a father not so close and companionable with his son or daughter. But I read of many wonderful fathers.

Oh, that every father only knew what a power of good he could be, leaving in his children what no amount of money ever could buy.

House Vote Scheduled Today

New Motto Near For State Of Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is due for a new motto today:

For its first order of business, the House scheduled a vote on this Senate-approved motto:

Eleven-year-old Jimmie Mastronardo, sixth grader in Cincinnati's Hartwell School, proposed the state motto and personally appeared before legislative committees to urge adoption.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said enactment is needed before July 1, start of the state's two-year bookkeeping period, to avoid legal questions about financing. "I would not like to operate even for one hour without the appropriations bill," he told his Cabinet.

House leaders considered a vote this week on a capital improvements bill calling for an expenditure of nearly 100 million dollars in the next two years, while the Finance Committee studied a third major money bill. That measure would appropriate a million dollars to pay claims against the state.

Action on the three money bills will go far in clearing the decks for legislative adjournment within a few weeks, leaders asserted.

The Senate's "blue ribbon" State Government Committee will start hearings Tuesday on DiSalle's bid for unprecedented powers to reorganize state government. Executive proposals would take effect unless the Legislature vetoed them within 60 days.

Without wasting time, the Senate Civil Service and Elections Committee called a hearing tonight on a House-passed House bill to permit advance purchase of highway right-of-way land by state retirement and workmen's compensation trust funds. The state funds are those in the public employes, teacher and school employe retirement systems. The Highway Department would enter agreements to buy the land within five years and pay the funds an agreed interest rate on their purchases.

On the House side, Chairman A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont) of the Taxation Committee said he expects final action by members on the Senate-approved bill to increase sales taxes about 60 million dollars. He indicated that use of the stamps would be retained despite DiSalle's efforts to eliminate them.

Other proposals up for House or Senate committee hearings would: Provide for gubernatorial appointment of a state labor director at a salary of $15,000 annually; repeal the axle-mile tax on big trucks and substitute a levy on gross weight; require use of "English language on medical and drug prescriptions;" lower the voting age to 18 years; increase school and local government subsidies and ban use of plastic clothing bags.

The House will vote Tuesday on a series of election law changes.

One would extend the 6:30 p.m. closing of polling places to 8 p.m. in Cuyahoga, Franklin Hamilton, Lucas, Montgomery and Summit counties. Another would make voter registrations good for four years, instead of two, and allow reregistrations by mail. A third would permit listing of all party candidates on a single line on voting machines, instead of rotating them as now required. All three measures bear Senate approval.

A fourth measure, originating in the House, would require door-to-door registration in all cities of 16,000 or more population and permit election boards to decide on such canvasses for other areas.

Taxes Move Into Background

Key Proposals Still Face Assembly

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio — As the battle over tax increases reached its climax in recent weeks, legislative as well as public attention was apt to be diverted from other important proposals in the 103rd Ohio General Assembly.

Now, with the yearning for adjournment growing stronger every day, some of the other matters are getting the spotlight.

Both the House and the Senate face full calendars every session, voting on as many as a dozen bills at a sitting. And the committees, which do the basic work before proposals reach the floor, are pushing to complete action on legislation deemed necessary or desirable before it's too late to be even hopeful for final adoption.

Here is a roundup of the status of some of the more controversial items:

ELECTION BILL. Already passed by the Senate, three of these are expected to be voted on by the House this week. They would extend voting hours on election days from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. in counties of more than 200,000 population; require door-to-door registration of voters; extend from two to four years the period in which a citizen may remain on the registration list without voting.

Long sought by Montgomery County Democratic chieftain Albert Horstman, the measures have been bitterly opposed by county election officials as extravagant in cost and useless in getting people to the polls.

Ohio's present voting laws, they point out, are viewed by many other states as models of efficiency and fairness. More important, they argue, anyone sincerely interested in exercising his right to vote can do so easily.

ANTI-LABOR RACKETEERING. A major plank in Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's legislative platform, it is tied up in the blue-ribbon Elections and Federal Relations Committee of the House.

Chairman Andy Devine (D-Lucas) says he is two Democratic votes short of the number he needs to report the bill out with Republican support.

But he insists the bill is "very much alive" and hopes he or the governor will swing a couple of members over despite the Ohio AFL-CIO's adamant opposition to it.

UNEMPLOYMENT, WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION. So stalemated is the fight over these bills that the House Industry and Labor Committee did not eve hold a meeting during the past week.

Asked if he planned to call a vote on them this week, Chairman Francis Reno (D-Lucas) said simply: "I don't know."

There is general agreement that some benefit increases in both programs is due. The argument is over how much they should be and whether other "fringe" benefits ought to be included.

Overshadowing the legislators' wrangling has been DiSalle's outspoken threats to veto any "extreme" upgrading of either program. But even his watering down of the unemployment compensation bill passed by the Senate did not go far enough to satisfy four Democrats on the committee. Two of them are needed to spring it.

The workmen's compensation bill has not even passed the House yet.

SCHOLARSHIPP FUND. A bill to set up such a program was introduced in each House. The Senate one was sponsored by Sen. J. E. Simpson (R-Forest) and the Education and Health Committee has held hearings on it.

The House proposal, originally drawn by the DiSalle administration, was passed 114-10 by that chamber last week.

Despite the lopsided vote, many legislators have serious misgivings about whether the bill would be fair or even workable. A raft of amendments offered on the floor drew a charge from the sponsors that they were intended to scuttle the measure.

But Rep. Thomas Gindlesberger (R-Holmes), who later cast his vote against the bill as it stood, reflected the opinion of many of his colleagues when he rose in rebuttal to the charge.

He favors the principle of a state scholarship system, he said, but he does not think the bill is properly drawn. He explained that many of the amendments suggested on the floor had been offered in the House Education Committee.

But they were cut off, he said, when Chairman Paul Siple (D-Lawrence) ruled, over the protests of some committee members, that the substitute bill drafted by a subcommittee could not be amended.

Chances are it will be changed in the Senate committee.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN BILL. In response to DiSalle's plea in a special message for improvement in the present regulation law, a subcommittee of the elections committee drew up a measure combining five or six others that were offered.

Devine hopes to act on it this week, but whether it will go all the way through the legislative mill by adjournment time in open to question.

Big Fund Bills Await Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress heads into its annual end-of-June scramble this week to pass as many as possible of its big money bills before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

The House already has acted on most of the annual appropriations bills, but many still lie ahead for the Senate. Compromises of Senate and House versions also must be worked out.

Even after other money matters are straightened out, Congress still faces political battles over such major issues as the foreign aid program, an anti-racketeering labor bill, civil rights legislation and possibly some action on federal aid to education.

Threats of presidential vetoes already have forced Democratic whittling of spending programs in such fields as housing and airports—a situation which brought criticism of Democratic leaders Sunday from two liberal groups.

But while President Eisenhower has managed to hold down spending in some fields, the decimated Republican ranks in Congress lack the power to force action on some of his requests.

Enough conservation Democrats are willing to join the Republicans to make vetoes stick. But not enough of them are available to get the wheels moving on increases in the gasoline tax and postal rates Eisenhower requested.

While he seems likely to get an increase in the national debt limit he has asked for, Eisenhower may have to worry along without any immediate raise in the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

The National Committee for an Effective Congress said in a report that Democrats have lost their head of steam from last year's election victories and have become "prisoners of the spending issue."

Among members of the NCEC are Robert R. Nathan, economic consultant and national chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action; Sumner Welles, under secretary of state under Franklin D. Roosevelt; poet Archibald Macleish and composer Oscar Hammerstein II.

In a separate statement as ADA chairman, Nathan specifically named Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas among the leaders he said surrendered on housing and airport aid funds without firing a shot.

Harriman Is Refused Visa By Red Chinese

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist China has refused to give W. Averell Harriman a visa to visit the country as a journalist.

Harriman, former governor of New York, said the Peiping government told him a new application from him would be considered next year.

Harriman is now touring the Soviet Union and writing articles for an American syndicate.

Pravda Assails Bonn For Election Choice

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, today assailed the "provocators" of Bonn for selecting West Berlin as the site of the West German presidential election July 1.

"The Soviet people think the time has come for sober minds in West Germany to stop provocators from further poisoning of the international atmosphere," the article said.

West Berlin is outside the limits of West Germany, the paper went on, "and it is clear to everyone that to transfer the presidential elections to West Berlin is a provocation against the East German Democratic Republic."

Children Need A Father's Love

Blessed is the boy or girl with an understanding, companionable, loving father. As a rule, this kind of father is an understanding, companionable, loving husband. After all, the most important relationship in the home is the mother-father relationship. It provides the climate for the parent - child relationship and the pattern for this relationship is pretty well established long before the first child is born. As this child grows, or more children are added, the way each parent treats the other as a person is foremost in shaping how each parent will feel and act toward each child or children. Just as good mates build on the best in each other, so also they tend to build on the best in their children. Nor does either come about by accident. It comes with constant unselfish effort by each parent.

I RECEIVE many a letter from mothers describing a wonderful father, a father who enjoys his children, 3, 7 or 16; who reads to the baby and young child, makes things with him (or her), goes places with him, explains things to him, has fun with him; who keeps growing up himself with this child and never treats him as younger than he is.

He doesn't treat the boy or girl of 14 or 17 as if this child were 7 or 8, nor the child of 7 or 8 as if he were only 2 or 3. He wins this boy's or girl's constant affection and esteem.

This father, striving always to be one with the mother, tried to be consistent in discipline and guidance of each child. Each youngster, growing older, learns that he can count on his father's word and ways.

In relation to himself, he can pretty safely guess what his father will say and do next. He finds this father is a person of integrity.

NOW AND then a mother writes of the father's grand relationship with his teen-age son or daughter; of how proud this youth is of the father and of how proud the father is of this almost grownup child.

Heartening is many a mother's letter that tells of the father who does things with his son 5, 10 or 14; who goes places with him, often taking one or more of the lad's pals along; who attracts his friends to the home and sets the stage for their wholesome fun.

Now and then, of course, a mother writes of a father not so close and companionable with his son or daughter. But I read of many wonderful fathers.

Oh, that every father only knew what a power of good he could be, leaving in his children what no amount of money ever could buy.

My bulletins, "Fathers Are Parents, Too" and "Enjoying Our Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

68,680 See Tribe Sweep Doubleheader From Yanks, 4-2, 5-4

Power Snaps Tie In Second Game With HR

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians owned their biggest lead in the American League since May 26 today and they owe it to the determination and the strong right arms of pitchers Cal McLish and Jim Grant.

It was McLish and Grant who slowed up the on-rushing New York Yankees Sunday by pitching the Indians to a doubleheader sweep, 4-2 and 5-4 in 14 innings.

The victories boosted the Indians' first place margin to two games over Chicago and shoved the defending champion Yanks back into the second division.

The largest crowd of the major league season — 68,680 Yankee Stadium spectators sat through seven hours and 14 minutes and saw McLish and Grant go all the way although giving up 25 hits between them.

McLish registered his seventh victory despite allowing 11 hits in the opener. He left 13 Yankees stranded. Grant hurled all 14 innings in the nightcap, winning his fifth as he yielded 14 hits. He left 12 Yankees stranded.

Billy Pierce pitched the White Sox into second place, with a 3-2 triumph over Boston that dropped the Red Sox into the American League cellar, two percentage points behind Washington. The Senators climbed up to seventh by thrashing Detroit 4-3 and 7-5. The double defeat lowered the Tigers into a third place tie with Baltimore, which bowed to Kansas City 7-0.

Rocky Colavito and Vic Power shared the hitting honors for the Indians. Each hit two homers, one in each game. Colavito's first game homer, with a man on base in the third inning, proved to be the winning blow. Power's second homer came in the 14th inning of the nightcap and snapped a 4-4 tie. The blow came off Jim Coates, third Yankee pitcher, who had given up a run in the 13th only to have the Yankees get it back in their half of the inning.

The double defeat dropped the Yankees into fifth place, 3½ games off the pace. A sweep would have boosted the Yankees, who had won five straight and 17 of their last 23, into first place by half a game.

Pierce won his eighth game with a six-hitter against the Red Sox. He got one of Chicago's seven hits and drove in what proved to be the winning run with a force play in the fourth.

Boston had the tying run on second with one out in the ninth but the veteran southpaw disposed of the next two batters without further damage. Home runs by Harry Simpson and Sammy Esposito accounted for Chicago's first two runs.

Washington's double win was its first of the season. The Senators overcame a 3-0 deficit in the opener, then scored the winning run in the ninth when Detroit pitcher Barney Schultz let Harmon Killebrew's two-out grounder with the bases full go through his legs.

A home run by rookie Bob Allison, his 18th, featured Washington's six-run blast in the fourth inning of the nightcap. Roy Sievers also homered for Washington, the 200th of his career.

Veteran Ned Garver not only pitched a three-hit shutout for Kansas City, but hit a home run, double and single as the A's rapped loser Arnie Portocarrero and Billy Hoeft for 16 hits.

Canadian Golf Won By Ford

MONTREAL (AP) — The long drought has ended for 36-year-old Doug Ford.

The free swinger from Paradise, Fla., was beginning to think he'd never win another golf tournament.

Sunday Ford came from behind a one-stroke deficit to capture the Canadian Open with a 72-hole total of 276, and hauled down top prize of $3,500.

Ford shot a final round of 2-under par 70 to finish the tournament 12 strokes under regulation figures.

Dow Finsterald of Tequesta, Fla., who shared the third-round lead at 205 Saturday with Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, finished with a 73 for a 278 total.

Tied with him for second place and collecting a $1,866 each were Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex.

Crampton, 23-year-old blond Australian who became a gallery favorite after taking the lead on the second round, fell apart completely. He soared to a 75 and was left in a tie for fifth at 280.

U. S. Open Champion Billy Casper had a 66 on the final round but finished well back at 283.

Glenn Is Big Difference In All-Star Game

By HAL PARIS

TROY, Ohio (AP) — A rangy, well-conditioned North team with a consistent scoring punch overpowered the South squad here Saturday night to win the second annual Ohio high school all-star basketball game.

But the big difference in the 112-92 victory for the northerners appeared to be the brilliant performance of All-Ohio Ken Glenn, the tall and talented star of Cleveland East Tech's Class AA championship team.

Glenn whipped in 23 points to pace the scoring production and played a fine defensive game, snagging eight rebounds and batting away numerous shots.

The showing by the 6-foot-5 phenom easily earned him the award as the contest's most valuable player.

The Yankee victory evened the series at a game apiece, the South winning the inaugural last year, 93-72.

Prior to the start of Saturday night's classic, the board of directors of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn. announced that Troy again will host the all-star game in 1960.

Another All-Ohio player, Dick Reasbeck of Bellaire St. John, was the big offensive gun for the losers with 18 points. Jim Jennings, Dayton Wilbur Wright, and Mac Smith, Bellefontaine, followed with 14 points each for the Rebels.

Trailing Glenn in scoring for the Yanks was Kirk Gooding of Lima Senior with 17 markers. The smaller South squad tried vainly to stay in the game and trailed by only four points, 54-50 at halftime.

But Glenn led a third-quarter spurt that pushed the northerners in front, 85-75 at the three-quarter mark and another burst of scoring early in the fourth period locked it up for the winners.

The game, for the most part, was a ragged affair, played loosely before a sparse crowd of 2,692.

Glenn, sought by numerous colleges, said he's still not sure of his plans. Reports here had the Cleveland whiz ticketed for either Dayton or Niagara.

Jennings, Benny Roberts of Middletown and Ron Sabo of Youngstown Chaney reportedly were headed for Louisville. Jim Stone, Glenn's East Tech teammate, apparently will attend either Dayton or Villanova.

Patterson Rated 'Fastest' Heavyweight By Marciano

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP) — While Ingemar Johansson played golf and swam with his fiance at a plush mountain resort, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson sweated out 4½ pounds in the oven heat of an old-fashioned training camp.

The contrast between the training methods of the unbeaten challenger from Sweden and the champion never was more pronounced than it was Sunday.

Johansson finished his boxing Saturday at Grossinger, N.Y., sparring six rounds without throwing his right hand more than six of seven times. He will do no more ring work until the fight Thursday night at Yankee Stadium.

Patterson cut his work to two rounds at Ehsan's camp where about 1,000 spectators crowded inside and around the tiny gymnasium. Trainer Dan Florio said Floyd weighed 184½ pounds when he started. After the workout, the champ said he weighed 180.

In many ways the scene at Chatham reminded you of the old days at Pompton Lakes, N.J. when Joe Louis' camp drew busloads of Sunday visitors at a fee. There was one important difference. No admission is charged at Patterson's camp. Somebody spread a rumor that there was free beer.

The champ had planned to box three or four rounds. Instead he went only two, one each with Bill Tate of Chicago and Lou Jones of Rockford, Ill.

Rocky Marciano, the retired undefeated champ, was at ringside.

"This is the fastest heavyweight I ever saw," said Marciano, who said he weighed 220 pounds. "I wouldn't like to compare him with Johansson. I only saw Johansson two rounds Saturday."

68,680 See Tribe Sweep Doubleheader From Yanks, 4-2, 5-4

Power Snaps Tie In Second Game With HR

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians owned their biggest lead in the American League since May 26 today and they owe it to the determination and the strong right arms of pitchers Cal McLish and Jim Grant.

It was McLish and Grant who slowed up the on-rushing New York Yankees Sunday by pitching the Indians to a doubleheader sweep, 4-2 and 5-4 in 14 innings.

The victories boosted the Indians' first place margin to two games over Chicago and shoved the defending champion Yanks back into the second division.

The largest crowd of the major league season — 68,680 Yankee Stadium spectators sat through seven hours and 14 minutes and saw McLish and Grant go all the way although giving up 25 hits between them.

McLish registered his seventh victory despite allowing 11 hits in the opener. He left 13 Yankees stranded. Grant hurled all 14 innings in the nightcap, winning his fifth as he yielded 14 hits. He left 12 Yankees stranded.

Billy Pierce pitched the White Sox into second place, with a 3-2 triumph over Boston that dropped the Red Sox into the American League cellar, two percentage points behind Washington. The Senators climbed up to seventh by thrashing Detroit 4-3 and 7-5. The double defeat lowered the Tigers into a third place tie with Baltimore, which bowed to Kansas City 7-0.

Rocky Colavito and Vic Power shared the hitting honors for the Indians. Each hit two homers, one in each game. Colavito's first game homer, with a man on base in the third inning, proved to be the winning blow. Power's second homer came in the 14th inning of the nightcap and snapped a 4-4 tie. The blow came off Jim Coates, third Yankee pitcher, who had given up a run in the 13th only to have the Yankees get it back in their half of the inning.

The double defeat dropped the Yankees into fifth place, 3½ games off the pace. A sweep would have boosted the Yankees, who had won five straight and 17 of their last 23, into first place by half a game.

Pierce won his eighth game with a six-hitter against the Red Sox. He got one of Chicago's seven hits and drove in what proved to be the winning run with a force play in the fourth.

Boston had the tying run on second with one out in the ninth but the veteran southpaw disposed of the next two batters without further damage. Home runs by Harry Simpson and Sammy Esposito accounted for Chicago's first two runs.

Washington's double win was its first of the season. The Senators overcame a 3-0 deficit in the opener, then scored the winning run in the ninth when Detroit pitcher Barney Schultz let Harmon Killebrew's two-out grounder with the bases full go through his legs.

A home run by rookie Bob Allison, his 18th, featured Washington's six-run blast in the fourth inning of the nightcap. Roy Sievers also homered for Washington, the 200th of his career.

Veteran Ned Garver not only pitched a three-hit shutout for Kansas City, but hit a home run, double and single as the A's rapped loser Arnie Portocarrero and Billy Hoeft for 16 hits.

Canadian Golf Won By Ford

MONTREAL (AP) — The long drought has ended for 36-year-old Doug Ford.

The free swinger from Paradise, Fla., was beginning to think he'd never win another golf tournament.

Sunday Ford came from behind a one-stroke deficit to capture the Canadian Open with a 72-hole total of 276, and hauled down top prize of $3,500.

Ford shot a final round of 2-under par 70 to finish the tournament 12 strokes under regulation figures.

Dow Finsterald of Tequesta, Fla., who shared the third-round lead at 205 Saturday with Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, finished with a 73 for a 278 total.

Tied with him for second place and collecting a $1,866 each were Art Wall, Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex.

Crampton, 23-year-old blond Australian who became a gallery favorite after taking the lead on the second round, fell apart completely. He soared to a 75 and was left in a tie for fifth at 280.

U. S. Open Champion Billy Casper had a 66 on the final round but finished well back at 283.

Glenn Is Big Difference In All-Star Game

By HAL PARIS

TROY, Ohio (AP) — A rangy, well-conditioned North team with a consistent scoring punch overpowered the South squad here Saturday night to win the second annual Ohio high school all-star basketball game.

But the big difference in the 112-92 victory for the northerners appeared to be the brilliant performance of All-Ohio Ken Glenn, the tall and talented star of Cleveland East Tech's Class AA championship team.

Glenn whipped in 23 points to pace the scoring production and played a fine defensive game, snagging eight rebounds and batting away numerous shots.

The showing by the 6-foot-5 phenom easily earned him the award as the contest's most valuable player.

The Yankee victory evened the series at a game apiece, the South winning the inaugural last year, 93-72.

Prior to the start of Saturday night's classic, the board of directors of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn. announced that Troy again will host the all-star game in 1960.

Another All-Ohio player, Dick Reasbeck of Bellaire St. John, was the big offensive gun for the losers with 18 points. Jim Jennings, Dayton Wilbur Wright, and Mac Smith, Bellefontaine, followed with 14 points each for the Rebels.

Trailing Glenn in scoring for the Yanks was Kirk Gooding of Lima Senior with 17 markers. The smaller South squad tried vainly to stay in the game and trailed by only four points, 54-50 at halftime.

But Glenn led a third-quarter spurt that pushed the northerners in front, 85-75 at the three-quarter mark and another burst of scoring early in the fourth period locked it up for the winners.

The game, for the most part, was a ragged affair, played loosely before a sparse crowd of 2,692.

Glenn, sought by numerous colleges, said he's still not sure of his plans. Reports here had the Cleveland whiz ticketed for either Dayton or Niagara.

Jennings, Benny Roberts of Middletown and Ron Sabo of Youngstown Chaney reportedly were headed for Louisville. Jim Stone, Glenn's East Tech teammate, apparently will attend either Dayton or Villanova.

As Champ Tapers Off

Patterson Rated 'Fastest' Heavyweight By Marciano

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP) — While Ingemar Johansson played golf and swam with his fiance at a plush mountain resort, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson sweated out 4½ pounds in the oven heat of an old-fashioned training camp.

The contrast between the training methods of the unbeaten challenger from Sweden and the champion never was more pronounced than it was Sunday.

Johansson finished his boxing Saturday at Grossinger, N.Y., sparring six rounds without throwing his right hand more than six of seven times. He will do no more ring work until the fight Thursday night at Yankee Stadium.

Patterson cut his work to two rounds at Ehsan's camp where about 1,000 spectators crowded inside and around the tiny gymnasium. Trainer Dan Florio said Floyd weighed 184½ pounds when he started. After the workout, the champ said he weighed 180.

In many ways the scene at Chatham reminded you of the old days at Pompton Lakes, N.J. when Joe Louis' camp drew busloads of Sunday visitors at a fee. There was one important difference. No admission is charged at Patterson's camp. Somebody spread a rumor that there was free beer.

The champ had planned to box three or four rounds. Instead he went only two, one each with Bill Tate of Chicago and Lou Jones of Rockford, Ill.

Rocky Marciano, the retired undefeated champ, was at ringside.

"This is the fastest heavyweight I ever saw," said Marciano, who said he weighed 220 pounds. "I wouldn't like to compare him with Johansson. I only saw Johansson two rounds Saturday."

Pairings Set In LL Tourney

Aaron Blasts 3 Homers As Braves Open Up 1½ Lead In NL

Cubs' Buzhardt Hurls 1-Hit Shutout At Phils

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

All's well once more with the Milwaukee Braves. Henry Aaron is hitting again.

For a full week Aaron's bat was stilled as his average dropped from .408 to .389. The Braves went right down with him, losing first place to San Francisco after holding the lead for more than a month.

Aaron got only a single Saturday as the Braves defeated the Giants to regain first place. But it was different Sunday. Hammering Hank blasted three home runs, each with a man on base, and the Braves pummeled the Giants 13-3 to open up a game and a half lead.

The three home runs raised Aaron's batting average to .391, boosted his home run output to 19 and his runs batted in total to 61. Del Crandall and Johnny Logan also homered to make it easy for Warren Spahn to register his ninth victory against eight losses. Johnny Antonelli, victim of a five-run burst in the first inning, was charged with his fourth defeat. He has won 10.

Pittsburgh's third place Pirates split with St. Louis, winning 10-8 after the Cardinals had taken the opener 5-1. Cincinnati walloped the Los Angeles Dodgers 17-3 and the Chicago Cubs shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 behind Johnny Buzhardt's one-hit pitching.

Don Newcombe put on quite a show in Los Angeles. The big Cincinnati right-hander, traded by the Dodgers last June, registered his eighth victory and seventh in succession. He got four hits in four times at bat, driving in four runs and scoring three.

Catcher Danny Kravitz had 5-for-5, including three doubles, in the second game for the Pirates. Twelve doubles were hit, seven by the Cards. Three Red Bird homers, by Bill White, Hal Smith and Alex Grammas, helped Larry Jackson gain his sixth victory in the opener. Stan Musial walloped a double, the 652nd of his career, for a National League record. He had been tied with Hall of Famer Honus Wagner.

A third inning single by catcher Carl Sawatski was the only hit off Buzhardt. The 22-year-old right-hander allowed only one other batter to reach base, on a walk. Sammy Taylor's two-run homer, off loser Ruben Gomez, provided Buzhardt with more runs than he needed.

MILWAUKEE'S Hank Aaron is congratulated at the plate by teammate Andy Pafko after he hit a two-run homer, his first of three Sunday, in the first inning of the game at San Francisco. Giant catcher is Bob Schmidt. (UPI Telephoto)

Sweep Gives Joe Gordon Greatest Day As Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—"That," observed Joe Gordon today, "was my greatest day as a major league manager."

Gordon was talking about Cleveland's 4-2 and 5-4 sweep of a double-header over the New York Yankees Sunday.

The two major results of the long day's work were:

1. It lengthened the Indians' American League lead to two games.

2. It sent the Yanks tumbling back into the second division. Had Casey Stengel's men won both games, they would have been in first place. That's how close the race is.

"It was all simply wonderful," Gordon, himself a Yank alumnus continued. "The way we got the runs, the way the team held on and the way Jim Grant got them out."

Grant went all the way for the Tribe in the 14 inning nightcap, outlasting three Yank pitchers. There was a rumor going around the league that he was in Gordon's doghouse, but he's out now.

As for Manager Stengel of the Yanks, he wasn't at all discouraged.

In fact, he appeared more enthused about his new second base combination of Bobby Richardson and Gil McDougald than in worrying about the twin loss.

"I'm definitely satisfied with McDougald as the shortstop," he said before taking off for tonight's game at Kansas City. "I think I'll stick to the combination for a while.

"I know McDougald can hit and I think Richardson probably will. I also like Tony Kubeck in right field."

Stengel has been annoyed at some of the defensive shortcomings of his outfielders. He thinks Kubek — who has been playing short—might be the answer.

So as they head for Kansas City, the Yanks are in fifth place, 3½ games off the pace.

The double victory gave the Indians a record of nine victories and four defeats for their eastern swing.

During that trip they climbed from third place back to the top.

In Sunday's second game the Yankees came from behind after the Indians had taken a 3-0 lead against starter Don Larsen.

The first two Indian runs came in the third inning, when Rocky Colavito hit his 22nd home run of the season after Tito Francona walked. In the fourth they got another on George Strickland's single, a wild pitch and a single by Grant.

The Yankees got two runs back in the sixth, and Moose Skowrun tied the score in the eighth with a homer.

Cleveland went ahead in the 13th on a two-base throwing error by first baseman Marv Throneberry, a pair of walks and Strickland's bunt. But the Yankees tied it again on a double by Hec Hopez and a single by Hank Bauer.

Vic Power gave the Indians their victory in the 14th with a home run—his eighth—into the lower left field stands. The win gave Grant a 3-2 record.

In the opener, McLish gave up one run in the first and one in the second inning, then blanked the Yankees the rest of the way.

Colavito hit a two-run homer in the third inning after Francona's triple drove in Billy Martin for the first Indian score. Martin had singled. The final Cleveland run came on Power's home run in the eighth.

It was McLish's 7th win against three losses. The defeat was charged to Art Ditmar (5-5).

Balanced U.S. Squad Set For Track, Field Tests

By FRANK PITMAN

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The Stars and Stripes will be carried into international track and field competition this summer by a balanced array of veteran champions and bright young newcomers.

The athletes who finished 1-2-3 in the National AAU Championships during the weekend will represent the United States in the Pan-American Games at Chicago beginning Aug. 28.

The top two finishers meet a Russian dual team in Philadelphia July 18-19. Other leading performers were picked on squads to tour Germany and Scandinavia.

Three of the brilliant youngsters are sprinter Ray Norton, San Jose State senior; miler Dyrol Burleson, Oregon's freshman sensation, and Tom Murphy, the New York Athletic Club's 800-meter runner.

But one of the best in the AAU, Charlie Tidwell, Kansas University junior, failed to make the traveling teams because his specialty—200 meters hurdles—is not an international event.

Tidwell raced to an AAU and American record in winning the race in 22.6 seconds. That erased Harrison Dillard's AAU record of 23.3 and Tidwell's American mark of 22.7.

Norton, winner of the 100 and 200 meters dashes, was voted the outstanding athlete at the two-day meet.

Burleson smashed the AAU 150 meters record with a 3 minute 47.5 seconds clocking over the course, 120 yards short of a mile.

Frank Potts, University of Colorado coach who will guide the U. S. team against Russia, called Burleson "the finest young miler in the United States—capable of running a four-minute mile."

Murphy a grad student at Manhattan College, won the 800 meters in 1:47.9, just three-tenths of a second off the AAU record set in 1955 by Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh.

Orioles Call Fisher, Send Down Zuverink

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jack Fisher, 20-year-old righthanded pitcher, was recalled today from Miami of the International League by the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles sent George Zuverink, 32-year-old relief hurler, to Miami on 24-hour recall.

LACONIA, N. H. (AP) — Brad Andres, San Diego, Calif., broke his own record Sunday in winning the 100 mile National Championship Road Race for motorcycles. Andres, who has won the meet four times, clipped five seconds off his 1956 record of 1:42.59.

Reds, Indians Clash Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball fans who long for an All-Ohio world series will get an off-the-record look here tonight. But from the way things look now, that's about as close to an intra-state series as they'll come this year—at least from the Cincinnati side.

In the exhibition game tonight, Cleveland's American League leaders come to town to meet Cincinnati's Redlegs, currently in seventh place in the National League. Proceeds from the game will go for equipment for sandlot baseball teams here.

The Redlegs, who exploded for a 17-3 victory at Los Angeles Sunday, will be out to even the series with Cleveland. The Indians, who downed New York twice Sunday, won an earlier game this season in Minneapolis, 4-3.

A third game will be played in Cleveland next week.

Big Don Newcombe, currently one of the hottest pitchers in the senior loop, notched his seventh consecutive victory in the one-sided win at Los Angeles Sunday. He has gone the route in nine games and owns an 8-4 record.

The righthander, as potent at the plate as he is on the mound, aided his cause with four hits. He walked twice, knocked in four runs and tallied three times.

The Reds climbed on Dodger starter and loser Johnny Podres for one run in the first, added another in the second and then sent the lefthander to the showers in the fourth with a four-run burst.

Dutch Dotterer started the inning off with a home run over the left field screen. Before the inning was over, eight Redlegs batted, three Los Angeles hurlers—Podres, Johnny Klippstein and Art Fowler—tried their luck on the mound, and the Dodgers committed two errors.

Fowler, who got the final out in the fourth, lasted for only one-third of the fifth as Cincinnati poured across five more funs.

Jim Pendleton opened that inning with a home run to left after Clem Labine relieved Fowler. Gus Bell, batting for Pete Whisenant, poled the Reds' third round-tripper of the day, good for three runs.

The Redlegs added two runs in each of the last three innings to give them their highest score since swamping the Chicago Cubs, 18-8 April 29.

The Dodgers, who collected 10 hits, scored twice in the fourth inning and once in the fifth.

Wins Harness Event

Scores Four Points

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Ohio University finished with four points in the national AAU track and field championships. Southern California won the event Saturday with 144 points.

American League managers Mike Higgins of Boston, Joe Gordon of Cleveland, Jimmie Dykes of Detroit and Cookie Lavagetto of Washington were infielders in their playing days.

Decision Is Due Today On Coaching Change

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Whether basketball coach Pete Newell will remain at California or accept a University of Washington offer may be decided today.

Newell coached this year's Golden Bears to the NCAA title after winning a third straight Pacific Coast Conference title.

Al Walker Is Dropped As Houston's Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Coach Del Wilber took over today as manager of the Houston Buffs, succeeding Al (Rube) Walker.

Walker's dismissal Sunday came with Houston buried in the cellar of the association's Western Division with a 29-41 record.

Syracuse Hopes To Make Up For Loss To Badgers

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP).—Syracuse, still in the dumps today over its upset loss to Wisconsin for the college rowing championship, hopes to atone in the Pan-American Trials next weekend.

Syracuse, loser by two lengths to the darkhorse Badgers in the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. Championships Saturday, is the only college crew entered in the eight-oared trials.

"We can't make the trials," said Wisconsin Coach Norm Sonju. "Some of the boys have to go into the Army and the rest have jobs. I think Syracuse should win the trials. They should beat the club crews."

According to Clifford (Tip) Goes, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Rowing Committee, Syracuse will meet the Detroit Boat Club, Wesper of Philadelphia, Union Boat Club of Boston, New York A. C., and possibly the Lake Washington Boat Club of Seattle.

Wisconsin, reveling in the gusty headwinds of 15-17 m.p.h. overhauled the pace-setting Orangemen at the mile and three-quarter mark and then pulled away to win the 3-miler by 2 lengths in 18:01.7. It was the Badgers' first IRA victory since 1951. Navy was third.

Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin stole 13 bases in 15 Big Ten baseball games this spring.

Lewis King of Danville stole 65 bases in 1945, the first year for the Carolina League. The record still stands.

Aaron Blasts 3 Homers As Braves Open Up 1½ Lead In NL

Cubs' Buzhardt Hurls 1-Hit Shutout At Phils

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

All's well once more with the Milwaukee Braves. Henry Aaron is hitting again.

For a full week Aaron's bat was stilled as his average dropped from .408 to .389. The Braves went right down with him, losing first place to San Francisco after holding the lead for more than a month.

Aaron got only a single Saturday as the Braves defeated the Giants to regain first place. But it was different Sunday. Hammering Hank blasted three home runs, each with a man on base, and the Braves pummeled the Giants 13-3 to open up a game and a half lead.

The three home runs raised Aaron's batting average to .391, boosted his home run output to 19 and his runs batted in total to 61. Del Crandall and Johnny Logan also homered to make it easy for Warren Spahn to register his ninth victory against eight losses. Johnny Antonelli, victim of a five-run burst in the first inning, was charged with his fourth defeat. He has won 10.

Pittsburgh's third place Pirates split with St. Louis, winning 10-8 after the Cardinals had taken the opener 5-1. Cincinnati walloped the Los Angeles Dodgers 17-3 and the Chicago Cubs shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 4-0 behind Johnny Buzhardt's one-hit pitching.

Don Newcombe put on quite a show in Los Angeles. The big Cincinnati right-hander, traded by the Dodgers last June, registered his eighth victory and seventh in succession. He got four hits in four times at bat, driving in four runs and scoring three.

Catcher Danny Kravitz had 5-for-5, including three doubles, in the second game for the Pirates. Twelve doubles were hit, seven by the Cards. Three Red Bird homers, by Bill White, Hal Smith and Alex Grammas, helped Larry Jackson gain his sixth victory in the opener. Stan Musial walloped a double, the 652nd of his career, for a National League record. He had been tied with Hall of Famer Honus Wagner.

A third inning single by catcher Carl Sawatski was the only hit off Buzhardt. The 22-year-old right-hander allowed only one other batter to reach base, on a walk. Sammy Taylor's two-run homer, off loser Ruben Gomez, provided Buzhardt with more runs than he needed.

MILWAUKEE'S Hank Aaron is congratulated at the plate by teammate Andy Pafko after he hit a two-run homer, his first of three Sunday, in the first inning of the game at San Francisco. Giant catcher is Bob Schmidt. (UPI Telephoto)

Sweep Gives Joe Gordon Greatest Day As Manager

NEW YORK (AP)—"That," observed Joe Gordon today, "was my greatest day as a major league manager."

Gordon was talking about Cleveland's 4-2 and 5-4 sweep of a double-header over the New York Yankees Sunday.

The two major results of the long day's work were:

1. It lengthened the Indians' American League lead to two games.

2. It sent the Yanks tumbling back into the second division. Had Casey Stengel's men won both games, they would have been in first place. That's how close the race is.

"It was all simply wonderful," Gordon, himself a Yank alumnus continued. "The way we got the runs, the way the team held on and the way Jim Grant got them out."

Grant went all the way for the Tribe in the 14 inning nightcap, outlasting three Yank pitchers. There was a rumor going around the league that he was in Gordon's doghouse, but he's out now.

As for Manager Stengel of the Yanks, he wasn't at all discouraged.

In fact, he appeared more enthused about his new second base combination of Bobby Richardson and Gil McDougald than in worrying about the twin loss.

"I'm definitely satisfied with McDougald as the shortstop," he said before taking off for tonight's game at Kansas City. "I think I'll stick to the combination for a while.

"I know McDougald can hit and I think Richardson probably will. I also like Tony Kubeck in right field."

Stengel has been annoyed at some of the defensive shortcomings of his outfielders. He thinks Kubek — who has been playing short—might be the answer.

So as they head for Kansas City, the Yanks are in fifth place, 3½ games off the pace.

The double victory gave the Indians a record of nine victories and four defeats for their eastern swing.

During that trip they climbed from third place back to the top.

In Sunday's second game the Yankees came from behind after the Indians had taken a 3-0 lead against starter Don Larsen.

The first two Indian runs came in the third inning, when Rocky Colavito hit his 22nd home run of the season after Tito Francona walked. In the fourth they got another on George Strickland's single, a wild pitch and a single by Grant.

The Yankees got two runs back in the sixth, and Moose Skowrun tied the score in the eighth with a homer.

Cleveland went ahead in the 13th on a two-base throwing error by first baseman Marv Throneberry, a pair of walks and Strickland's bunt. But the Yankees tied it again on a double by Hec Hopez and a single by Hank Bauer.

Vic Power gave the Indians their victory in the 14th with a home run—his eighth—into the lower left field stands. The win gave Grant a 3-2 record.

In the opener, McLish gave up one run in the first and one in the second inning, then blanked the Yankees the rest of the way.

Colavito hit a two-run homer in the third inning after Francona's triple drove in Billy Martin for the first Indian score. Martin had singled. The final Cleveland run came on Power's home run in the eighth.

It was McLish's 7th win against three losses. The defeat was charged to Art Ditmar (5-5).

Balanced U.S. Squad Set For Track, Field Tests

By FRANK PITMAN

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — The Stars and Stripes will be carried into international track and field competition this summer by a balanced array of veteran champions and bright young newcomers.

The athletes who finished 1-2-3 in the National AAU Championships during the weekend will represent the United States in the Pan-American Games at Chicago beginning Aug. 28.

The top two finishers meet a Russian dual team in Philadelphia July 18-19. Other leading performers were picked on squads to tour Germany and Scandinavia.

Three of the brilliant youngsters are sprinter Ray Norton, San Jose State senior; miler Dyrol Burleson, Oregon's freshman sensation, and Tom Murphy, the New York Athletic Club's 800-meter runner.

But one of the best in the AAU, Charlie Tidwell, Kansas University junior, failed to make the traveling teams because his specialty—200 meters hurdles—is not an international event.

Tidwell raced to an AAU and American record in winning the race in 22.6 seconds. That erased Harrison Dillard's AAU record of 23.3 and Tidwell's American mark of 22.7.

Norton, winner of the 100 and 200 meters dashes, was voted the outstanding athlete at the two-day meet.

Burleson smashed the AAU 150 meters record with a 3 minute 47.5 seconds clocking over the course, 120 yards short of a mile.

Frank Potts, University of Colorado coach who will guide the U. S. team against Russia, called Burleson "the finest young miler in the United States—capable of running a four-minute mile."

Murphy a grad student at Manhattan College, won the 800 meters in 1:47.9, just three-tenths of a second off the AAU record set in 1955 by Arnie Sowell of Pittsburgh.

Orioles Call Fisher, Send Down Zuverink

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jack Fisher, 20-year-old righthanded pitcher, was recalled today from Miami of the International League by the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles sent George Zuverink, 32-year-old relief hurler, to Miami on 24-hour recall.

Breaks Own Record

LACONIA, N. H. (AP) — Brad Andres, San Diego, Calif., broke his own record Sunday in winning the 100 mile National Championship Road Race for motorcycles. Andres, who has won the meet four times, clipped five seconds off his 1956 record of 1:42.59.

Ohioan Is Third

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Don Sesslar of Lancaster, Ohio, drove his Porsche RSK to third place in the 140-mile Sports Car Club of America's international June sprints here Sunday. Fred Windridge of Arlington, Va., averaged 82.47 miles per hour to nip Sesslar and Bob Donner of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Reds, Indians Clash Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — Baseball fans who long for an All-Ohio world series will get an off-the-record look here tonight. But from the way things look now, that's about as close to an intra-state series as they'll come this year—at least from the Cincinnati side.

In the exhibition game tonight, Cleveland's American League leaders come to town to meet Cincinnati's Redlegs, currently in seventh place in the National League. Proceeds from the game will go for equipment for sandlot baseball teams here.

The Redlegs, who exploded for a 17-3 victory at Los Angeles Sunday, will be out to even the series with Cleveland. The Indians, who downed New York twice Sunday, won an earlier game this season in Minneapolis, 4-3.

A third game will be played in Cleveland next week.

Big Don Newcombe, currently one of the hottest pitchers in the senior loop, notched his seventh consecutive victory in the one-sided win at Los Angeles Sunday. He has gone the route in nine games and owns an 8-4 record.

The righthander, as potent at the plate as he is on the mound, aided his cause with four hits. He walked twice, knocked in four runs and tallied three times.

The Reds climbed on Dodger starter and loser Johnny Podres for one run in the first, added another in the second and then sent the lefthander to the showers in the fourth with a four-run burst.

Dutch Dotterer started the inning off with a home run over the left field screen. Before the inning was over, eight Redlegs batted, three Los Angeles hurlers—Podres, Johnny Klippstein and Art Fowler—tried their luck on the mound, and the Dodgers committed two errors.

Fowler, who got the final out in the fourth, lasted for only one-third of the fifth as Cincinnati poured across five more funs.

Jim Pendleton opened that inning with a home run to left after Clem Labine relieved Fowler. Gus Bell, batting for Pete Whisenant, poled the Reds' third round-tripper of the day, good for three runs.

The Redlegs added two runs in each of the last three innings to give them their highest score since swamping the Chicago Cubs, 18-8 April 29.

The Dodgers, who collected 10 hits, scored twice in the fourth inning and once in the fifth.

Wins Harness Event

Scores Four Points

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Ohio University finished with four points in the national AAU track and field championships. Southern California won the event Saturday with 144 points.

American League managers Mike Higgins of Boston, Joe Gordon of Cleveland, Jimmie Dykes of Detroit and Cookie Lavagetto of Washington were infielders in their playing days.

Decision Is Due Today On Coaching Change

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Whether basketball coach Pete Newell will remain at California or accept a University of Washington offer may be decided today.

Newell coached this year's Golden Bears to the NCAA title after winning a third straight Pacific Coast Conference title.

Al Walker Is Dropped As Houston's Manager

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Coach Del Wilber took over today as manager of the Houston Buffs, succeeding Al (Rube) Walker.

Walker's dismissal Sunday came with Houston buried in the cellar of the association's Western Division with a 29-41 record.

Syracuse Hopes To Make Up For Loss To Badgers

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Syracuse, still in the dumps today over its upset loss to Wisconsin for the college rowing championship, hopes to atone in the Pan-American Trials next weekend.

Syracuse, loser by two lengths to the darkhorse Badgers in the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. Championships Saturday, is the only college crew entered in the eight-oared trials.

"We can't make the trials," said Wisconsin Coach Norm Sonju. "Some of the boys have to go into the Army and the rest have jobs. I think Syracuse should win the trials. They should beat the club crews."

According to Clifford (Tip) Goes, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Rowing Committee, Syracuse will meet the Detroit Boat Club, Wesper of Philadelphia, Union Boat Club of Boston, New York A. C., and possibly the Lake Washington Boat Club of Seattle.

Wisconsin, reveling in the gusty headwinds of 15-17 m.p.h. overhauled the pace-setting Orangemen at the mile and three-quarter mark and then pulled away to win the 3-miler by 2 lengths in 18:01.7. It was the Badgers' first IRA victory since 1951. Navy was third.

Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin stole 13 bases in 15 Big Ten baseball games this spring.

Lewis King of Danville stole 65 bases in 1945, the first year for the Carolina League. The record still stands.

2 IN MEMORIAM

E. D. BOLTON. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away three years ago today. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave, Where sleeps our husband and father, We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you and speak of how you died; To think you could not say goodbye, Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best; May God grant you eternal rest.
Sadly missed by wife, Margaret and children.

Sun tan results from the effort of the outer skin to protect the delicate inner skin of the human body. Upon exposure to the sun, the blood comes to the surface and deposits red cells. These break down to make the brown pigment, melanin. When enough of this has been deposited, tanning results.

Area Children Win Prizes

Picnic Of Potters Draws 35,000 To Canton Resort

East Liverpool district youngstess won 9 of the 12 prizes in two baby contests that highlighted the formal program at the 31st annual Potters Picnic Saturday at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

The outing, sponsored by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, attracted an estimated 35,000 to the Stark County resort, matching the record attendance figure set at the 1957 picnic.

Perfect weather greeted the huge crowd, with a combination of bright sunshine offset by cool breezes from the park's lake holding the temperature in the high 70's most of the day.

Eight of 9 awards went to district children in a baby contest in three age brackets that attracted 325 entries—setting a new record.

First prize for children up to 1 went to Kevin Lee Cartwright, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cartwright, 1170 Mick Rd. Wellsville.

The top award in the 1-2 age bracket was given to Cheryl Lee Shaw, 19 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Shaw, 942 Railroad St.

In the 2-3 age bracket, first prize was awarded to Karen Sue Bellomy, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bellomy of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Other winners in the up-to-1 bracket were: Second, Theresa Lockhart, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lockhart, 1827 Dakota Ave., Pleasant Heights, and Rose Marie Riddle, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Riddle of New Cumberland R. D. 2, third.

In the 1-2 division the other winners were: Second, Linda Ann Wilkinson, 1, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Wilkinson of New Cumberland R. D. 2, and Steven Timothy Shelton, 19 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Shelton of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, third.

Other prizes in the 2-3 bracket went to: Second, Thomas Joseph Simcox, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simcox of Calcutta, and Curtiss Strauss and Douglass Strauss, 2½-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauss, 130 Eden Ave., Massillon, third.

Each first place winner received a $50 Savings Bond. Second prize was a $25 Savings Bond, with $10 in Savings Stamps for third.

Registered nurses from the Molly Stark Sanitarium at Canton were judges. In each age bracket, they first selected a series of semi-finalists, then narrowed the field to three winners.

The picnic committee had an award—a baby plate—for every other entrant. The contest lived up to its reputation as the "largest in Ohio." Although the committee had prepared seats for 300 entrants on the floor of the park's indoor ballroom, an overflow field turned up for every age bracket and more folding chairs were placed hurriedly for each group.

The "junior bathing beauty contest" for youngsters 4-7, staged on the park's outdoor dance floor, was captured by the winning smile and blonde curls of Penney Ann Davis, 4½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James Davis of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor.

Second prize went to Edward Joseph Poplowski Jr., 7, son of Mr.

U.S. Pushes Compromise As Steel Parley Resumes

Eisenhower Gets Report From Herter

Secretary Will Go On Television And Radio Tuesday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today gave President Eisenhower an hour-long report on the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers talks, now recessed until July 13.

After the conference, Herter confirmed he will go on nationwide television and radio Tuesday night to tell the American people about the thus-far futile efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union regarding Berlin and other problems.

Herter told newsmen at the White House the time for his broadcast had not been definitely set.

Herter said he reported to Eisenhower in general terms and that they discussed "just where we are" in efforts to ease East-West tensions.

A reporter asked about prospects for an eventual summit conference of the Western heads of government with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"That is something I just don't want to go into at the present time," Herter replied.

Then he went on to say that at no time during the six weeks of Geneva talks did the Western foreign ministers discuss with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko the possibility of a summit meeting. That matter did not come up at all, the secretary said.

Herter flew in Sunday from the fruitless first round of the foreign ministers meeting. He said then the Soviets had revealed that their real aim is to absorb free West Berlin and keep Germany divided until they can bring the whole country under Communist influence.

Modest Hike, Other Gains Are Advised

Government Sounds Out Both Sides On Suggested Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — A contract compromise in the steel industry —consisting of substantial worker benefits of the welfare type plus a modest wage increase—is being suggested informally by the government as negotiations resume here today.

Four-man teams representing the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 largest steel companies meet after a weekend recess.

The current three-year contract in the basic steel industry expires eight days from now. If no agreement on a new contract is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

The negotiations, which started May 5, are still deadlocked.

Although President Eisenhower has declared the government shall maintain an official hands-off policy, it was learned in Washington the government was sounding out both sides on the compromise suggestion.

Everything being done in behalf of the compromise proposal was very informal. But the behind-the-scenes activities of some government officials were increasing as the contract expiration grew closer.

The industry held out for weeks for a one-year freeze on wages and other benefits, contending that this would help curb inflation. The union has been demanding a substantial wage increase—not yet specified—along with a cut in the normal 40-hour work week and other benefits.

County Youths Make Trip To Forest Camp

Six Columbiana County youths—two girls and four boys—left Sunday for the Ohio Forestry Association's summer camp at 16,000-acre Tar Hollow State Park, south of Adelphi.

They are Betty Loudon of Hanoverton, Mary I. Smith of East Liverpool RD 2, John Isenschmid of Hanoverton RD 1, Sanford Hill of Lisbon RD 5, Donald Gudat of Washingtonville and Ronald Rhodes of Stewart Rd., Salem.

The first five are attending under scholarships offered by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in memory of William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, the newspapers' secretary-treasurer before his death. Mr. Vodrey was an active conservationist.

Gudat was a last-minute replacement for Tom Rudebock of Leetonia RD 1, who was unable to make the trip.

Rhodes is being sponsored by the Salem Hunting Club. More than 120 young people from over Ohio will attend the camp.

While at camp, the youths will learn forest management, wood utilization and reforestration in classes and laboratory periods conducted by professional foresters and conservationists.

Young Driver Hurt As Auto Hits Guardrail

Mishap On 'Hill Rd.' Demolishes Car Of Local Motorist, 19

A 19-year-old city youth was injured and his car was demolished when it crashed into guardrails along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Sunday afternoon about 4.

Dan Keith Wilson, 19, of 322 W. 9th St. suffered lacerations and bruises of the right forehead when his 1955 sedan smashed into five guardrails west of the halfway point of the road to East End.

Wilson, who was treated at City Hospital, told officers the brakes on the rear wheels of the auto apparently locked and he lost control while driving west about 35 miles an hour.

The youth was charged with reckless operation, but Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw dismissed the citation this morning for lack of evidence.

A car driven by Atty. Donald D. Shay, 53, of 889 Armstrong Ln. was damaged in a collision with another auto at E. 5th St. and Broadway and a car in the city parking lot was damaged by an unidentified driver in two Saturday mishaps.

Police said Atty. Shay was driving south on Broadway about 5 p. m. and attempted to make a left turn onto E. 5th St. when his auto collided with one operated by Fay M. Fowler, 21, of 806 Avondale St., who was making a right turn onto E. 5th St.

Robert Barnhart, 33, of Laurel Heights, Chester, reported his car was damaged by another auto in the lot adjoining City Hall about 1:10 p. m. Saturday

Barnhart said he was sitting in his auto when the other car hit it.

Queen Greets Housewives And Workmen

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is beginning to talk with workmen, housewives and other people not on the official reception lists for her tour of Canada.

She and Prince Philip are moving through the fast-growing industrial region of Saguenay, northwest of Quebec City, heading for a meeting with President Eisenhower and the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway Friday.

They are visiting aluminum paper mills and hydroelectric power plants today. They have already taken a close look at other evidences of Canada's rapid industrial development including a spectacular open-cut iron mine on the remote edge of Labrador.

Standing on the floor of that mine amid swirling clouds of red dust and fierce heat, Elizabeth asked to speak with six members of a pit crew. Brawny miners and truck drivers, their faces caked with dust and sweat and holding hard hats under their arms, chatted with her and Philip, answering questions.

Ignoring her time schedule, she remained on the floor of the mine 250 feet below ground level well after the party was due to depart.

Dust powdered her chestnut hair where it curled out from under her small hat. Her white cheeks turned the color of television makeup. Finally she held out a white-gloved hand. The miners glanced at each other shyly. They rubbed their hands on their coveralls and shook her hand.

The Queen and Philip have now seen some of the wildest and most beautiful country in the world.

Flying north across Labrador, they passed over terrain that still shows marks of the Ice Age. Flat and forbidding, it looks as though the glaciers departed only last week. Retreating ice gouged out innumerable craters now filled with water. They range from pools to lakes hundreds of feet deep.

The couple met Montagnais and other Indians wearing native costumes blazing with red, blue and green. Some faces were obviously of Eskimo origin.

During the weekend the royal party boarded the yacht Britannia and sailed across the mouth of the silvery blue St. Lawrence to Gaspe, famed resort area of Quebec.

Four Get Life For Attack On Florida Coed

Maximum Sentence Given By Judge In Tallahassee Court

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—All four white youths convicted of raping a Negro coed were handed life prison sentences today by Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

Life sentences were the maximum possible under the June 14 verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy.

The electric chair would have been automatic if the jury had returned a verdict of guilty without a recommendation of mercy. No white man ever has gone to the chair in Florida or any other state for raping a Negro.

In pronouncing sentence the white-haired 54-year-old jurist told the four he had never imposed less than a death sentence or life imprisonment on conviction of rape.

The four youths paled as the sentence was pronounced but showed no other trace of emotion.

Under Florida law, parole from a life sentence is possible after six months but lifers convicted of rape customarily serve at least 10 years before being considered for parole.

The four drawing life sentences were Willion (Ted) Collingsworth, 23, a telephone company lineman; David Ervin Beagles, a husky 18-year-old high school senior; Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, a 20-year-old Air Force man and Ollie Stoutamire, a skinny, pale-faced 16-year-old high school dropout.

Judge Walker told the four as he prepared to pronounce sentence, "You have been convicted of a very serious offense. It is an offense that is horrible and under horrible circumstances. The court feels sorry for you and for the prosecutrix (the 19-year-old coed). You are fortunate that the jury recommended mercy."

J. & L. Plant Is Hit By Work Stoppage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A work stoppage today shut down the open hearth department at the south side plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Other operations at the plant were not affected immediately. The Pittsburgh works employs about 12,000 production workers with about 1,800 to 1,900 in the open hearth department.

Pickets from local 1272—the home local of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald—halted both the midnight and 8 a.m. shifts of the open hearth but allowed other employes to cross their lines.

A company spokesman said there appeared to be a dispute over incentive rates for workers in the open hearth department. Union members claim that because of a change in computation of production figures their incentive pay has been cut.

Ohio Mishaps Kill 13 More On Weekend

Traffic	8
Drowning	0
Miscellaneous	5
Total	13

By The Associated Press

Ohio emerged from the weekend with a comparatively low accidental death toll, thanks largely to a rarity of the summer season:

Not a single drowning was reported anywhere in the state.

An Associated Press survey shows 13 persons died violent deaths in Ohio between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Eight were victims of traffic accidents. A boy died in an accidental shooting. A woman was trampled to death by a cow. One man died in a three-story fall, another when his car fell off a jack and crushed him and a third when a bale of hay fell on him.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Charles D. Weaver, 22, of near Clayton (Montgomery County), when his motorcycle collided head-on with a car just north of Dayton.

Kenneth Kaufman, 18, of Rt. 2, Wadsworth, when the car in which he was riding collided with another auto on U. S. 30 just east of Wooster.

Saturday

Homer Roberts, 19, of Vienna, W. Va., passenger in one car in a three-car crackup on Ohio 77 south of Zanesville.

Kenneth Longshore, 29, of Zanesville, died Sunday of injuries received when his motorcycle overturned on Ohio 146 in Muskingum County Saturday night.

In Gulf Of St. Lawrence

34 Fishermen Dead, Lost When Storm Batters Fleet

ESCUMINAC, N.B. (AP) — At least 34 fishermen were dead or missing today as searching planes scoured the Northumberland Strait for survivors of the weekend storm that battered the Gulf of St. Lawrence fishing fleet.

Twelve men were known dead and 22 were listed as missing.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported 22 derelict boats were spotted by search planes Sunday along the 30-mile coastline between Point Escuminac and Richibucto. There were no signs of life.

The storm, described as the worst in 30 years, caught at least 50 salmon boats as it lashed the strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The fleet was out in force to meet the heaviest salmon run in 10 years.

Two survivors were kept alive by an air bubble in the cabin of their overturned boat. Hilaire Gauvin, 25, and Germain Chaisson, 55, both of Lameque, were trapped in the cabin when their boat capsized. Another wave righted the vessel. Gauvin's uncle, Capt. Charles Gauvin, 53, was washed overboard.

Fishermen accused the weather bureau of failing to warn them of the approaching storm.

The Halifax Weather Bureau said gale warnings went out Friday night, but the fleet was out by then.

The storm did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to boats, nets and lobster pots, dealing a heavy blow to the local fishing industry.

Unrest In Red China Seen At All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unrest inside Red China is at an all-time peak, Walter S. Robertson has told Congress.

Robertson, retiring assistant secretary of state for the Far East, said he doubted that the Peiping regime could be overthrown unless its army rebels.

But he added "it is not at all visionary to hope that this unrest may get to the point that the army might well go over to the side of the people."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public over the weekend censored testimony which Robertson and others gave in closed sessions during the last two months.

Final Barrymore Rites Are Held In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The theatrical world pays final homage today to Ethel Barrymore.

Requiem Mass will be recited for the great actress in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills.

Miss Barrymore, 79, died of a heart ailment Thursday.

Fire Adds To Tension

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Fire which leveled a wing of Haiti's main army barracks behind the National Palace heightened tension Sunday night in this city still jittery after anti-government bombings last week.

Chinese Toil On Dikes As Flood Peril Mounts

TOKYO (AP)—Millions of Chinese toiled on hastily built river dikes throughout Kwangtun and Kwangsi provinces today in a desperate fight against a flood that may develop into China's greatest of the century.

The Kwangtung floods are expected to reach their peak along the west and north rivers of the Pearl River delta Tuesday or Wednesday.

Peiping radio reported that 12 inches of rain in neighboring Kwangsi between June 15-21 had damaged 250,000 acres.

First Day Of Summer Looks Like Late Spring

Although officially it's the first day of summer, East Liverpool had a combination of dark skies, showers and high humidity more suited to late spring.

A high of 69-75 was due today, with the showers ending tonight, the Ohio weatherman said. The low tonight will be 50-55. Tuesday will be cloudy and cooler.

Summer arrived officially at 11:50 p. m. Tuesday after the mercury soared to 84 degrees in early afternoon at Dam 8 and rain totaling 23 hundredths of an inch fell on the district. The overnight low was 67.

4 Killed In Stampede

TOLUCA, Mexico (AP) — Four persons were killed in a stampede to get out of a movie theater Sunday night after its roof was ripped off during a violent wind storm.

Area Children Win Prizes

Picnic Of Potters Draws 35,000 To Canton Resort

East Liverpool district youngsters won 9 of the 12 prizes in two baby contests that highlighted the formal program at the 31st annual Potters Picnic Saturday at Meyers Lake Park in Canton.

The outing, sponsored by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, attracted an estimated 35,000 to the Stark County resort, matching the record attendance figure set at the 1957 picnic.

Perfect weather greeted the huge crowd, with a combination of bright sunshine offset by cool breezes from the park's lake holding the temperature in the high 70's most of the day.

Eight of 9 awards went to district children in a baby contest in three age brackets that attracted 325 entries—setting a new record.

First prize for children up to 1 went to Kevin Lee Cartwright, 8-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cartwright, 1170 Mick Rd. Wellsville.

The top award in the 1-2 age bracket was given to Cheryl Lee Shaw, 19 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Shaw, 942 Railroad St.

In the 2-3 age bracket, first prize was awarded to Karen Sue Bellomy, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bellomy of Lisbon R. D. 3.

Other winners in the up-to-1 bracket were: Second, Theresa Lockhart, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Lockhart, 1827 Dakota Ave., Pleasant Heights, and Rose Marie Riddle, 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Riddle of New Cumberland R. D. 2, third.

In the 1-2 division the other winners were: Second, Linda Ann Wilkinson, 1, daughter of Mrs. Shirley Wilkinson of New Cumberland R. D. 2, and Steven Timothy Shelton, 19 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Shelton of Staunton Ave., Glenmoor, third.

Other prizes in the 2-3 bracket went to: Second, Thomas Joseph Simcox, 2½, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simcox of Calcutta, and Curtiss Strauss and Douglass Strauss, 2½-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauss, 130 Eden Ave., Massillon, third.

Each first place winner received a $50 Savings Bond. Second prize was a $25 Savings Bond, with $10 in Savings Stamps for third.

Registered nurses from the Molly Stark Sanitarium at Canton were judges. In each age bracket, they first selected a series of semi-finalists, then narrowed the field to three winners.

The picnic committee had an award—a baby plate—for every other entrant. The contest lived up to its reputation as the "largest in Ohio." Although the committee had prepared seats for 300 entrants on the floor of the park's indoor ballroom, an overflow field turned up for every age bracket and more folding chairs were placed hurriedly for each group.

The "junior bathing beauty contest" for youngsters 4-7, staged on the park's outdoor dance floor, was captured by the winning smile and blonde curls of Penney Ann Davis, 4½, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James Davis of Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor.

Second prize went to Edward Joseph Poplowski Jr., 7, son of Mr.

Ohio Mishaps Kill 13 More On Weekend

Drowning	0

By The Associated Press

Ohio emerged from the weekend with a comparatively low accidental death toll, thanks largely to a rarity of the summer season:

Not a single drowning was reported anywhere in the state.

An Associated Press survey shows 13 persons died violent deaths in Ohio between 6 p. m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Eight were victims of traffic accidents. A boy died in an accidental shooting. A woman was trampled to death by a cow. One man died in a three-story fall, another when his car fell off a jack and crushed him and a third when a bale of hay fell on him.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Charles D. Weaver, 22, of near Clayton (Montgomery County), when his motorcycle collided head-on with a car just north of Dayton.

Kenneth Kaufman, 18, of Rt. 2, Wadsworth, when the car in which he was riding collided with another auto on U. S. 30 just east of Wooster.

Saturday

Homer Roberts, 19, of Vienna, W. Va., passenger in one car in a three-car crackup on Ohio 77 south of Zanesville.

34 Fishermen Dead, Lost When Storm Batters Fleet

ESCUMINAC, N.B. (AP) — At least 34 fishermen were dead or missing today as searching planes scoured the Northumberland Strait for survivors of the weekend storm that battered the Gulf of St. Lawrence fishing fleet.

Twelve men were known dead and 22 were listed as missing.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported 22 derelict boats were spotted by search planes Sunday along the 30-mile coastline between Point Escuminac and Richibucto. There were no signs of life.

The storm, described as the worst in 30 years, caught at least 50 salmon boats as it lashed the strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The fleet was out in force to meet the heaviest salmon run in 10 years.

Two survivors were kept alive by an air bubble in the cabin of their overturned boat. Hilaire Gauvin, 25, and Germain Chaisson, 55, both of Lameque, were trapped in the cabin when their boat capsized. Another wave righted the vessel. Gauvin's uncle, Capt. Charles Gauvin, 53, was washed overboard.

Fishermen accused the weather bureau of failing to warn them of the approaching storm.

The Halifax Weather Bureau said gale warnings went out Friday night, but the fleet was out by then.

The storm did hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to boats, nets and lobster pots, dealing a heavy blow to the local fishing industry.

Unrest In Red China Seen At All-Time Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unrest inside Red China is at an all-time peak, Walter S. Robertson has told Congress.

Robertson, retiring assistant secretary of state for the Far East, said he doubted that the Peiping regime could be overthrown unless its army rebels.

But he added "it is not at all visionary to hope that this unrest may get to the point that the army might well go over to the side of the people."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public over the weekend censored testimony which Robertson and others gave in closed sessions during the last two months.

Eisenhower Gets Report From Herter

Secretary Will Go On Television And Radio Tuesday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today gave President Eisenhower an hour-long report on the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers talks, now recessed until July 13.

After the conference, Herter confirmed he will go on nationwide television and radio Tuesday night to tell the American people about the thus-far futile efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union regarding Berlin and other problems.

Herter told newsmen at the White House the time for his broadcast had not been definitely set.

Herter said he reported to Eisenhower in general terms and that they discussed "just where we are" in efforts to ease East-West tensions.

A reporter asked about prospects for an eventual summit conference of the Western heads of government with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"That is something I just don't want to go into at the present time," Herter replied.

Then he went on to say that at no time during the six weeks of Geneva talks did the Western foreign ministers discuss with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko the possibility of a summit meeting. That matter did not come up at all, the secretary said.

Herter flew in Sunday from the fruitless first round of the foreign ministers meeting. He said then the Soviets had revealed that their real aim is to absorb free West Berlin and keep Germany divided until they can bring the whole country under Communist influence.

County Youths Make Trip To Forest Camp

Six Columbiana County youths—two girls and four boys—left Sunday for the Ohio Forestry Association's summer camp at 16,000-acre Tar Hollow State Park, south of Adelphi.

They are Betty Loudon of Hanoverton, Mary I. Smith of East Liverpool RD 2, John Isenschmid of Hanoverton RD 1, Sanford Hill of Lisbon RD 5, Donald Gudat of Washingtonville and Ronald Rhodes of Stewart Rd., Salem.

The first five are attending under scholarships offered by Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., in memory of William H. Vodrey of East Liverpool, the newspapers' secretary-treasurer before his death. Mr. Vodrey was an active conservationist.

Gudat was a last-minute replacement for Tom Rudebock of Leetonia RD 1, who was unable to make the trip.

Rhodes is being sponsored by the Salem Hunting Club. More than 120 young people from over Ohio will attend the camp.

While at camp, the youths will learn forest management, wood utilization and reforestration in classes and laboratory periods conducted by professional foresters and conservationists.

Chinese Toil On Dikes As Flood Peril Mounts

TOKYO (AP)—Millions of Chinese toiled on hastily built river dikes throughout Kwangtun and Kwangsi provinces today in a desperate fight against a flood that may develop into China's greatest of the century.

The Kwangtung floods are expected to reach their peak along the west and north rivers of the Pearl River delta Tuesday or Wednesday.

Peiping radio reported that 12 inches of rain in neighboring Kwangsi between June 15-21 had damaged 250,000 acres.

Young Driver Hurt As Auto Hits Guardrail

Mishap On 'Hill Rd.' Demolishes Car Of Local Motorist, 19

A 19-year-old city youth was injured and his car was demolished when it crashed into guardrails along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Sunday afternoon about 4.

Dan Keith Wilson, 19, of 322 W. 9th St. suffered lacerations and bruises of the right forehead when his 1955 sedan smashed into five guardrails west of the halfway point of the road to East End.

Wilson, who was treated at City Hospital, told officers the brakes on the rear wheels of the auto apparently locked and he lost control while driving west about 35 miles an hour.

The youth was charged with reckless operation, but Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw dismissed the citation this morning for lack of evidence.

A car driven by Atty. Donald D. Shay, 53, of 889 Armstrong Ln. was damaged in a collision with another auto at E. 5th St. and Broadway and a car in the city parking lot was damaged by an unidentified driver in two Saturday mishaps.

Police said Atty. Shay was driving south on Broadway about 5 p. m. and attempted to make a left turn onto E. 5th St. when his auto collided with one operated by Fay M. Fowler, 21, of 806 Avondale St., who was making a right turn onto E. 5th St.

Robert Barnhart, 33, of Laurel Heights, Chester, reported his car was damaged by another auto in the lot adjoining City Hall about 1:10 p. m. Saturday

Barnhart said he was sitting in his auto when the other car hit it.

First Day Of Summer Looks Like Late Spring

Although officially it's the first day of summer, East Liverpool had a combination of dark skies, showers and high humidity more suited to late spring.

A high of 69-75 was due today, with the showers ending tonight, the Ohio weatherman said. The low tonight will be 50-55. Tuesday will be cloudy and cooler.

Summer arrived officially at 11:50 p. m. Tuesday after the mercury soared to 84 degrees in early afternoon at Dam 8 and rain totaling 23 hundredths of an inch fell on the district. The overnight low was 67.

Queen Greets Housewives And Workmen

CHICOUTIMI, Que. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is beginning to talk with workmen, housewives and other people not on the official reception lists for her tour of Canada.

She and Prince Philip are moving through the fast-growing industrial region of Saguenay, northwest of Quebec City, heading for a meeting with President Eisenhower and the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway Friday.

They are visiting aluminum paper mills and hydroelectric power plants today. They have already taken a close look at other evidences of Canada's rapid industrial development including a spectacular open-cut iron mine on the remote edge of Labrador.

Standing on the floor of that mine amid swirling clouds of red dust and fierce heat, Elizabeth asked to speak with six members of a pit crew. Brawny miners and truck drivers, their faces caked with dust and sweat and holding hard hats under their arms, chatted with her and Philip, answering questions.

Ignoring her time schedule, she remained on the floor of the mine 250 feet below ground level well after the party was due to depart.

Dust powdered her chestnut hair where it curled out from under her small hat. Her white cheeks turned the color of television makeup. Finally she held out a white-gloved hand. The miners glanced at each other shyly. They rubbed their hands on their coveralls and shook her hand.

The Queen and Philip have now seen some of the wildest and most beautiful country in the world.

Flying north across Labrador, they passed over terrain that still shows marks of the Ice Age. Flat and forbidding, it looks as though the glaciers departed only last week. Retreating ice gouged out innumerable craters now filled with water. They range from pools to lakes hundreds of feet deep.

The couple met Montagnais and other Indians wearing native costumes blazing with red, blue and green. Some faces were obviously of Eskimo origin.

Four Get Life For Attack On Florida Coed

Maximum Sentence Given By Judge In Tallahassee Court

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—All four white youths convicted of raping a Negro coed were handed life prison sentences today by Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

Life sentences were the maximum possible under the June 14 verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy.

The electric chair would have been automatic if the jury had returned a verdict of guilty without a recommendation of mercy. No white man ever has gone to the chair in Florida or any other state for raping a Negro.

In pronouncing sentence the white-haired 54-year-old jurist told the four he had never imposed less than a death sentence or life imprisonment on conviction of rape.

The four youths paled as the sentence was pronounced but showed no other trace of emotion.

Under Florida law, parole from a life sentence is possible after six months but lifers convicted of rape customarily serve at least 10 years before being considered for parole.

The four drawing life sentences were Willion (Ted) Collingsworth, 23, a telephone company lineman; David Ervin Beagles, a husky 18-year-old high school senior; Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, a 20-year-old Air Force man and Ollie Stoutamire, a skinny, pale-faced 16-year-old high school dropout.

Judge Walker told the four as he prepared to pronounce sentence, "You have been convicted of a very serious offense. It is an offense that is horrible and under horrible circumstances. The court feels sorry for you and for the prosecutrix (the 19-year-old coed). You are fortunate that the jury recommended mercy."

Modest Hike, Other Gains Are Advised

Government Sounds Out Both Sides On Suggested Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — A contract compromise in the steel industry —consisting of substantial worker benefits of the welfare type plus a modest wage increase—is being suggested informally by the government as negotiations resume here today.

Four-man teams representing the United Steelworkers of America and the 12 largest steel companies meet after a weekend recess.

The current three-year contract in the basic steel industry expires eight days from now. If no agreement on a new contract is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

The negotiations, which started May 5, are still deadlocked.

Although President Eisenhower has declared the government shall maintain an official hands-off policy, it was learned in Washington the government was sounding out both sides on the compromise suggestion.

Everything being done in behalf of the compromise proposal was very informal. But the behind-the-scenes activities of some government officials were increasing as the contract expiration grew closer.

The industry held out for weeks for a one-year freeze on wages and other benefits, contending that this would help curb inflation. The union has been demanding a substantial wage increase—not yet specified—along with a cut in the normal 40-hour work week and other benefits.

J. & L. Plant Is Hit By Work Stoppage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A work stoppage today shut down the open hearth department at the south side plant of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Other operations at the plant were not affected immediately. The Pittsburgh works employs about 12,000 production workers with about 1,800 to 1,900 in the open hearth department.

Pickets from local 1272—the home local of United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald—halted both the midnight and 8 a.m. shifts of the open hearth but allowed other employes to cross their lines.

A company spokesman said there appeared to be a dispute over incentive rates for workers in the open hearth department. Union members claim that because of a change in computation of production figures their incentive pay has been cut.
